County Airport: Investment Returns

$1,500,000? That's a lot of money to pay for an airport. Is it worth it? Will it be worth it? This second part of a three-part Freeman series on airports will outline what Ulster County can expect to get for its investment in an airport.

By HUGH REYNOLDS
Second of Three Articles

If the county were to propose a million dollar-plus highway improvement program it would undoubtedly be well-received by the public. After all, most of us use the highways and a death trap like Rt. 209 could certainly stand improving.

Reactions Vary

But mention a new airport and you get entirely different reactions which range from a shrug to "who needs it?" Most of us don't fly. In fact, the overwhelming majority of Americans have never been in an airplane.

Point is, most Americans, with both feet firmly planted on the ground, fail to comprehend that airports are primarily for their benefit, not the people that fly the planes.

Realizing this, Ulster County is making positive moves toward building a new airport.

A modern airport shows that a community is progressive looking to its future well past the 20-year mark and is willing to spend a reasonable amount of money to insure that future.

Coincidentally, the modern executive seeks many of the same things for his corporation. Every community with adequate airport facilities is on the main line of air transportation, the mode of transportation being used increasingly by business today.

Witness these facts—more than 30,000 businesses in this country own their own aircraft; there are 110,000 general aviation aircraft compared to only 2,300 operated by U. S. scheduled airlines; more than 100,000 of those general aviation aircraft are non-jet.

Trend to the Air

The trend of business is increasingly to the country and to the air. Before World II about nine out of 10 new factories were built in the urban areas. By the early 1960's, eight out of 10 new factories were built in the rural areas.

What does a new factory mean to an area? Plenty. According to the U. S. Chamber of Commerce a factory with 100 workers brings to a community a total of 359 more persons, personal income of $710,000 per year, 97 more automobiles, $229,000 in bank deposits, 65 more jobs in non-manufacturing activities and an average of $331,000 in retail sales per year.

Would Take Time

Of course, only the wildest optimist would expect business to come pouring into Ulster County when the airport is completed. It would take time for the outside world to even realize we have a new airport.

While new business is somewhat in the future, the effects of an airport should be felt almost immediately by the business (and resorts) that are already in the county.

Take business. IBM, the area's largest employer, is a heavy user of airplanes. At present, the company must send its salesmen and executives based in Kingston to Dutchess County Airport in order to fly to more distant points. Travel time from here to the airport can be upwards of an hour.

Charles Ramsey Corp. on Gage Street makes parts for pianos that are marketed all over the country. At present, those parts have to be shipped to Albany by truck in order to be airlifted to customers. Another hour shot.

How about the resorts? Ulster County offers some of the finest recreational facilities in the state an anyone visiting the resorts around Ellenville on a weekend can attest. A great number of our "weekenders" come from New York City to enjoy our resorts. But getting here by car can be a tiring, frustrating experience. Witness the northbound traffic on the Thruway on Friday nights and the southbound traffic on Sunday evenings. Bumper to bumper.

With proper planning, an airport, with either bus or cab service at both ends could cut travel time drastically. Imagine an ad in a New York City newspaper—Visit Ulster County, 30 minutes from the heart of Manhattan.

Conversely, local fun seekers are a lot closer to New York and the myriad number of attractions it offers.

Time is once again the overriding reason for airports, but is it worth it—to the individual?

HEROIN HAULER—Car allegedly used by narcotics smuggling ring is shown being loaded aboard a U.S.-bound ship in New York City, according to French authorities who released this picture yesterday. Authorities said this is the same car which was later seized in New York with a record $22.4 million in heroin in secret compartments. (UPI CABLEPHOTO)

Little Car That Crossed Ocean

NEW YORK (AP) — Seven times the metallic gray French automobile made roundtrip transatlantic crossings, but only after its last voyage here did authorities discover that heroin was fitted into its body posts, fenders, and frame and even the gas tank.

Authorities on both sides of the Atlantic hushed up the gigantic find—112 kilograms of heroin, worth $22.4 million on the illicit market for two months while trying to track down members of the smuggling ring.

Wednesday, with five alleged members under arrest—one here and four in France—U.S. Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark broke the story. He announced the New York City confiscation as the largest single seizure of the drug in the the nation's history. Later, Paris police divulged the seven roundtrip crossings of the courier car, a 1962 Citroen Convertible. They said one of their prisoners admitted that the ring had smuggled 730 kilograms of heroin into the United States—$146 million worth—over the past three years.

Narcotics officials said that's enough to supply the estimated 60,000 addicts in this country for six months.

The seizure was made at 3 a. m. April 26. With only a pier watchman on duty, two expert mechanics from the New York City Police Department took the Citroen apart and found the heroin.

It was in 224 hermetically sealed glassine bags, secreted in the framework beneath the front and rear seats, in the spare tire well, inside the gas tank and elsewhere. The regular gas tank had been replaced with a smaller tank, leaving room for the heroin.

The frequency of both the car's transatlantic crossing and its refuelings made it a prime suspect, authorities said.

The car, with French police trailing it, reportedly had to stop three times for gas on a relatively short trip from Paris to La Harve for its final Atlantic crossing April 18 aboard the liner France.

The ship arrived at the French Line pier in New York April 24. Narcotics agents waited two days for someone to claim the car, then searched it when no one appeared.

On April 26 agents arrested Arthur Benvenuto, 63, a Tunisian-born naturalized American. As assistant luggage and automobile manager of the French Line, he had taken charge of the car when it was lowered to the pier. The Bureau of Narcotics said the car was being delivered to him.

The Frenchmen arrested were Jacques Bousquet, 55, and Andre Malibert, 39, described by police as ring leaders, and Rene Guigi, 47, and Paul Mestressat, 47, named among couriers who had accompanied the car for $10,000 a trip each.

U.S. Will Abandon Base at Khe Sanh, Cite New Tactics

By GEORGE ESPER

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. troops are abandoning and leveling the Khe Sanh combat base, freeing its defenders to join mobile strike forces combating increased enemy forces in South Vietnam's northernmost provinces.

The U.S. Command said abandonment of the base in the northwest corner of South Vietnam where U.S. Marines took more than 2,300 casualties in a 77-day siege last winter "is part of a new concept of mobile warfare being put into operation" below the demilitarized zone, said Brig. Gen. Winant Sidle, chief of information for the U.S. Command.

"Khe Sanh will be leveled, bulldozed and the bunkers closed up," said Sidle. "It's already under way."

On the ground, South Vietnamese troops reported killing 125 enemy troops in a running battle east of Quang Tri City and 19 miles below the demilitarized zone. Government casualties were put at seven killed and 50 wounded.

Uncover Weapons

South Vietnamese infantrymen also uncovered a huge cache of weapons 12 miles west-northwest of Saigon that included 126 rounds of big Russian and Chinese rockets of the type that have been used in shelling the capital.

In the air war, over North Vietnam, the U.S. Command reported that Navy F8 Crusader pilots sighted two Communist MIG21s 12 miles south of the 19th parallel Wednesday and downed one with air-to-air missiles.

It was the first MIG shot down since Feb. 14 and the first since President Johnson ordered a bombing curtailment March 31, limiting American pilots to targets below the 19th parallel.

U.S. headquarters also reported that on Tuesday Navy pilots spotted three MIGs northeast of the coastal city of Vinh and fired on them. The MIGs headed north above the 19th parallel, apparently undamaged.

Lowest in Two Months

In its weekly casualty report issued today, the U.S. Command said the number of Americans killed in action last week—299—was the lowest in two months. It said 2,220 Americans were wounded.

The abandonment of Khe Sanh may be a propaganda setback for the United States, but it does not reduce the American military position significantly.

Khe Sanh is the first major U.S. base in Vietnam to be abandoned because of enemy pressure. During the 77-day winter siege of the base by two North Vietnamese divisions, it became a symbol of American determination to stand fast in Vietnam.

Top U.S. officials in Washington and Saigon said that the base would be defended at all costs. Spokesmen for the U.S. Marines pushed the line "If we leave Khe Sanh, where do we stop? The South China Sea?"

Hanoi can be expected to repeat the American statements on Khe Sanh to bring pressure on the Paris peace talks and to bolster the standing of North Vietnam and the Viet Cong in influential world capitals.

One U.S. Marine officer at Khe Sanh openly criticized the American propaganda during the siege, saying that the vulnerability of the position to North Vietnamese siege guns in Laos ended its usefulness.

The new western anchor of the allied line below the demilitarized zone is at Landing Zone Stud, a supply base with an airstrip 10 miles east of Khe Sanh. This area has been in Marine hands all along, and the base could have taken over Khe Sanh's activities at any time.

In announcing its decision to abandon Khe Sanh, the U.S. Command cited not only a big increase in enemy strength and new tactics but also the need to keep U.S. troops mobile. Khe Sanh, in short, tied down too many allied troops for its military value and was a sitting duck for North Vietnamese artillerymen.

Poughkeepsie Fire: Four Children Die

By WALTER S. CLARKE JR.

Four children — three boys and their 3-year-old sister—today perished in a fire that erupted in their home at 97 Catherine Street on Poughkeepsie's north side, while their mother was driving their father to work.

Two older girls were rescued and rushed by ambulance to Vassar Hospital where they were treated for burns and smoke inhalation.

The victims were the children of James and Pearl Hudson.

Fire and police officials said the blaze was the worst to occur in the city in years. Flames completely gutted the first floor of the 2½-story frame-brick residence and caused damage to the upper apartment occupied by the Fred Blanga family.

One fire official said, "the kids didn't have a chance. They were trapped in the burning bedrooms while some of them slept.

Police Lieut. Edward Shanahan identified the dead as:

WILLIE FRANK HUDSON, 15; his brothers KENNETH, 13, and JAMES, 5, and their sister, ADDIE.

Rushed to Vassar Hospital were PEARLIE, 17, and her 12-year-old sister, BARBARA.

Lieut. Shanahan said the three boys were sleeping in the middle bedroom on the first floor. The girls were in a rear bedroom when the fire broke out from undetermined origin.

According to Shanahan, Mrs. Hudson left the house at about 7:50 a. m. to drive her husband to work. About 15 minutes later neighbors discovered smoke pouring from the first floor windows and sounded a general alarm.

Before the arrival of firemen, Pearlie and Barbara had been rescued from the burning house. The others were trapped by the flames and dense smoke.

As the fire apparatus pulled up to the Hudson home, firemen found the first floor completely involved in fire and flames were shooting from the windows. "There are kids in there," cried frantic neighbors who had made unsuccessful attempts to enter the house to rescue the children.

Fire Captain John VanNorstrand was among the first to arrive. He and Lieut. Thomas Ringwood with a crew of firefighters fought their way inside protected by streams of water from hoselines. "We

James Ray Takes Stand— Denies Murder of Dr. King

By SCOTT B. BRUNS

LONDON (UPI) —James Earl Ray took the witness stand today in his fight against extradition and denied he was the assassin of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Asked by his counsel "Did you kill Dr. Martin Luther King?" Ray replied quickly and in matter-of-fact tones:

"No, sir."

Ray had entered the courtroom in historic Bow Street Magistrate Court chewing gum, his face already showing the beginning of five o'clock shadow.

He hunched forward, his jaw muscles twitching from time to time, as British attorney David Calcutt acting for the United States said he was the "single hand" killer of King and demanded his return for trial as a murderer.

Illegal Passports

"Ray, who has been silent since his arrest at London airport June 8 on charges of having illegal passports and carrying a pistol, rose after his lawyer announced to a stunned court.

"I call my client."

Ray, flanked by two Scotland Yard detectives, marched to the witness stand.

One of the Scotland Yard detectives guarding him against possible assassination attempts shifted between him and the main body of the court.

"I think you should sit here and take the oath seated," Magistrate Frank Milton said.

The attorneys and the magistrate then discussed under what name Ray should be sworn in. He was arrested as Ramon George Sneyd. It was decided not to swear him in at all but merely to have him answer his counsel's questions.

"Are you the man arrested at London Airport June 8?" his attorney Roger Frisby asked.

"Yes, sir," replied Ray.

"Did you know Martin Luther King personally?"

"No, sir."

"Did you have a grudge against him?" Frisby asked.

"No, sir," Ray said. He spoke quickly and clearly and betrayed little emotion.

Then Frisby asked: "Did you kill Dr. Martin Luther King?"

And with no change of expression and almost matter-of-factly came the denial.

"No, sir," Ray said.

Frisby had told the court: "The whole burden of my case is that Dr. King is a political figure." The extradition agreement between the United States and Britain does not cover political crimes.

Squeaky Voice

During his entire brief testimony Ray sat back in his chair in the witness box, resting his left arm on the railing. He appeared in full control of himself and only the squeaky tone of his voice in his first answers betrayed his inner turmoil.

The court clerk, using a fountain pen, took the procedure down in shorthand and then read it back to Ray. He asked if it were correct and Ray said, "Yes, that's correct."

The clerk then asked Ray if he would like to sign his statement.

Ray suddenly leaned forward in the chair, looked slightly surprised and said, "well, how would I sign it?"

The comment uttered with a trace of Southern accent drew mild titters from the courtroom.

Mid-Hudson Monsoons— More of Same in Store

By JEAN F. DOLAN

The Mid Hudson-monsoon continues with rainfall amounts topping records and more wet weather in the forecast.

The Kingston city engineer's office has recorded 2.8 inches of rain up to 7:30 a. m. in the current storm, making a cumulative total for the month of 6.95. The previous record for wet weather in June was in 1944 when 6.58 inches of rain fell.

At Cooper Lake Reservoir 2.53 inches have been recorded in the two-day storm, putting the total for the month at 4.66. Although the site of the city water supply has been below Kingston in rainfall amounts, the reservoir is "full and overflowing, according to Clifford Carnright, reservoir director.

Fortunately, only minor flooding has been reported in isolated areas as the storm continues. A change of pace is predicted as the forecast calls for partly cloudy skies and showers Friday. The rain, which started Tuesday afternoon, was spawned by tropical storm Candy. The current drizzly mess is the result of a storm originating in the mid-west.

The northeast, which has suffered through five or more drought-ridden summers, is now faced with too much rain. The feast or famine weather causes troubles for farmers either way. Instead of crops drying on the vine, they are now rotting away.

But just think, if all the rain in June had been snow we would have close to 70 inches of cold shoveling. There is a bright side to the rain clouds afterall.

Top Students at KHS Graduation Rites

Graduation festivities for 520 Kingston High School seniors were not dampened last night despite the rain. More than 2,500 parents were on hand for the program and presentation of diplomas which took place at the Kate Walton Field House. Participating in the program were (L) Paul Haas, a 1932 KHS graduate who is now a Corpus Christi, Tex., business tycoon; Dan H. Allen, principal, who presented the class; Barbara Ann Bush, valedictorian and Tom A. Sayvetz, salutatorian; Arthur H. Withall, president of the board of education who presented the diplomas. Haas gave the commencement address, stressing the necessity of getting involved in education, community and church. Dr. W. Wendell Hoover, superintendent of schools, presented the awards with William A. Scafidi, assistant principal introducing the graduates. The Rev. Daniel L. Ogden, pastor of the Port Ewen Reformed Church gave the invocation and Chester A. Baltz III, president of the senior class made the introductions. (Freeman photo by Kruh)

Then Frisby asked: "Did you kill Dr. Martin Luther King?"

And with no change of expression and almost matter-of-factly came the denial.

"No, sir," Ray said.

Frisby had told the court: "The whole burden of my case is that Dr. King is a political figure." The extradition agreement between the United States and Britain does not cover political crimes.

Squeaky Voice

During his entire brief testimony Ray sat back in his chair in the witness box, resting his left arm on the railing. He appeared in full control of himself and only the squeaky tone of his voice in his first answers betrayed his inner turmoil.

The court clerk, using a fountain pen, took the procedure down in shorthand and then read it back to Ray. He asked if it were correct and Ray said, "Yes, that's correct."

The clerk then asked Ray if he would like to sign his statement.

Ray suddenly leaned forward in the chair, looked slightly surprised and said, "well, how would I sign it?"

The comment uttered with a trace of Southern accent drew mild titters from the courtroom.

Mid-Hudson Monsoons— More of Same in Store

By JEAN F. DOLAN

The Mid Hudson-monsoon continues with rainfall amounts topping records and more wet weather in the forecast.

The Kingston city engineer's office has recorded 2.8 inches of rain up to 7:30 a. m. in the current storm, making a cumulative total for the month of 6.95. The previous record for wet weather in June was in 1944 when 6.58 inches of rain fell.

At Cooper Lake Reservoir 2.53 inches have been recorded in the two-day storm, putting the total for the month at 4.66. Although the site of the city water supply has been below Kingston in rainfall amounts, the reservoir is "full and overflowing, according to Clifford Carnright, reservoir director.

Fortunately, only minor flooding has been reported in isolated areas as the storm continues. A change of pace is predicted as the forecast calls for partly cloudy skies and showers Friday. The rain, which started Tuesday afternoon, was spawned by tropical storm Candy. The current drizzly mess is the result of a storm originating in the mid-west.

The northeast, which has suffered through five or more drought-ridden summers, is now faced with too much rain. The feast or famine weather causes troubles for farmers either way. Instead of crops drying on the vine, they are now rotting away.

But just think, if all the rain in June had been snow we would have close to 70 inches of cold shoveling. There is a bright side to the rain clouds afterall.

Top Students at KHS Graduation Rites

Graduation festivities for 520 Kingston High School seniors were not dampened last night despite the rain. More than 2,500 parents were on hand for the program and presentation of diplomas which took place at the Kate Walton Field House. Participating in the program were (L) Paul Haas, a 1932 KHS graduate who is now a Corpus Christi, Tex., business tycoon; Dan H. Allen, principal, who presented the class; Barbara Ann Bush, valedictorian and Tom A. Sayvetz, salutatorian; Arthur H. Withall, president of the board of education who presented the diplomas. Haas gave the commencement address, stressing the necessity of getting involved in education, community and church. Dr. W. Wendell Hoover, superintendent of schools, presented the awards with William A. Scafidi, assistant principal introducing the graduates. The Rev. Daniel L. Ogden, pastor of the Port Ewen Reformed Church gave the invocation and Chester A. Baltz III, president of the senior class made the introductions. (Freeman photo by Kruh)

Buchholtz Leaving; Fire Board Names 9

Retirement of Deputy Chief Julius E. Buchholtz, 57, a member of the Kingston Fire Department since 1941, was announced today by Fire Chief James M. Brett, who said the deputy chief will terminate his services as of Aug. 1.

The retirement notice of Deputy Buchholtz was accepted with regret at the June meeting of the Board of Fire Commissioners Tuesday night. At the session the commissioners appointed seven firemen, third grade, a fire equipment mechanic and a fire alarm dispatcher. The appointments become effective July 13.

Fire commissioners and Chief Brett highly commended Deputy Buchholtz for his 27 years of "devoted and highly dedicated service" to the city of Kingston, and for the "most efficient manner in which he performed his duties during these many years, both as a fireman and an officer."

Buchholtz ,who resides at 65 Lincoln Street, was appointed a third grade fireman on Aug. 1, 1941. He was promoted to fire captain effective Feb. 15, 1947 and assigned to Wiltwyck Fire Station. He received his well-earned promotion to deputy fire chief effective March 1, 1958 and since had worked out of Central Station as a command officer. Presently he is in command of Platoon 1.

His fire service was interrupted for military service during World War II. He served in the U. S. Army from Oct. 3, 1942 to April 16, 1945. He saw action in the European Theater.

At Tuesday night's meeting of the fire board, seven third grade firemen were appointed on permanent basis. They were John Reinhardt, Wayne Platte, Joseph Natoli, Judson Hornbeck, James Woods, Harry Hornbeck and Bruce Jansen. Platte, Natoli, Jansen and the Hornbecks had been serving as firefighters on a provisional basis.

Other appointments made at the fire board meeting included James E. Becker of 49 Foxhall Avenue, who was named to the post of fire equipment mechanic, and John Hicks, RD 4, Box 267, Kingston, as a fire alarm dispatcher on a permanent basis. Hicks has been serving as a provisional dispatcher at the Central Fire Station.

The retirement of Buchholtz leaves a vacancy of deputy chief in the ranks. According to the Municipal Civil Service Commission an eligibility list for that position had been established on May 19, 1967 after an examination.

Captain Robert Maines remains on that list. Two others, Harry Sills and Robert Hartwick had previously been promoted to deputy fire chiefs in the city department.

It is understood that the fire commissioners could call for another examination to establish a new eligibility list, since the existing one is more than a year old.

The salary for deputy chief is presently $8,650 which includes a $350 raise granted by the city this year. The firemen, however, are holding out for a $1,000 raise for the deputy chiefs which would give them an annual salary of $9,300. That dispute is scheduled to come up in court tomorrow.

Four Killed In Sullivan

Sullivan county's traffic death toll for 1968 jumped to 24 Wednesday afternoon when four itinerant hotel workers were killed instantly when a car in which they were riding swerved out of control on rain-slicked Route 52 near Kenoza Lake and slammed violently into a tree.

Fifth Critical

A fifth man was reported in critical condition in Community General Hospital in Liberty, where he was under treatment for injuries sustained in the multiple-death mishap.

Ferndale State Police identified the dead as: Edwin S. Nelson, 54, of Box 33, Bethel; John H. Saylor, 69, whose address was recorded as 22 Prince Street, Monticello; Timothy J. McKenna, no age listed, of 119 Main Street, Niagara Falls and Richard Connors, 40, of Oxford, Conn.

Critically injured in the Liberty hospital intensive care unit was Martin Solonis of New York City.

The multiple-death crash occurred at 1:30 p. m. in front of the State Transportation Department maintenance barn on Route 52 between Fosterdale and Kenoza Lake. Kenneth Mitterwager, a state employe, witnessed the accident and told troopers the car in which the five men were riding went out of control as it rounded a curve at high speed.

Hit Second Tree

The car, troopers said, traveled 240 feet on the muddy shoulder, glanced off a tree and then slammed headon into a second tree.

Authorities noted that Connors apparently was driving the death car at the time of the accident, although it was registered in Nelson's name.

Investigators at the scene said a second eye-witness to the mishap told them the car involved in the accident had passed his vehicle several hundred yards before the crash and was traveling fast.

Dr. Sidney Schiff, Sullivan County coroner, withheld the causes of death pending further investigation.

Authorities said yesterday's accident was one of the worst to occur in Sullivan County in many years. The county death toll is four more than the total recorded for all of 1967. Twelve of the victims were residents of Sullivan County.

Dyson Calls Fish to Debates

John Dyson, Democratic Congressional candidate, today again challenged Hamilton Fish Jr. in view of his "unexplained silence," to a series of 15 face to face debates, three in each of the five counties of the 28th District.

Dyson declared that the debates are necessary for, "this year, above all, we must place country above party. We have a duty and an obligation to present the issues to the citizens of the 28th District so that they can make an informed decision in November."

Dyson asked for an immediate response so that mutually convenient times could be arranged before campaign schedules become filled.

LBJ's Scotus Appointment Has Objections From GOP

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — Eighteen Senate Republicans have signed a petition opposing President Johnson's appointments to the Supreme Court, far short of the force they must marshal to block confirmation, but enough to make rough going if a filibuster develops.

Signers of the petition so far represent half the Senate's 36 GOP members. More could sign.

If Southern Democrats, loudly critical of the court's liberal rulings, should join the opposition confirmation of Abe Fortas as chief justice and Homer Thornberry as an associate justice could be in doubt.

President Johnson Wednesday named Fortas to succeed the retiring Earl Warren and Thornberry to the vacancy created by Fortas' elevation. Fortas, fourth Jew ever to serve on the court, would be the first to lead it.

The President told a news conference he believes the Senate will confirm both and that he tested the political winds in talks with Democratic and Republican leaders, as well as key committee chairman, before making the decision.

The GOP petition, circulated by Michigan's Robert P. Griffin and California's George Murphy, takes a stand against letting a "lame duck" president fill court vacancies.

Both Griffin and Murphy said it had no bearing on the personalities of Johnson's appointees. In fact the petition was drawn up before Johnson made public his appointment with the object of opposing Johnson's move to name anyone to the court.

Dirksen's Name Missing

Notably missing from the list of signers was Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois.

Dirksen has refrained from taking a stand on the issue, first raised by Griffin. But he would be under increasing pressure if the petition picks up more signatures.

The GOP leader, also top Republican on the Senate Judiciary Committee which will consider the appointments, said both Fortas and Thornberry are able men and he has "no personal reservations" about their appointments.

Sen. Howard Baker Jr., however, the Tennessee Republican who is Dirksen's son-in-law and a signer of the petition, said "the mood of Congress and the country is in disagreement with the views of the Supreme Court on many issues."

"In this light," he added, "It is important that a new administration and the American people not be deprived of the right to fill these positions."

Baker also said that Fortas and Thornberry and "long-time political associates of the President," and that he therefore doubted "the necessary confidence in and respect of the high court can be established on that basis."

Democrats generally praised Johnson's selections, but the Southerners were silent on what course they would pursue.

Since Thornberry and Fortas have taken stands on the liberal sides in cases involving such things as civil rights, they could be expected to side with liberals on the court.

Generally, and especially in landmark decisions on personal liberties, the court has voted 5-4 with Warren, Fortas, William O. Douglas, William J. Brennan Jr., and Hugo L. Black the majority.

If that trend holds, the addition of Thornberry would give the liberal majority a 6-3 edge.

No date has been set for the committee's hearings on the nominations, but indications are that none will be held until after Congress returns on July 8 from the Fourth of July holiday.

Favors Filbuster

Griffin said in an interview that he felt a filibuster would be justified to block confirmation.

However, Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., said that, if necessary, adjournment of Congress will be postponed beyond the Aug. 2 target date to win confirmation of Fortas and Thornberry.

He said Congress could return between the Republican and Democratic National Conventions or after they have been held.

One Republican senator reported privately that many of his colleagues are furious, both about the timing of Warren's resignation and Johnson's attempt to make Supreme Court appointments before he leaves office.

He said there is likely to be a blowup that will force a delay in the adjournment of Congress.

Expects Opposition

Richard M. Nixon, the front-runner for the GOP presidential nomination, said he anticipates substantial opposition to the nomination of Fortas but that it is quite likely to be approved.

The GOP senators listed as signing the petition against confirmation of Johnson's appointees; in addition to Griffin, Murphy and Baker, are:

Thruston B. Morton of Ky., Hirman L. Fong of Hawaii, Milton R. Young of N. D., Frank Carlson of Kan., Paul J. Fannin of Ariz., Strom Thurmond of S. C., Jack Miller of Iowa, Carl T. Curtis of Nebr., Clifford P. Hansen of Wyo., Len B. Jordan of Idaho, Norris Cotton of N. H., Karl E. Mundt of S. D., Wallace F. Bennett of Utah, Gordon Allott of Colo., and John J. Williams of Del.

Predict Liberal Leadership Will Continue Under Fortas

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The promotion of Abe Fortas to chief justice would assure continued liberal leadership of the Supreme Court. His ability to rally a solid voting bloc remains to be determined.

Homer Thornberry, 59, of Texas, named to fill the vacancy caused by Chief Justice Earl Warren's retirement, is liberal by southern standards in matters where an individual's liberty is challenged by governmental authority.

In his three years on the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, Thornberry voted for the hardest line yet taken against foot-dragging in school desegregation. His vote could be very important to Fortas.

President Johnson's appointment of the two men Wednesday raised immediate objections from some Republicans in the Senate, which must confirm both before they can take office. The threat of a filibuster was raised.

Forsee No Difficulty

But Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield and GOP counterpart Everett M. Dirksen said they anticipated no great difficulty in getting the nominations through.

During the last term of the "Warren court," which ended June 17, the chief justice usually could count on the votes in individual liberties cases of Justices Hugo L. Black, William O. Douglas, William J. Brennan Jr., Thurgood Marshall, and Fortas. But forsome time, Black's literal reading of the Constitution occasionally has taken him out of this group, notably in civil rights demonstration cases.

Without the Warren and Black votes, the remaining four would need Thornberry for a majority.

Fortas' scholarship, personality and tough-mindedness would play no small part in molding the court's views in the days ahead. The balding, soft-spoken 58-year-old Tennesseean is an intensely serious individual who constantly strives for perfection. He would assign the opinions—if in the majority—and oversee general administration of the court's work.

Senators Continue Gun Control Debate

By STEVEN GERSTEL

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Presfighter says the lack of tough fighter says thelack of tough gun control legislation is seriously threatening the American political system.

Oopponents insist "the Johnson-backed gun controls would be bowing to hysteria and "eventually disarm the American public."

The increasingly bitter exchange between gun control exponents and opponents flared Wednesday as a Senate subcommittee considered the administration's bill calling for stricter controls on guns.

The bill would require that within 180 days of its passage, all gun owners register their firearms. Within a year, they would also have to obtain licenses. If a gun owner could not meet the licensing requirements, the Treasury would confiscate his guns with "reasonable compensation."

Bill in Committee

The Senate Judiciary Committee today was to take up a bill proposed by Sen. Joseph D. Tydings, D-Md., to require registration of all guns.

Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark led administration witnesses before the Senate juvenile delinquency subcommittee Wednesday. "How long," he asked, "will we permit guns in the hands of the assassin to threaten our political system? How many summers will we risk sniper fire which can terrorize whole sections of great cities?"

Clark's emotional testimony was answered later in the day by Harold W. Glassen, president of the National Rifle Association, which has vigorously opposed strong gun controls.

Glassen said the Johnson proposal would "sound the death knell for the shooting sports and eventually disarm the American people."

Coalition Doubtful

Even as the debate raged in the subcommittee, a key Republican policy maker all but shattered hopes for a bipartisan coalition that might insure passage of the administration bill.

Rep. John J. Rhodes, R-Ariz., chairman of the GOP House Policy Committee, reversed his stand on the legislation and said he would oppose new gun controls.

"Registration would only penalize the honest person who would be faced with the choice of turning in his gun or paying a licensing fee, both of which would foreshadow the eventual confiscation of guns from the American public."

Sen. Edward F. Kennedy, who has had two brothers assassinated by gunmen, told the subcommittee in a letter read by Chairman Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn. "I know of no piece of legislation now before Congress which is more important to the security and well-being of every single American than the bills which are being discussed here."

Resnick Gives Support to Law

Congressman Joseph Y. Resnick announced today his support of the National Gun Crime Prevention Act of 1968, a measure which would provide for the registration and licensing of every firearm in the United States.

The bill is designed to deny firearms or ammunition to anyone convicted of a felony or a crime of violence and also to aliens, alcoholics, narcotic addicts, mental incompetents and juveniles. It would, further, require reporting of all purchases, transfers or losses of firearms.

"We are not asking sportsmen to give up their guns," he said. "We are merely asking that these lethal weapons be registered and licensed. Registration of automobiles presents no problem, and there is no reason why registration of firearms should, either."

LBJ's Scotus Appointment Has Objections From GOP

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — Eighteen Senate Republicans have signed a petition opposing President Johnson's appointments to the Supreme Court, far short of the force they must marshal to block confirmation, but enough to make rough going if a filibuster develops.

Signers of the petition so far represent half the Senate's 36 GOP members. More could sign.

If Southern Democrats, loudly critical of the court's liberal rulings, should join the opposition confirmation of Abe Fortas as chief justice and Homer Thornberry as an associate justice could be in doubt.

President Johnson Wednesday named Fortas to succeed the retiring Earl Warren and Thornberry to the vacancy created by Fortas' elevation. Fortas, fourth Jew ever to serve on the court, would be the first to lead it.

The President told a news conference he believes the Senate will confirm both and that he tested the political winds in talks with Democratic and Republican leaders, as well as key committee chairman, before making the decision.

The GOP petition, circulated by Michigan's Robert P. Griffin and California's George Murphy, takes a stand against letting a "lame duck" president fill court vacancies.

Both Griffin and Murphy said it had no bearing on the personalities of Johnson's appointees. In fact the petition was drawn up before Johnson made public his appointment with the object of opposing Johnson's move to name anyone to the court.

Dirksen's Name Missing

Notably missing from the list of signers was Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois.

Dirksen has refrained from taking a stand on the issue, first raised by Griffin. But he would be under increasing pressure if the petition picks up more signatures.

The GOP leader, also top Republican on the Senate Judiciary Committee which will consider the appointments, said both Fortas and Thornberry are able men and he has "no personal reservations" about their appointments.

Sen. Howard Baker Jr., however, the Tennessee Republican who is Dirksen's son-in-law and a signer of the petition, said "the mood of Congress and the country is in disagreement with the views of the Supreme Court on many issues."

"In this light," he added, "It is important that a new administration and the American people not be deprived of the right to fill these positions."

Baker also said that Fortas and Thornberry and "long-time political associates of the President," and that he therefore doubted "the necessary confidence in and respect of the high court can be established on that basis."

Democrats generally praised Johnson's selections, but the Southerners were silent on what course they would pursue.

Since Thornberry and Fortas have taken stands on the liberal sides in cases involving such things as civil rights, they could be expected to side with liberals on the court.

Generally, and especially in landmark decisions on personal liberties, the court has voted 5-4 with Warren, Fortas, William O. Douglas, William J. Brennan Jr., and Hugo L. Black the majority.

If that trend holds, the addition of Thornberry would give the liberal majority a 6-3 edge.

No date has been set for the committee's hearings on the nominations, but indications are that none will be held until after Congress returns on July 8 from the Fourth of July holiday.

Favors Filbuster

Griffin said in an interview that he felt a filibuster would be justified to block confirmation.

However, Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., said that, if necessary, adjournment of Congress will be postponed beyond the Aug. 2 target date to win confirmation of Fortas and Thornberry.

He said Congress could return between the Republican and Democratic National Conventions or after they have been held.

One Republican senator reported privately that many of his colleagues are furious, both about the timing of Warren's resignation and Johnson's attempt to make Supreme Court appointments before he leaves office.

He said there is likely to be a blowup that will force a delay in the adjournment of Congress.

Expects Opposition

Richard M. Nixon, the front-runner for the GOP presidential nomination, said he anticipates substantial opposition to the nomination of Fortas but that it is quite likely to be approved.

The GOP senators listed as signing the petition against confirmation of Johnson's appointees; in addition to Griffin, Murphy and Baker, are:

Predict Liberal Leadership Will Continue Under Fortas

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The promotion of Abe Fortas to chief justice would assure continued liberal leadership of the Supreme Court. His ability to rally a solid voting bloc remains to be determined.

Homer Thornberry, 59, of Texas, named to fill the vacancy caused by Chief Justice Earl Warren's retirement, is liberal by southern standards in matters where an individual's liberty is challenged by governmental authority.

In his three years on the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, Thornberry voted for the hardest line yet taken against foot-dragging in school desegregation. His vote could be very important to Fortas.

President Johnson's appointment of the two men Wednesday raised immediate objections from some Republicans in the Senate, which must confirm both before they can take office. The threat of a filibuster was raised.

Forsee No Difficulty

But Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield and GOP counterpart Everett M. Dirksen said they anticipated no great difficulty in getting the nominations through.

During the last term of the "Warren court," which ended June 17, the chief justice usually could count on the votes in individual liberties cases of Justices Hugo L. Black, William O. Douglas, William J. Brennan Jr., Thurgood Marshall, and Fortas. But forsome time, Black's literal reading of the Constitution occasionally has taken him out of this group, notably in civil rights demonstration cases.

Without the Warren and Black votes, the remaining four would need Thornberry for a majority.

Fortas' scholarship, personality and tough-mindedness would play no small part in molding the court's views in the days ahead. The balding, soft-spoken 58-year-old Tennesseean is an intensely serious individual who constantly strives for perfection. He would assign the opinions—if in the majority—and oversee general administration of the court's work.

Senators Continue Gun Control Debate

By STEVEN GERSTEL

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Presfighter says the lack of tough fighter says thelack of tough gun control legislation is seriously threatening the American political system.

Oopponents insist "the Johnson-backed gun controls would be bowing to hysteria and "eventually disarm the American public."

The increasingly bitter exchange between gun control exponents and opponents flared Wednesday as a Senate subcommittee considered the administration's bill calling for stricter controls on guns.

The bill would require that within 180 days of its passage, all gun owners register their firearms. Within a year, they would also have to obtain licenses. If a gun owner could not meet the licensing requirements, the Treasury would confiscate his guns with "reasonable compensation."

Bill in Committee

The Senate Judiciary Committee today was to take up a bill proposed by Sen. Joseph D. Tydings, D-Md., to require registration of all guns.

Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark led administration witnesses before the Senate juvenile delinquency subcommittee Wednesday. "How long," he asked, "will we permit guns in the hands of the assassin to threaten our political system? How many summers will we risk sniper fire which can terrorize whole sections of great cities?"

Clark's emotional testimony was answered later in the day by Harold W. Glassen, president of the National Rifle Association, which has vigorously opposed strong gun controls.

Glassen said the Johnson proposal would "sound the death knell for the shooting sports and eventually disarm the American people."

Coalition Doubtful

Even as the debate raged in the subcommittee, a key Republican policy maker all but shattered hopes for a bipartisan coalition that might insure passage of the administration bill.

Rep. John J. Rhodes, R-Ariz., chairman of the GOP House Policy Committee, reversed his stand on the legislation and said he would oppose new gun controls.

"Registration would only penalize the honest person who would be faced with the choice of turning in his gun or paying a licensing fee, both of which would foreshadow the eventual confiscation of guns from the American public."

Sen. Edward F. Kennedy, who has had two brothers assassinated by gunmen, told the subcommittee in a letter read by Chairman Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn. "I know of no piece of legislation now before Congress which is more important to the security and well-being of every single American than the bills which are being discussed here."

Resnick Gives Support to Law

Congressman Joseph Y. Resnick announced today his support of the National Gun Crime Prevention Act of 1968, a measure which would provide for the registration and licensing of every firearm in the United States.

The bill is designed to deny firearms or ammunition to anyone convicted of a felony or a crime of violence and also to aliens, alcoholics, narcotic addicts, mental incompetents and juveniles. It would, further, require reporting of all purchases, transfers or losses of firearms.

"We are not asking sportsmen to give up their guns," he said. "We are merely asking that these lethal weapons be registered and licensed. Registration of automobiles presents no problem, and there is no reason why registration of firearms should, either."

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, JUNE 27, 1968

10-Year Revocation

One of the severest highway safety laws in the land goes into effect in Virginia June 28. Thereafter, habitual offenders will be liable to have their driving licenses revoked for 10 years, and if they drive after their permits are revoked, they can be jailed in state prison for five years.

A habitual offender is defined in the law as one who is convicted of three serious offenses within a 10-year period. These offenses include drunken driving, manslaughter, hit-and-run and driving on a revoked or suspended permit.

Similarly, drivers will face 10-year revocations if they accumulate convictions for 12 lesser moving violations. These offenses include speeding, reckless driving, or any other act for which an operator's permit may be suspended for 30 days or more.

Virginia means to keep its highways safe. Convictions accumulated during the past 10 years will count. It would take only one more offense to qualify for either the serious or lesser offense penalties.

Nor are Virginians immune when traveling away from their home state. An interstate driver license compact provides for exchange of convictions reports with 20 other states. An out-of-state violation will be treated the same as one occurring within the state. Virginia may be the test state. Such severity should be practiced in all the states.

The Wallace Threat

The Southern Governors Conference at Charleston, S. C., this week failed to develop the enthusiasm for former Gov. George Wallace's Presidential candidacy that could become a threat to the election of one of the major party candidates. It is even doubtful now that he will get enough votes to throw the election into the House of Representatives, his main objective.

Only three Southern Governors were willing to speak favorably of Wallace's third party aspirations—Gov. Albert P. Brewer of Alabama, who succeeded after the death of Mrs. Lurleen Wallace; Gov. John Bell Williams of Mississippi and Gov. Lester G. Maddox of Georgia. Thirteen others seem to be committed either to their own favorite-son candidates or to Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey or former Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Brewer warned that in most Southern states, it does not much matter what the Governors do, "the people are going to vote for George Wallace." That could be Wallace's best possibility.

Tax Surtax Extension

Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, is fearful that the nation may not be able to get its financial house in order in one year, and the tax surtax would have to be extended. While the surtax will improve next year's fiscal situation, he is already concerned over the deficit in fiscal 1970 and seeking ways to cushion its effect.

"This bill should produce the most remarkable feat of deficit reduction I can remember," Mills said. He hoped the surtax of $10.2 billion and the spending cuts of $6 billion would have some helpful effects of leveling off inflation by October 1.

Without the tax-and-save bill, this year's deficit of about $25 billion could climb to a possible $31 billion. With the tax bill, it could be reduced to as low as $5 billion.

At the least, the bill will instill confidence in the dollar. Reduced deficits and inflation should also ease pressure on the balance of payments, running against us at $2.5 billion a year. But for the ordinary family, the benefit will come in easing inflation. Any cost rise is hard to take for the average citizen.

No Need for More GI's

As South Vietnam's President Nguyen Van Thieu signed the nation's first general mobilization law, he announced it would eliminate the need for more United States troops in South Vietnam. The bill clears the way to draft 200,000 men by the end of the year.

The new law allows the South Vietnam government to draft men between the age of 18 and 43 into conventional armed services and men 16 and 17 years old and those between the ages of 44 and 50 into part-time civilian defense units. The goal of 900,000 men under arms in the country of 17 million is proportionately equivalent to a 10-million-man army in the 200-million population United States.

While South Vietnam will not ask for more men from its allies, Thieu said he will ask for equipment and other help. That has already been promised. The aim of the American command has been to train South Vietnamese to take over more and more responsibility in fighting the war. The new mobilization law will provide the manpower to do that.

"Mirror, Mirror on the Wall---Get Lost!"

David Lawrence Says

White and Negro Aided By Courageous Action

WASHINGTON — Public indignation has at last exerted an influence. The people have wondered how long the federal government was going to bow to intimidation as it permitted the "Poor People's Crusade" to continue to encamp on national parkland and to create disturbances in and around government buildings here. The authorities finally moved in on Monday to force the evacuation of "Resurrection City" despite the defiance and threats of the leaders.

Even more significantly, the government of the District of Columbia — under a Negro mayor — took prompt and firm action to prevent the recurrence of the kind of rioting and looting that was triggered by the assassination of the Rev. Martin Luther King, Jr., in April. The Rev. Ralph Abernathy, Dr. King's successor, had last week predicted that attempts to evict the "Poor People" would lead to outbreaks of violence in Negro ghettos across the nation.

This time, when crowds started to gather and incidents began to occur, the governing officials were not hesitant, as they had been in April. Police were present in force, backed up by National Guardsmen. Tear gas was used almost immediately as they moved to clear the streets of small bands which had been stirred up to "protest" the day's happenings. Looting and arson were discouraged by prompt arrests, and a city-wide curfew was imposed.

There had been criticism among Negroes as well as whites when the authorities were slow to act against the looters and arsonists who participated in the riots in April. There was concern about what would happen if and when action was taken against the "Poor People" encamped in "Resurrection City" near the Lincoln Memorial. The federal government had issued a permit for this "demonstration" and was patient even when it became apparent that the concessions made were merely being used as excuses for bigger and bigger demands. When the extension of the permit expired, the "march" leaders defiantly dared the government to enforce its notice that the land must be evacuated — and the people who live and work in Washington doubted that anyone in authority would implement the order.

They had their answer when district and federal officials moved together with firmness, arrested those who refused to comply with the law, and made it clear that no disturbances or repetition of the April riots would be tolerated. While President Johnson himself did not take any direct part in ordering the evacuation, the White House said that he had concurred in what was being done, and added that "this has been a government action which the president is well aware of."

The Negroes in the District of Columbia were as relived as were the whites over what happened. The great majority are law abiding, and they themselves are victims, too, of crime and disorder. In fact, they are likely to suffer most when riots are precipitated.

For a long time, members of the two races got along to gather in Washington without serious friction, but bitter feelings have been aroused on both sides in recent years. Agitators have seized on any racial tension to stir up trouble.

Both groups have, however, suffered from the same conditions — particularly from what occurred during and after the April riots. There was a falling off in local trade and the tourist business--which is one of the largest sources of revenue for the nation's capital. Business profits and individual employment were adversely affected. But mostly both white and negro families were scared to move even a few blocks, especially at night, to shop at stores or visit friends or relatives.

The laxity of the past several years has encouraged lawlessness in Washington as well as in the rest of the country. The younger generation particularly has been led to assume that "justifiable" protest against "discrimination" goes to the point that a Negro can commit a crime, rob a store, steal an automobile or engage in gang vandalism without risking punishment.

Maybe the new trend just begun by the mayor and other officials of the city of Washington, both white and Negro, have breathed a sigh or relief. Perhaps the rest of the country, too, will see that order can be preserved when officials possessed of courage resolutely do their duty.

Drew Pearson Says

Poor People Spoiled Original Goals by Staying too Long

(Editor's Note: Drew Pearson's column today takes the form of a letter to his second grandson, George L. Arnold, Jr.)

June 24, 1968

Dear Georgie,

Last week your brother Drew was walking down to the Lincoln Memorial past Resurrection City when he was accosted and beaten. It was the day before the Solidarity March and he was going down there to volunteer to help the march.

As he was passing Resurrection City a young Negro inside the fence shouted at him to come over there. Drew kept on walking. The Negro slipped out through a hole in the fence, came up from behind and cracked Drew over the neck and shoulder with a club. Then another Negro jumped out from nowhere and hit him with another club. A third threw a big rock which hit him in the back. They spewed out some filthy cuss words.

Your brother wore a solidarity button featuring white and black hands together. But that didn't make any difference to the young hoodlums.

Fortunately Drew wasn't too badly hurt. And the next day he got up at 6:30 a.m. and went to the Washington Monument to act as an usher for the march. He realized that the young Negroes who had jumped him did not represent the real segment of the poor people. They did represent a segment of hatred against whites which recently has become much intensified, and constitutes a real danger in this country.

By this time the great majority of the poor people who first came to Washington had already gone home and only the dregs remained. There have been rapes and robberies inside Resurrection City, with young Negroes coming outside to taunt the police with, "We want a whitey."

"Planned Pandemonium"

So what started as a well-intentioned move to impress Congress with the plight of the poor is ending in what Negro columnist George Schuyler calls "Insurrection City...misled by a passel of peripatetic, pulpitless persons who are veterans of planned pandemonium."

And the danger is that the Poor People hurt the ideals they set out to help. This week, for instance, the education bill was due to come up for a vote in the House of Representatives: after that the housing bill and the antipoverty bill. All affect the poor. And some conservative Congressmen have been using the Poor People's March as an excuse to boast that they weren't going to be bulldozed by Rev. Abernathy into voting for these vital programs.

The Poor People have already hurt those who have helped the most. They booed Vice President Humphrey, who over the years has initiated every civil rights bill in Congress. They picketed Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman, who has done more to feed people than any one else in government.

Unfortunately his hands are sometimes tied by restrictions passed by Congress. And if the Poor People really wanted to picket effectively, they would single out Rep. W.R. Poage of Texas, chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, and some of his Dixiecrat - Republican cohorts. They are the ones who pass these restrictions.

I remember that after Sen. Joe Clark of Pennsylvania called attention to starvation in Mississippi, one whole year before the Poor People's March, Sen. John Stennis of Mississippi passed a $25 million appropriation bill to feed the hungry.

That, however, was as far as it got. The money was blocked by Rep. Poage and the Republicans on his committee. They wouldn't hold public hearings.

Poverty is a problem which concerns everyone. It does not involve military secrets or the defense of the nation. Yet Chairman Poage insisted on holding closed - door hearings so the public would not know how he killed the money to feed the poor.

The Labor Gap

The Poor People's March with all its unpleasant aspects in the final days, accomplished something. It helped to pry loose more than $200 million in surplus food. It also speeded up the housing bill. But more important than anything else, it focused public attention on the fact that there is a large segment of poor people in this country which is gradually drifting further down the economic ladder.

Some of them, like the young hoodlums who attacked your brother, have come to accept violence as a way of life. They steal, beat up, rape, even murder, almost as if they were eating a meal.

There are no easy remedies for this. It will take years before we can get these hard-core militants to become law-abiding citizens. Some of them will never change. Some of them don't want to work and never will.

James Clark, a Negro plumber who was trying to help the residents of Resurrection City without charge, got an illustration of this. He couldn't get a single one of the poor people to help him dig a ditch to repair their own sewage facilities.

What makes for continued and deepening poverty is the fact that the schools in the ghettos are run down and getting worse. And the labor unions are geared so that the building trades and craft unions get higher and higher wages — around $600 a week for electrical workers in New York — meanwhile excluding Negro apprentices. So while the labor union member gets more and the unskilled worker get proportionately less, the gap between the two gets wider and wider. This is true also between the big farmer and the tenant farmer.

These are problems which your grandfather's generation has failed to solve. This is the real reason your brother was beaten while passing Resurrection City. My generation should not pass these problems on to you. We should solve them ourselves now. If we don't, if we pass them on to you unsolved, they will be much much worse.

Sen. Murphy's New Act

Genial George Murphy, the erstwhile song - and - dance man who gave up the movies to become a Senator from California, put on a new act the other day behind closed doors of the Senate Labor Committee. He talked and talked and talked, then staged a dramatic exit, in order to block action on a bill to improve working conditions for the stoop laborers who toil on the nation's big ranches. Murphy has made the grievances of the nation's big ranchers his chief cause in the Senate.

The bill that he blocked would grant farm workers the same rights that industrial workers have been getting for 30 years. Small farms, doing less than a $50,000 annual business, would be exempted. In other words, the bill would affect only the large corporate spreads which comprise less than 3.5 per cent of the nation's farms but employ over 50 per cent of the farm labor force.

Sen. Harrison "Pete" Williams, D-N. J., who introduced the bill, started off the closed - door session with a routine five - minute statement on the aims of his bill. Murphy kept interrupting him with questions and statements, most of them irrelevant, for more than an hour.

He kept reciting his own record as a staunch member of the Screen Actors Guild, though he never quite explained what movie stars and stoop laborers have in common.

At one point he discoursed at length on the sacred right of movie makers to a luncheon break after five hours on the set. It took this long, he declared ponderously, to set up the lights and cameras.

Murphy was supported by Sen. Paul Fannin, R - Ariz., who, lacking Murphy's parliamentary delaying tack. He moved to transfer the bill to another subcommittee for more hearings.

Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., whom Fannin wanted to conduct the hearings, objected loudly. He picked up a stack of printed hearings to dramatize his point that no more hearings were necessary.

Agreeing, the Labor Committee voted 12 to 3 to start processing the bill. For the third vote, Murphy and Fannin cast the proxy of Sen. Peter Dominick, D - Colo., who wasn't present.

Then Fannin announced that he intended to leave and not return. He strode out of the committee room, and Murphy stomped out after him. It was nothing like the soft - shoe routine that Murphy used to do before the cameras.

This left the committee without a quorum, and they could transact no further business.

"Disgusting!" muttered Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D - Wis. The other Senators agreed that they, too, didn't like Murphy's new act.

Exported Anarchists in Colleges

By HENRY J. TAYLOR

Yugoslav, Czech., etc., students are making it rough for their Iron Curtain rulers. This is the best of good news, and dependable. But there is also a second side—the export side—to the Soviet Union's student operations that is revving up many a hit-man on our own campuses here.

We're being brainwashed whenever we are told that the thrust is not organized.

Stokely Carmichael, leaving Africa after visiting Castro's Cuba and North Vietnam, said in Dar es Salaam: "I am going back to hell—the United States." He was speaking the export language.

The so-called International Union of Students, based in Prague and financed by Moscow, has been supporting university anarchists throughout the free world. Behind the scenes a Pole, Vlod Konarski, supervises the British thrust. The vehicle is the militant Radical Student Alliance in London.

Five of its 20 councilmen are Communists. Within weeks after Konarski set this up, violence broke out at the London School of Economics. Since then the universities of Manchester, Essex, Leicester, East Anglia and Sussex have been in nearly continuous anarchistic turmoil.

Two other International Union of Students subdivisions in England are supervised by Jean Bougareau, a Frenchman, and Martin Abeln, who is Dutch. Both came to Britain expressly for the Grosvenor Square student riots at the American Embassy in protest to the Vietnam war.

A fourth IUS subdivision, which Prague calls locally the Internationalist Movement, is hitting Eire. The supervisor is Hardial Sinh Bains, a naturalized Canadian born in India. It is based at Trinity College, Dublin. It represents only about 30 of Trinity's 3,500 undergraduates and these are almost entirely British, African or Asian. And we have seen it here — the shambles at our Columbia University have been constantly in the headlines of the world.

A Bains sidekick is Ralph Schoenman, 32, chief director and student shepherd of the Bertrand Russell Peace Foundation, who arranged the mock trial of President Johnson in Stockholm. He has been held in Montjoy Prison, Dublin. Britain banned Schoenman but Scotland Yard caught him while allegedly trying to reach London by flying first to Rome where Italian student riots have been boiling. Permit me to tell you that, to our dismay, Schoenman had an American passport.

This column several times has discussed Berlin's Rudolf Dutschke ("Red Rudi"), Europe's leading student revolutionary before he was shot and wounded on April 11, the event that touched off the West German riots. And subsequently France's equivalent, Daniel Cohn-Bendit ("Before you can build you must destroy"), burst into the world news in the deGaulle crisis.

This man is not even French. He's German. France's educational system is antiquated and is open to much criticism. But Cohn-Bendit's basic purpose is not reform. It is anarchy.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk has testified before a Senate sub-committee that 6,000 to 8,000 African students are in Communist bloc countries and that more than 10 hours a day of Communist broadcasts (including a steady stream from Castro's Cuba) are beamed exclusively to Africa.

In the late Lenin era the leading Soviet Marxist scholar was D. B. Raizanov, head of the Marx-Engels Institute in Moscow. Raizanov usually is credited with founding the Lenin School of Political Warfare which has been operating under cover in Moscow for more than 40 years. Along with International Union of Students in Prague it functions likewise from Leipzig, East Germany. And Western intelligence services designate this total combination as "Agitprop."

In addition to its student push in Europe, the Middle East, Latin America and the United States, "Agitprop" now runs African student terrorist training centers in Budapest and Warsaw and in Bernau and Bautzen, East Germany. Along with these, Moscow's Patrice Lumumba University alone has revved up and sent back to their African homelands more than 1,000 trained student insurrectionists in the past six months.

The exported anarchists are entrenched in the colleges all the way from Morocco on the Atlantic clear down the border of South Africa. Anarchy is their purpose, and they create this where the anti-Communists often outnumber them 100 to 1.

Organized fear is their university tool here. And we are hopelesly brainwashed if —incredibly—we still refuse to wake up.

Capitalism, Not War, Is Issue

By RAY CROMLEY
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Despite their emphasis on the draft and the Vietnam war, Students for a Democratic Society leaders say these are not the issues. Demonstrations against them, they say, are means to an end:

"The draft is not the issue...but rather the means by which we can involve large numbers of people, organize collective resistance, and, most importantly, educate and politicize about race wars, electoral politics, imperialism. Politically, the draft makes possible broad-based coalitions that could foment unity on the left...and allow for mass tactics."

"Among the poor, draft organizing is one way of gaining entry into the community.. (extend) organizing around other community issues (and) . . . inject anti-imperialism and antiracism into those struggles."

The SDS leaders see candidates like Sen. Eugene McCarthy and the late Sen. Robert Kennedy — and slum programs aiming at jobs, better living conditions and more equality of opportunity — as compromising pallatives which tend to hide the need for junking the whole present capitalist system.

"We would show how the politics of this country are a function of capitalistic economic interests. And we would show that our country's problems cannot be resolved within the existing political, economic and social institutions because they are essential elements of those institutions.

"We affirm the necessity of violent revolution. We should actively organize...against all the urban programs. We must direct (their) interest in such a way that people will come to understand that our country's problems are a necessary result of our capitalistic system and cannot be solved by a change in leadership."

SDS leaders regard today's stage in their development as an organizational and propaganda phase. Though they say a violent revolution will be necessary to remold American society, the time is not yet ripe. Too many people still believe in American institutions and the American election system.

First, work must be done to educate and arouse numbers of people and to organize them into active groups. Demonstrations, violent protests and riots for now are "educational" and "training" projects to make people aware of their own strength and of what type of "power structure" they are up against. The leaders tell their cadres that Viet Cong, Algerian, Castro-Che Guevarra type "freedom fighting" will come later.

"Our analysis must...tie the draft into the uses of the draft: for imperialism; for Vietnam; for Watts; for Berkeley and Oakland. We can show why the U.S. must suppress people internationally and domestically — must exploit people in imperialism ('s) constant search for higher profits."

"We must link the draft with the trend toward militarism and facism...We must use this struggle to raise basic questions about the capitalist system."

"In the process, we should expose the role of the university, the army, the courts, the laws and the uses of the draft..."

Public Service

Editor, The Freeman:

As Voter Service Chairman of the League of Women Voters of Kingston, I wish to express my appreciation for the excellent coverage which The Freeman gave to the recent primary election. Because of the time and space which you devoted to campaign news a great deal of interest was generated in the public. The editorial on June 15, as well as the large sample ballot on June 17 made it much easier for the average citizen to understand the issues at stake and to follow the correct voting procedure.

I know I speak for all members of the League and also for many citizens in thanking you for providing Ulster County with this valuable public service.

Yours truly,
MRS. BERNARD PAUKER

10-Year Revocation

One of the severest highway safety laws in the land goes into effect in Virginia June 28. Thereafter, habitual offenders will be liable to have their driving licenses revoked for 10 years, and if they drive after their permits are revoked, they can be jailed in state prison for five years.

A habitual offender is defined in the law as one who is convicted of three serious offenses within a 10-year period. These offenses include drunken driving, manslaughter, hit-and-run and driving on a revoked or suspended permit.

Similarly, drivers will face 10-year revocations if they accumulate convictions for 12 lesser moving violations. These offenses include speeding, reckless driving, or any other act for which an operator's permit may be suspended for 30 days or more.

Virginia means to keep its highways safe. Convictions accumulated during the past 10 years will count. It would take only one more offense to qualify for either the serious or lesser offense penalties.

Nor are Virginians immune when traveling away from their home state. An interstate driver license compact provides for exchange of convictions reports with 20 other states. An out-of-state violation will be treated the same as one occurring within the state. Virginia may be the test state. Such severity should be practiced in all the states.

The Wallace Threat

The Southern Governors Conference at Charleston, S. C., this week failed to develop the enthusiasm for former Gov. George Wallace's Presidential candidacy that could become a threat to the election of one of the major party candidates. It is even doubtful now that he will get enough votes to throw the election into the House of Representatives, his main objective.

Only three Southern Governors were willing to speak favorably of Wallace's third party aspirations—Gov. Albert P. Brewer of Alabama, who succeeded after the death of Mrs. Lurleen Wallace; Gov. John Bell Williams of Mississippi and Gov. Lester G. Maddox of Georgia. Thirteen others seem to be committed either to their own favorite-son candidates or to Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey or former Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Brewer warned that in most Southern states, it does not much matter what the Governors do, "the people are going to vote for George Wallace." That could be Wallace's best possibility.

Tax Surtax Extension

Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, is fearful that the nation may not be able to get its financial house in order in one year, and the tax surtax would have to be extended. While the surtax will improve next year's fiscal situation, he is already concerned over the deficit in fiscal 1970 and seeking ways to cushion its effect.

"This bill should produce the most remarkable feat of deficit reduction I can remember," Mills said. He hoped the surtax of $10.2 billion and the spending cuts of $6 billion would have some helpful effects of leveling off inflation by October 1.

Without the tax-and-save bill, this year's deficit of about $25 billion could climb to a possible $31 billion. With the tax bill, it could be reduced to as low as $5 billion.

At the least, the bill will instill confidence in the dollar. Reduced deficits and inflation should also ease pressure on the balance of payments, running against us at $2.5 billion a year. But for the ordinary family, the benefit will come in easing inflation. Any cost rise is hard to take for the average citizen.

No Need for More GI's

As South Vietnam's President Nguyen Van Thieu signed the nation's first general mobilization law, he announced it would eliminate the need for more United States troops in South Vietnam. The bill clears the way to draft 200,000 men by the end of the year.

The new law allows the South Vietnam government to draft men between the age of 18 and 43 into conventional armed services and men 16 and 17 years old and those between the ages of 44 and 50 into part-time civilian defense units. The goal of 900,000 men under arms in the country of 17 million is proportionately equivalent to a 10-million-man army in the 200-million population United States.

While South Vietnam will not ask for more men from its allies, Thieu said he will ask for equipment and other help. That has already been promised. The aim of the American command has been to train South Vietnamese to take over more and more responsibility in fighting the war. The new mobilization law will provide the manpower to do that.

"Mirror, Mirror on the Wall---Get Lost!"

David Lawrence Says

White and Negro Aided By Courageous Action

WASHINGTON — Public indignation has at last exerted an influence. The people have wondered how long the federal government was going to bow to intimidation as it permitted the "Poor People's Crusade" to continue to encamp on national parkland and to create disturbances in and around government buildings here. The authorities finally moved in on Monday to force the evacuation of "Resurrection City" despite the defiance and threats of the leaders.

Even more significantly, the government of the District of Columbia — under a Negro mayor — took prompt and firm action to prevent the recurrence of the kind of rioting and looting that was triggered by the assassination of the Rev. Martin Luther King, Jr., in April. The Rev. Ralph Abernathy, Dr. King's successor, had last week predicted that attempts to evict the "Poor People" would lead to outbreaks of violence in Negro ghettos across the nation.

This time, when crowds started to gather and incidents began to occur, the governing officials were not hesitant, as they had been in April. Police were present in force, backed up by National Guardsmen. Tear gas was used almost immediately as they moved to clear the streets of small bands which had been stirred up to "protest" the day's happenings. Looting and arson were discouraged by prompt arrests, and a city-wide curfew was imposed.

There had been criticism among Negroes as well as whites when the authorities were slow to act against the looters and arsonists who participated in the riots in April. There was concern about what would happen if and when action was taken against the "Poor People" encamped in "Resurrection City" near the Lincoln Memorial. The federal government had issued a permit for this "demonstration" and was patient even when it became apparent that the concessions made were merely being used as excuses for bigger and bigger demands. When the extension of the permit expired, the "march" leaders defiantly dared the government to enforce its notice that the land must be evacuated — and the people who live and work in Washington doubted that anyone in authority would implement the order.

They had their answer when district and federal officials moved together with firmness, arrested those who refused to comply with the law, and made it clear that no disturbances or repetition of the April riots would be tolerated. While President Johnson himself did not take any direct part in ordering the evacuation, the White House said that he had concurred in what was being done, and added that "this has been a government action which the president is well aware of."

The Negroes in the District of Columbia were as relived as were the whites over what happened. The great majority are law abiding, and they themselves are victims, too, of crime and disorder. In fact, they are likely to suffer most when riots are precipitated.

For a long time, members of the two races got along to gather in Washington without serious friction, but bitter feelings have been aroused on both sides in recent years. Agitators have seized on any racial tension to stir up trouble.

Both groups have, however, suffered from the same conditions — particularly from what occurred during and after the April riots. There was a falling off in local trade and the tourist business—which is one of the largest sources of revenue for the nation's capital. Business profits and individual employment were adversely affected. But mostly both white and negro families were scared to move even a few blocks, especially at night, to shop at stores or visit friends or relatives.

The laxity of the past several years has encouraged lawlessness in Washington as well as in the rest of the country. The younger generation particularly has been led to assume that "justifiable" protest against "discrimination" goes to the point that a Negro can commit a crime, rob a store, steal an automobile or engage in gang vandalism without risking punishment.

Maybe the new trend just begun by the mayor and other officials of the city of Washington, both white and Negro, have breathed a sigh or relief. Perhaps the rest of the country, too, will see that order can be preserved when officials possessed of courage resolutely do their duty.

Drew Pearson Says

Poor People Spoiled Original Goals by Staying too Long

(Editor's Note: Drew Pearson's column today takes the form of a letter to his second grandson, George L. Arnold, Jr.)

June 24, 1968

Dear Georgie,

Last week your brother Drew was walking down to the Lincoln Memorial past Resurrection City when he was accosted and beaten. It was the day before the Solidarity March and he was going down there to volunteer to help the march.

As he was passing Resurrection City a young Negro inside the fence shouted at him to come over there. Drew kept on walking. The Negro slipped out through a hole in the fence, came up from behind and cracked Drew over the neck and shoulder with a club. Then another Negro jumped out from nowhere and hit him with another club. A third threw a big rock which hit him in the back. They spewed out some filthy cuss words.

Your brother wore a solidarity button featuring white and black hands together. But that didn't make any difference to the young hoodlums.

Fortunately Drew wasn't too badly hurt. And the next day he got up at 6:30 a.m. and went to the Washington Monument to act as an usher for the march. He realized that the young Negroes who had jumped him did not represent the real segment of the poor people. They did represent a segment of hatred against whites which recently has become much intensified, and constitutes a real danger in this country.

By this time the great majority of the poor people who first came to Washington had already gone home and only the dregs remained. There have been rapes and robberies inside Resurrection City, with young Negroes coming outside to taunt the police with, "We want a whitey."

"Planned Pandemonium"

So what started as a well-intentioned move to impress Congress with the plight of the poor is ending in what Negro columnist George Schuyler calls "Insurrection City...misled by a passel of peripatetic, pulpitless persons who are veterans of planned pandemonium."

And the danger is that the Poor People hurt the ideals they set out to help. This week, for instance, the education bill was due to come up for a vote in the House of Representatives; after that the housing bill and the antipoverty bill. All affect the poor. And some conservative Congressmen have been using the Poor People's March as an excuse to boast that they weren't going to be bulldozed by Rev. Abernathy into voting for these vital programs.

The Poor People have already hurt those who have helped the most. They booed Vice President Humphrey, who over the years has initiated every civil rights bill in Congress. They picketed Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman, who has done more to feed people than any one else in government.

Unfortunately his hands are sometimes tied by restrictions passed by Congress. And if the Poor People really wanted to picket effectively, they would single out Rep. W.R. Poage of Texas, chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, and some of his Dixiecrat - Republican cohorts. They are the ones who pass these restrictions.

I remember that after Sen. Joe Clark of Pennsylvania called attention to starvation in Mississippi, one whole year before the Poor People's March, Sen. John Stennis of Mississippi passed a $25 million appropriation bill to feed the hungry.

That, however, was as far as it got. The money was blocked by Rep. Poage and the Republicans on his committee. They wouldn't hold public hearings.

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Despite their emphasis on the draft and the Vietnam war, Students for a Democratic Society leaders say these are not the issues. Demonstrations against them, they say, are means to an end:

"The draft is not the issue...but rather the means by which we can involve large numbers of people, organize collective resistance and, most importantly, educate and politicize about race wars, electoral politics, imperialism. Politically, the draft makes possible broad-based coalitions that could foment unity on the left...and allow for mass tactics."

"Among the poor, draft organizing is one way of gaining entry into the community...(extend) organizing around other community issues (and)...inject anti-imperialism and antiracism into those struggles."

The SDS leaders see candidates like Sen. Eugene McCarthy and the late Sen. Robert Kennedy — and slum programs aiming at jobs, better living conditions and more equality of opportunity — as compromising pallatives which tend to hide the need for junking the whole present capitalist system.

"We would show how the politics of this country are a function of capitalistic economic interests. And we would show that our country's problems cannot be resolved within the existing political, economic and social institutions because they are essential elements of those institutions.

"We affirm the necessity of violent revolution. We should actively organize...against all the urban programs. We must direct (their) interest in such a way that people will come to understand that our country's problems are a necessary result of our capitalistic system and cannot be solved by a change in leadership."

SDS leaders regard today's stage in their development as an organizational and propaganda phase. Though they say a violent revolution will be necessary to remold American society, the time is not yet ripe. Too many people still believe in American institutions and the American election system.

First, work must be done to educate and arouse numbers of people and to organize them into active groups. Demonstrations, violent protests and riots for now are "educational" and "training" projects to make people aware of their own strength and of what type of "power structure" they are up against. The leaders tell their cadres that Viet Cong, Algerian, Castro-Che Guevarra type "freedom fighting" will come later.

"Our analysis must...tie the draft into the uses of the draft: for imperialism; for Vietman; for Watts; for Berkeley and Oakland. We can show why the U.S. must suppress people internationally and domestically — must exploit people in imperialism ('s) constant search for higher profits..."

"We must link the draft with the trend toward militarism and facism...We must use this struggle to raise basic questions about the capitalist system."

"In the process, we should expose the role of the university, the army, the courts, the laws and the uses of the draft..."

Public Service

Editor, The Freeman:

As Voter Service Chairman of the League of Women Voters of Kingston, I wish to express my appreciation for the excellent coverage which The Freeman gave to the recent primary election. Because of the time and space which you devoted to campaign news a great deal of interest was generated in the public. The editorial on June 15, as well as the large sample ballot on June 17 made it much easier for the average citizen to understand the issues at stake and to follow the correct voting procedure.

I know I speak for all members of the League and also for many citizens in thanking you for providing Ulster County with this valuable public service.

Yours truly,
MRS. BERNARD PAUKER

SOMETHING NEW in the way of endorsements has taken place locally with Sheriff William B. Martin bestowed with Democrat, Conservative and Liberal backing in his bid to retain his post in November. He is opposed by Republican Thomas Mayone.

How happy the Conservatives are about the situation is a question especially in view of the fact that they gave their endorsement prior to the Liberals, with, they thought, the understanding that the sheriff would not accept Liberal backing.

ROSENDALE'S MAYOR Joseph Reid called the Freeman the day before the recent primary to complain about the fact that no one has been paying attention to his complaints regarding an improperly working voting machine in the Village of Rosendale.

He said he has brought the matter to the attention of the town and county boards for the past six years but it was never fixed.

He was unhappy mostly because the malfunctioning line was one used by the Democrats over the years and now that Republican Assembly candidate Peter Savago's name was listed on that line "officials suddenly became concerned."

He said he requested the machine be fixed, that he be a witness to it and that he has never been notified.

What he neglected to say was that the machine had already been replaced with another.

SPEAKING of voting machine mishaps. If the Bell-Savago assembly contest had resulted in a close vote, there probably would have been a hassle over the Hurley totals. Inadvertently Bell and Savago's names were listed on each other's lines in a number of the polling places in that district.

AREA DEMOCRATS couldn't help but smile a bit Monday when Republican G. Gordon Liddy, defeated candidate for the 28th District Congressional nomination, resigned as Dutchess County assistant district attorney and intimated he might be on the ballot in the November election. He would run as both an Independent Republican and a Conservative.

There is nothing like cleavage in the Republican party to bring a sliver of sunshine into the lives of the opposition.

If Liddy does decide to enter the fray, it will be a four - way race with candidates listed under five party banners.

Hamilton Fish Jr., of Dutchess County, the evident front - runner at this time, is the official GOP party choice, having won the nomination from Liddy with a 3,380 - vote plurality.

Fish, in the past, has chosen to largely ignore Liddy's candidacy and has been heard to refer to him as the "apparent" candidate. What tack he will take now remains to be seen.

Millbrook publisher John Dyson is the Democrat contender and Peter DuFault of Columbia County will be on the ballot's liberal party line.

Liddy, who already has Conservative backing, could run as an Independent Republican as long as he manages to secure 3,000 signatures on a petition by September. Having garnered more than 12,000 votes in the primary, it shouldn't be too difficult a task for him.

All four men are seeking to fill the seat being vacated by Democrat Congressman Joseph Y. Resnick.

What would make Liddy, now an admitted unemployed, ex - candidate, take such a gamble?

Heartened by the recent grass roots successes of Clark Bell, Paul O'Dwyer and even Sen. Eugene McCarthy (whose views he does not share), Liddy feels that he, too, is receiving the same sort of response.

He feels his Dutchess County primary plurality of 800 votes illustrates his vote — getting power in an area where both men are well known.

"Today it is the people who control, he maintains, "It is no longer the old men who have been sitting on their establishments for so many years."

Moral of Red Troops at Low Point of War

By KEYES BEECH
Chicago Daily News Foreign Service

SAIGON — Communist troop morale has descended to the lowest point of the Vietnam war, but there is no indication of mass defections.

These are the conclusions drawn by U.S. and Vietnamese intelligence sources from mass interviews with recently captured prisoners of war.

Lack of adequate food, medical care, fear of U.S. air strikes and the monotony of defeat are the principal reasons for low enemy morale, the prisoners reported.

Among North Vietnamese troops, who now account for 75 per cent of enemy combat effectives in South Vietnam, homesickness is a major factor.

Many enemy troops want to rally to the government side, but dare not because they are under constant surveillance by sharp - eyed hard - core officers. North Vietnamese troops who might want to defect also are held back by lack of knowledge of where to go and fear that they will be killed or tortured if they surrender.

One North Vietnamese prisoner guessed that 30 per cent of the men in his unit "harbor thoughts of going home."

"None of the complaints of the enemy troops is especially new," one American analyst observed.

"The difference today is that the complaints are more widespread and the disillusionment is coming sooner than before."

Prisoners singled out the 320th North Vietnamese Division as having especially low morale, because of heavy casualties, a shortage of food and lack of medical care. Like some other units, the 320th has a desertion problem.

Historical friction between northerners and southerners has been exacerbated by the rigors of war.

The southern - born Viet Cong adapt more readily to the hardships of war than the green North Vietnamese. The North Vietnamese are told that they will be welcomed as liberators. The Viet Cong are under no such delusions.

Negro Veterans Are Not Returning Home From Vietnam War to Lead Riots

By THOMAS CORPORA

NEW YORK (UPI)—Despite what black extremists would have you believe, Negro veterans are not coming home from Vietnam to lead riots in streets of America's cities this summer.

A small minority might.

Others say their personal circumstances at the time of a riot would determine whether they would participate.

The general feeling among black veterans and Negro leaders, scores of whom were interviewed by UPI correspondents across the country, is that expressed by John McReynolds of Montgomery, Ala., a veteran of 13 months in Vietnam:

"Rioting has done more harm than good. You don't prove anything with rioting."

This year, approximately 41,000 Negroes will be discharged from the armed forces. Between 5,000 and 15,000 of them will have served on the battlefields of Vietnam. Uppermost in the minds of most of them is the desire to share in the riches of America through work - either in good paying jobs that offer a future or in school which leads to good jobs.

"The guy getting separated from the service today," said Otilio Mighty, Urban League veterans affairs coordinator in Harlem and a veteran himself, "is in my office tomorrow looking for a job or trying to get into school."

The homecoming for the Negro GI is critical. Many of them have lived with death for a year or more in the service of their country. Many have been decorated by that country. Now, they expect to have a full share in their country's wealth.

But too often still they come home to what Urban League Director Whitney M. Young Jr. called "an America that may choose to ignore their sacrifices, new skills, and proven ability; a society that continues to subject them and their families to discrimination."

Don Joey Williams, 21, of Memphis, a medic who was decorated in Vietnam for valor, was so sure he was going to get a job as a nurses's aide or medical technician at the Memphis Veterans Hospital that "I was even making plans to spend the money." A year later he was still unemployed.

Jesse J. Parker, 22, of Pittsburgh won a Distinguished Service Cross, the Army's second highest award for bravery, for ignoring enemy fire three times to rescue wounded comrades. When he got home he found that "people didn't seem to appreciate my efforts in Vietnam. Most said, 'so what,' when they learned I had been overseas."

Lawrence Joel, 39, of Fort Bragg, N.C., the only living Negro Medal of Honor winner in the Vietnam War, stayed in the Army because he felt a Negro "couldn't make it really big" in civilian life.

Stokely Carmichael, H. Rap Brown and others have said the Negro veteran will heed the call of the militants and join a revolutionary army.

"They will use their skills to liberate the Negro people," Brown said in a propaganda broadcast from Cuba. He predicted that Negro veterans of Vietnam "are going to be the most vigorous fighters because they have the skills and when they return to America, this skill will be used in liberating the Negro people with the same implacable will for freedom which the Negro man always has shown in fighting for his country."

Not many veterans agree with him.

Air Force Col. David James Jr. of Pensacola, Fla., a denying that Carmichael spoke for the Negroes of the United States, once called him an "idiot."

"This thing got to me, the lawlessness, rioting, men like Stokely Carmichael acting as if they speak for the Negro people. They don't and they've set civil rights back 100 years."

The attitudes of both Negro GIs and veterans toward the ghetto riots that have swept the cities during the past several summers are pretty much the same — they oppose them.

Pfc. James Butler, 20, of Philadelphia, was asked in Saigon about the riots that followed the death of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

"There shouldn't be rioting back in the states. It's not going to do us any good — it will only get more people killed and enough of us are dying in Vietnam," Butler said.

Harry S. Franklin, 22, of Harlem, said riots were "useless" and he would never join one.

"If it came to where the heat was really on me to riot, I'd move out of the neighborhood."

These attitudes can and do change if the individual veteran encounters prejudice and discrimination, if he is unable to find a well - paying, meaningful job, or if he can't obtain good housing or a good education.

Joey Williams was in Vietnam during the Watts riots and said he felt at the time that they were "a low morale thing" for black soldiers at the front.

"I said, 'these are some damn fools."

Yet, Williams joined in the Memphis riot after King's killing and his only regret was that "I didn't feel like I did as much as I could."

Most Negro soldiers are as "hawkish" on the war as their whites comrades. And when they return to civilian life they are more interested in forgetting about Vietnam and putting their lives in order than they are in joining either traditional veterans organizations or such anti-war groups as BAND, Blacks Against Negative Dying.

Parker, the Distinguished Service Cross winner from Pittsburgh, said when he came home he was "mixed up and wanted to be alone." But he was certain of one thing.

"I didn't want to come home and fight. I had enough fighting in Vietnam."

Next: What's being done for the Negro veteran.

Boys State Delegates Voting Slates Today

MORRISVILLE, N.Y. (AP) — The 1,100 delegates to the 31st annual Boys State conference lined up to vote today in their version of a statewide "election."

The election pitted candidates of two mock political parties—the Federalists and the Nationalists.

Heading the Federalist ticket is Michael Pergola of Brooklyn. Challenging him in the gubernatorial contests is Nationalist Gregory Chisholm of Manhatten.

The two parties rounded out their slates Wednesday.

The Federalist Party chose Willard H. Washburn of Cooperstown to run for lieutenant governor, Steven L. Glauberman of Garden City for comptroller and Andrew Gilman of Rockville Centre for attorney general.

The Nationalist Party selected Kendall Martin of Quoque for lieutenant governor, Steven Frank of Great Neck for comptroller and Richard Zulewski of Mattituck for attorney general.

The five-day program, sponsored by the American Legion, ends Friday.

News Blackout On Talks for Steel Pact

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Negotiators met under a news blackout today trying to create a new labor contract for the baisc steel industry before Aug. 1.

There was no official word on progress or lack of it, in the split-level bargaining with the nation's 11 largest producers.

Officials of the companies and the United Steelworkers union have agreed to make announcements only when agreements are reached. In the past, there were daily progress reports.

The union denied Wednesday that July 22 had been set for the first strike vote in its history. Ray Pasnick, director of public relations, said no date could be set until the 600-man basic steel industry conference committee meets.

However, a few hours after the denial a reporter heard a top union official tell his negotiating team that the vote would be held July 22. He said the conference committee would meet July 15 to set the machinery in motion.

Pasnick said the union charter makes it impossible for a strike vote date to be set until the conference committee meets. He also said no date has been set for the committee to meet.

The national's 450,000 steelworkers average $3.67 an hour.

Hearns Discussion

MOUNT CARMEL, Ill. (UPI) —Wabash County sheriff's police hefted the lead pipes and hacksaw blades found after a shakedown of the county jail and said teen-aged girls will not be allowed to talk to their young boyfriends through outside cell windows any more.

Moscow Talk Offer

On Limiting Missiles

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet Union today offered to open talks with the United States on limiting antimissile missile systems.

Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko announced the offer in a speech to the Supreme Soviet, the Soviet parliament.

President Johnson's administration has been seeking in recent years just such Soviet-American cooperation in limiting the missile defense systems that could cost up to $40 billion or more.

In a 90-minute speech, Gromyko said the Soviet Union wants "to add realism and scope" to the new U.S.-Soviet-British agreement on limiting the spread of nuclear weapons.

"One of the untouched problems in this field is the mutual limitation and later reduction of strategic weapons, both offensive and defensive, including antimissile missiles.

"The Soviet Union is ready to enter an exchange of opinions on this subject," with the United States, he said.

Diplomatic observers said Gromyko's offer was the Kremlin's reply to President Johnson's most recent proposals for better cooperation on preserving peace.

The veteran foreign minister told the 1,517 Supreme Soviet delegates that "we see no reason for conflict" with America.

President Johnson had made his proposals for U.S.-Soviet peace cooperation on the first anniversary of his Glassboro, N.J., summit meeting with Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin.

Gromyko said U.S. war production is rising. Then cited the United States as an example of imperialism not paying.

Gromyko advised the United States to take advantage of its preliminary peace talks in Paris with North Vietnam to halt its "aggression" in Vietnam.

But, clearly, Gromyko still held out the olive branch.

"The Soviet Union is ready to seek an agreement to forbid the use of nuclear rockets both of offensive and defensive character, of strategic and technical character," Gromyko said.

"Today we say there is no reason for collision with the United States if the United States respects our security and the security of our friends and neighbors."

Rondout Board Receives Bids for Rosendale School

Low bids for the construction of the Rosendale School were approved at this week's meeting of the Rondout Valley School District Board of Education. Construction work has already begun according to an announcement made by the board.

The only cooperative bread bid was rejected since it did not meet specifications and there were no other bids received.

Accepted by the board with regret was the resignation of high schol Spanish instructor Bud Campbell, who has resigned in order to devote full time to graduate work at the University of New Mexico. The board approved the following instructional appointments, effective Sept. 1: Ruth DeRitter, Kerhonkson Elementary Mrs. Marie M. Diehl, Middle School librarian; Arnold Jones Jr., Middle School social studies; Mrs. Carol S. Koster, school nurse-teacher, St. Peter's Parochal School (part-time); and Mrs. Sandra Thomas, high school earth science and biology.

The recommendation to eliminate one language position shared by the high school and middle school and to substitute a teacher-aide position at lower cost was adopted: Mrs. Pearl Layne will assume the position Sept. 1. Other noncertificated personnel were approved: Joseph Havel, high school cleaner, effective May 1; Veronica Sommers, teacher aide. Accord: Lois La Rossa, Barbara V. Walsh and Dorothy Pismopulos, teacher aides, middle school. The latter four appointments will take effect Sept. 1.

Requests by Luna Electric Co. Inc. and by Bank Brothers Plumbing and Heating that the amount of retained monies be reduced from 10 per cent to five per cent on their Middle School contracts were approved.

The June curriculum capsule, a presentation of future plans for the high school was given by principal, Sherman Wilbur and assistant principal, James Vertucci.

The board approved the recommended internal leadership structure for the Middle School. There will be eight interdisciplinary team leaders and six department team leaders. The latter will coordinate the following departments: Math, science, language, arts, social studies, music, fine and practical arts. Physical education and foreign language will operate directly under the high school coordinators.

Results of this year's Iowa Tests were reported by Superintendent of Schools Dr. Ted T. Grenda as "most satisfactory and, compared with the national average, are a clear-cut indication of the superior education Rondout Valley students are receiving."

Dr. Grenda said that the Middle School was moving well, and the opening in September is expected to be on schedule.

Regarding custodial reorganization, Dr. Grenda reported that there will be one head custodian serving the middle school and high school who will work at night to improve custodial supervision.

found the three boys on the floor of the middle bedroom," the captain said. "They probably were awakened by the fire and tried ot escape, but they didn't have a chance."

Van Norstrand said Capt. DeWitt Newkirk led a group of firemen through a rear door to the back bedroom. There they found the 3-year-old girl on a bed. The four victims were carried outside where they were pronounced dead.

According to Van Norstrand, the fire evidently started in the rear of the residence and spread rapidly through the first floor rooms. The origin of the blaze was under investigation by police and fire officials, according to Fire Chief Irving Merrick who was in command of firefighters at the scene.

Like 'Blast Furnace'

A Poughkeepsie policeman described the fire as "like a blast furnace" when he arrived.

Authorities listed the owner of the two-apartment house as Thomas Flanagan, a Poughkeepsie businessman.

Firemen were at the scene until after 10 a. m. and reported back in service at 10:39 a. m.

Additional Facts Made Available!

Engineering information submitted in Phase I of the Ulster County Community College estimated an initial saving in construction costs of $78,107.00 if the school was designed for electric heating.

If the true facts had been known would Ulster County Community College's decision been different? The Oil Heat Dealers of the area appeared before the Ulster County Community College Trustees and the Ulster County Board of Supervisors and advised that many case histories of previous school constructions indicated there was no appreciable difference in construction costs regardless of the method of heating. The dealers suggested the only positive method of determining actual costs was by obtaining construction bids for both electric and oil heat. This was not done.

In contrast, dual bids on both types of construction were accepted by the Hyde Park, New York Board of Education. The result of the competitive dual bids (not estimates) showed that the original construction costs were basically the SAME regardless of which form of heat was used.

OIL HEAT was selected for its new school by the Hyde Park Board of Education.

Dog Training Club Presents Annual Awards

The 12th annual awards presentation dinner of the Ulster Dog Training Club, held at the Skytop Restaurant in Kingston, recently, was the final social event of the club's 1967-68 season. Seventy members and guests attended.

Following the introduction of officers, Sheridan Guilfoil, president, introduced Kay Seitz, director of training, who presented an award for outstanding service to the club to Donald Savage of Grand Gorge, retiring president.

Entertainment for the evening was a film showing the work of Guiding Eyes for the Blind of Yorktown Heights, an organization dedicated to the training of guide dogs to help the blind live a more active and independent life. After the film, William McCracken conducted a demonstration, using one of the dogs and answered questions about the society's breeding program.

The dog training club presented a donation to the Guiding Eyes program.

Award winners for the year were: Valerie Beardsley, poodle, Cristy - CD (Companion Dog); Robert Ennis, Cocker spaniel, Buff-CD; Estelle King and handler Robert Ennis, Cocker spaniel, Buffie-CD; Rosalie Kraus, Boston terrier, Ringo-CD; Anna Oppel, German shepherd, Heidehouse Arros-CD and Heidehouse Borlo-CD; Ray Wright, German shepherd, Michelle-CD; Dorothy Hotaling, Schipperke Kewpie Dee-Utility Dog, highest degree in obedience; Canadian Kennel Club Special Award, Mary Peck, Shetland sheepdog, Mar-Win, Companion Dog Excellent.

Indict Marcus On More Charges

NEW YORK (AP) — Former city water commissioner James L. Marcus the 37-year-old Lindsay appointee who pleaded guilty to an earlier federal indictment for conspiring to take a kickback, has been indicted by the state on charges of perjury, grand larceny and another kickback charge.

Also indicted Wednesday were Herbert Itkin, 41, who served as prosecution witness in the federal bribe conspiracy trial, and Gus "Buddy" Spatafora, 31, a salesman for Vintray Enterprises.

Marcus and Itkin were cited in the indictment for dealings involving Edward A. Orlando, a contractor. Orlando was not indicted.

Spatafora allegedly passed on a $10,000 bribe to Marcus and Itkin. Vintray Entrerprises was allegedly seeking preferential treatment in landing city contracts.

Manhattan Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan said Marcus took the kickbacks to pay huge debts acculumated in gambling on the stock market. The perjury charge stems frmm Marcus' statement to the grand jury that the money he took came from Itkin.

Boys State Delegates Voting Slates Today

MORRISVILLE, N.Y. (AP) — The 1,100 delegates to the 31st annual Boys State conference lined up to vote today in their version of a statewide "election."

The election pitted candidates of two mock political parties—the Federalists and the Nationalists.

Heading the Federalist ticket is Michael Pergola of Brooklyn. Challenging him in the gubernatorial contests is Nationalist Gregory Chisholm of Manhatten.

The two parties rounded out their slates Wednesday.

The Federalist Party chose Willard H. Washburn of Cooperstown to run for lieutenant governor, Steven L. Glauberman of Garden City for comptroller and Andrew Gilman of Rockville Centre for attorney general.

The Nationalist Party selected Kendall Martin of Quoque for lieutenant governor, Steven Frank of Great Neck for comptroller and Richard Zulewski of Mattituck for attorney general.

The five-day program, sponsored by the American Legion, ends Friday.

News Blackout On Talks for Steel Pact

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Negotiators met under a news blackout today trying to create a new labor contract for the baisc steel industry before Aug. 1.

There was no official word on progress or lack of it, in the split-level bargaining with the nation's 11 largest producers.

Officials of the companies and the United Steelworkers union have agreed to make announcements only when agreements are reached. In the past, there were daily progress reports.

The union denied Wednesday that July 22 had been set for the first strike vote in its history. Ray Pasnick, director of public relations, said no date could be set until the 600-man basic steel industry conference committee meets.

However, a few hours after the denial a reporter heard a top union official tell his negotiating team that the vote would be held July 22. He said the conference committee would meet July 15 to set the machinery in motion.

Pasnick said the union charter makes it impossible for a strike vote date to be set until the conference committee meets. He also said no date has been set for the committee to meet.

The national's 450,000 steelworkers average $3.67 an hour.

Moscow Talk Offer

On Limiting Missiles

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet Union today offered to open talks with the United States on limiting antimissile missile systems.

Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko announced the offer in a speech to the Supreme Soviet, the Soviet parliament.

President Johnson's administration has been seeking in recent years just such Soviet-American cooperation in limiting the missile defense systems that could cost up to $40 billion or more.

In a 90-minute speech, Gromyko said the Soviet Union wants "to add realism and scope" to the new U.S.-Soviet-British agreement on limiting the spread of nuclear weapons.

"One of the untouched problems in this field is the mutual limitation and later reduction of strategic weapons, both offensive and defensive, including antimissile missiles.

"The Soviet Union is ready to enter an exchange of opinions on this subject," with the United States, he said.

Diplomatic observers said Gromyko's offer was the Kremlin's reply to President Johnson's most recent proposals for better cooperation on preserving peace.

The veteran foreign minister told the 1,517 Supreme Soviet delegates that "we see no reason for conflict" with America.

President Johnson had made his proposals for U.S.-Soviet peace cooperation on the first anniversary of his Glassboro, N.J., summit meeting with Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin.

Gromyko said U.S. war production is rising. Then cited the United States as an example of imperialism not paying.

Gromyko advised the United States to take advantage of its preliminary peace talks in Paris with North Vietnam to halt its "aggression" in Vietnam.

But, clearly, Gromyko still held out the olive branch.

"The Soviet Union is ready to seek an agreement to forbid the use of nuclear rockets both of offensive and defensive character, of strategic and technical character," Gromyko said.

"Today we say there is no reason for collision with the United States if the United States respects our security and the security of our friends and neighbors."

Rondout Board Receives Bids for Rosendale School

Low bids for the construction of the Rosendale School were approved at this week's meeting of the Rondout Valley School District Board of Education. Construction work has already begun according to an announcement made by the board.

The only cooperative bread bid was rejected since it did not meet specifications and there were no other bids received.

Accepted by the board with regret was the resignation of high schol Spanish instructor Bud Campbell, who has resigned in order to devote full time to graduate work at the University of New Mexico. The board approved the following instructional appointments, effective Sept. 1: Ruth DeRitter, Kerhonkson Elementary Mrs. Marie M. Diehl, Middle School librarian; Arnold Jones Jr., Middle School social studies; Mrs. Carol S. Koster, school nurse-teacher, St. Peter's Parochal School (part-time); and Mrs. Sandra Thomas, high school earth science and biology.

The recommendation to eliminate one language position shared by the high school and middle school and to substitute a teacher-aide position at lower cost was adopted: Mrs. Pearl Layne will assume the position Sept. 1. Other noncertificated personnel were approved: Joseph Havel, high school cleaner, effective May 1; Veronica Sommers, teacher aide, Accord; Lois La Rossa, Barbara V. Walsh and Dorothy Pismopulos, teacher aides, middle school. The latter four appointments will take effect Sept. 1.

Requests by Luna Electric Co. Inc. and by Bank Brothers Plumbing and Heating that the amount of retained monies be reduced from 10 per cent to five per cent on their Middle School contracts were approved.

The June curriculum capsule, a presentation of future plans for the high school was given by principal, Sherman Wilbur and assistant principal, James Vertucci.

The board approved the recommended internal leadership structure for the Middle School. There will be eight interdisciplinary team leaders and six department team leaders. The latter will coordinate the following departments: Math, science, language, arts, social studies, music, fine and practical arts. Physical education and foreign language will operate directly under the high school coordinators.

Results of this year's Iowa Tests were reported by Superintendent of Schools Dr. Ted T. Grenda as "most satisfactory and, compared with the national average, are a clear-cut indication of the superior education Rondout Valley students are receiving."

Dr. Grenda said that the Middle School was moving well, and the opening in September is expected to be on schedule.

Regarding custodial reorganization, Dr. Grenda reported that there will be one head custodian serving the middle school and high school who will work at night to improve custodial supervision.

OEO Probe: Apparent Lies

By LAWRENCE L. KNUTSON

WASHINGTON (AP) — The certainty that investigating senators have been lied to has become a major issue in a probe of a federal antipoverty grant intended to rehabilitate members of two Chicago street gangs.

"If the stories that have been told here are false, everyone involved should go to jail," Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R-Neb., said Wednesday at the end of the fifth day of hearings into the Office of Economic Opportunity's $27,000 grant for the gangs.

Transparent Perjury

"Transparent perjury has been committed," declared the Rev. John R. Fry, a slim, intense Presbyterian minister who has been charged with encouraging members of the Blackstone Rangers to step up criminal activity. "This is disgusting contempt of the Senate."

"I look at Rev. Fry right now and say he is a malicious liar," said George Rose, former Ranger "warlord" who has testified under oath Fry allowed his church to be used as a gang arsenal, that he allowed marijuana to be smoked there, that he relayed an order for the killing of a narcotics peddler and that he warned gang members of impending police raids.

"I specifically and categorically deny each and everyone of these allegations," Fry told Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., at one point in Wednesday's hearing.

Meanwhile, the regional Presbytery in charge of Fry's church met in Chicago, voted to support what they called his "creative and courageous" approach to the solution of urban problems.

They protested against what they said is the "manner in which the character of the Rev. John Fry has repeatedly been maliciously maligned" by Senate witnesses.

Other Allegations

The senators heard these allegations Wednesday.

Mrs. Annabelle Martin said two of her ten children were solicited by Eugene "Bull" Hairston, 23, Ranger president, to kill a narcotics peddler whom she said Hairston accused of infringing on his gang's territory.

She said she heard Fry tell lawyers he had provided for her he would pay her to take her family out of Chicago so her sons could not testify against Hairston.

Denies All

Fry denied all her allegations.

James L. Pierson, an investigator for the State's Attorney's office of Cook County (Chicago) said that during rioting that swept Chicago the Rangers sold protection to South Side neighborhood merchants.

He said they charged $50 to $150 for crudely scrawled signs, bearing the name of the Ranger vice president, which told all potential looters: "Do Not Touch!"

Earlier, Fry denied he counseled the Rangers to engage in extortion.

'ZIGGY' DIES — Harry "Ziggy" Elman, who trumpeted his way to jazz fame with Tommy Dorsey, Harry James and Benny Goodman, died Tuesday at the Sepulveda Veterans' Hospital in Los Angeles it was announced Wednesday. The Philadelphia trumpeter-composer succumbed after a prolonged liver ailment. In recent years, he had been active in the movies and writing songs with Johnny Mercer. Elman was 54. (UPI TELEPHOTO)

The Syracuse Drama: 'Live' One to Morgue

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Medical workers at Crouse-Irving Hospital tried in vain to find signs of life in the seemingly lifeless form of a 30-year-old woman. Frustrated, they arranged to have her sent to the county morgue.

But shortly after Mrs. Virginia Torrey of Syracuse was delivered Wednesday to the Onandaga County Morgue for an autopsy, an alert attendant, William Taylor, noticed movement in her throat.

Another attendant and an ambulance driver applied chest massage and mouth-to-mouth resuscitation and rushed Mrs. Torrey to State University Hospital, where her condition was reported critical.

A hospital spokesman said the woman, a divorcee, was under treatment for a suspected overdose of drugs.

The drama began when a motorist reported to the Onondaga that a woman was slumped over in a locked automobile on a rural road.

At Crouse Irving Hospital, emergency-room personnel were unable to detect any trace of life, according to the hospital administer. Moments later, Taylor was notified by the ambulance service that it "had" a dead-on-arrival coming in from Crouse-Irving," Taylor said.

Taylor told a reporter that, in the receiving room at the morgue, he "took the blanket off her and I happened to notice a contraction of the throat."

He said he asked the ambulance-driver to begin external heart massage. Robert Kaldowski, another attendant, administered mouth-to-mouth resuscitation en route to the second hospital, where she received further emergency treatment and a heart beat was established.

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market advanced irregularly early Thursday in another active, postrecess session.

The ticker tape was late and a string of big blocks changed hands as trading resumed after the third straight Wednesday recess called by the exchanges so that brokerage firms could catch up with paperwork.

Averages were only slightly higher. Gains outnumbered losses by a narrow margin.

Penn Central spurted about 1½ on news of its proposed merger with Kayser-Roth which was delayed in opening.

Swim Pool Growth Is Intensifying

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — "Someday swimming pools are going to be common as second bathrooms," said the swimming pool marketing man. "Well, maybe not that common but there'll be a lot of them," he added.

The statistics tend to document the latter part of his claim. An industry census shows that from less than 11,000 pools 20 years ago, the total now has grown to more than 800,000. And the growth seems to be intensifying.

By the end of this year, says the Hoffman-Harris Co., a publisher whose figures generally are accepted by the industry, hotels and motels will have built another 9,550 pools, clubs another 1,900, municipalities 1,400, schools 1,700 and homeowners more than 60,000.

Behind this boom in swimming pools are not just higher incomes but basic changes in American habits and attitudes. A swimming pool is slowly falling from the extreme luxury category, for example. To many it is now a health tank.

"The old idea of the swimming pool as something of a Roman bath doesn't hold water anymore," said a spokesman for the National Swimming Pool Institute, a trade organization.

"Now swimming is a health activity," he said, "one of the best sports for maintaining cardiovascular health."

Convenience is another factor. People ask themselves why they should drive 40 or 50 miles to and from a crowded beach when swimming can be available just beyond their patio and right next to the television set and the charcoal broiler.

A good small pool, something less than 15 feet by 30 feet, might cost somewhere around $3,000 installed and equipped, although prices range widely. In the middle sizes, between 15 by 30 and 20 by 40, prices generally are a bit more than $4,000.

For the same price, an industry official comments, you could buy a good automobile. "So why not buy a less expensive car and put the money into a pool?" he asks.

Although the most intensive pool population remains in the California-Hawaii and Florida areas, much of the present building activity is in the populous northeastern section of the country, where the Northeast Swimming Pool Association forecasts a 25 to 35 per cent increase in business this year.

Still Most Popular

Increasingly the pools now being installed are prefabricated of vinyl and are erected partially above ground and surrounded with a wooden deck. But in ground concrete pools, which might cost 20 to 40 per cent more, still are the most popular.

The expense doesn't end with the installation. Swimming pools get dirty, they get clogged with leaves.

In a heavily wooded area maintenance might cost $12 to $30 a month if the work is done by the pool owner. If handled professionally on a regular contract basis, the cost can run to $30 a month.

Fisher Appointed Court Librarian

By HUGH REYNOLDS

Peter C. Fisher, 10th Ward Republican alderman, has been appointed Supreme Court librarian in Kingston. The appointment is effective July 1.

Fisher replaces H. LeRoy Gill who had announced his retirement April 1 after 10 years as librarian. The salary is $6,500 per year.

The alderman, chosen from a number of applicants by Supreme Court Judges Louis G. Bruhn and Roscoe V. Elsworth, is a Kingston High School graduate and attended Albany Law School and St. Lawrence University. He also worked for a year as a law clerk in the firm of Brinnier and Elsworth.

Fisher is married to the former Marguerite Conlon of Kingston and lives at 19 Liberty Street. The couple has two sons, both employes of IBM, Kingston.

Fisher was successful in his first attempt at political office last year, becoming the first Republican elected in the 10th Ward since 1941 when he defeated Democrat Sol Present by less than 25 votes.

He is a candidate this year on the Republican ticket in the new Fourth Ward against Alderman Florence S. Ludlow (D-First Ward). The old 10th and First Wards were merged under reapportionment to form the new Fourth.

ICC Seeking Investigation Of Railroads

By STEPHEN M. AUG

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Interstate Commerce Commission has called for a sweeping Congressional investigation of the nations railroad passenger service charging the condition of present rail passenger service is "grave—fatal in some areas".

The ICC urged a three-part program in reports to committeees in the House and Senate.

1. Congress should launch a comprehensive study on the need for a national rail passenger system and ways to develop a modern rail network.

2. Congress should ammend present law to preserve at least a minimum level of service during the study. This would impose a moritorium of sorts in cases where railroad seeks to eliminate its last two passenger trains between any two communities.

3. The Post Office should temporarily redirect its policies on mail contracts to support the present level of passenger train service during the study.

The unanimous report—66 pages plus another 38 pages of charts and tables—urged the government to formulate a national policy on railroad transportation outlining the nations needs. The report said that the absence of such a policy at the federal level "cannot help the re-enforce the downward trend of passenger service."

Bond Issue Is Approved For BOCES

GOSHEN, N.Y. (AP) — Voters of 18 school districts approved Wednesday a $5,900,000 bond issue to build a vocational high school and occupational therapy center in this Orange County seat and to purchase land for a similar center outside nearby Newburgh.

The vote was 3,061 to 1,802. All the school districts are in Orange County except for Marlboro in Ulster County. They formed a cooprative agency—the Board of Cooperative Educational Services—to plan the center, which was too big a facility for any of them individually to require.

Mass Arrests In 'Frisco Bay

RICHMOND, Calif. (UPI)—Local police and riot units from other San Francisco Bay area communities rounded up curfew violators early today in the wake of a second night of violence by roving Negro gangs.

A police spokesman said between 80 and 100 persons were arrested and two, both civilians, were injured. The charges included looting, curfew violation and resisting arrest.

An all-night curfew was imposed at 10 p.m. Wednesday as gangs of youths, some using walkie-talkie communications, roamed through the downtown area, smashing windows and throwing molotov cocktails.

Some of the groups, ranging from 20 to 30 each, used autos to dart from place to place for hit-run vandalism. Gunfire was reported, but police said it was apparently intended to add to the confusion.

Cancel Ulster Band Concert

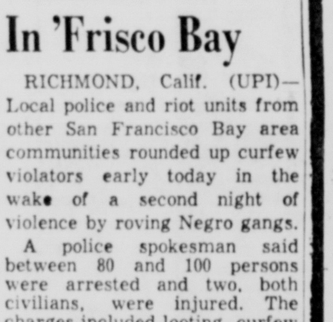
A band concert, scheduled for tonight at the Town of Ulster Library grounds, has been cancelled due to rain.

Marlin Morrette, director and Musician's Band Local 215 were being sponsored by both the Town of Ulster Town Board and the Town of Ulster Library Association.

Plans now call for their appearance at the same place on July 16 from 8 to 10 p. m.

Funds derived from the concert will be donated to the Musician's Transcription Fund.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS



The new Metropolitan Opera House in Lincoln Center, New York City, completed in 1966 at a cost of $45.7 million has 3,788 seats, the largest seating capacity of an opera house in the world, says The World Almanac. Maximum box office receipts for a performance total $42,000, but costs are $59,000 a night. The Vienna Opera covers 30 per cent and LaScala in Milan only 20 per cent of their costs at the box office.

Davenport Submits UCCC Resignation

Walter Davenport of Stone Ridge, first chairman of the Ulster County Community College Board of Trustees, has submitted his resignation as a trustee after more than six years of service to the board.

His successor will, in all probability, be named by the County Legislature at its July meeting.

Present Board Chairman John Quimby said this morning he was sorry Davenport felt he must step aside, commenting on the great amount of time, effort and energy he has contributed to the college and the county community.

Davenport is said to have indicated he had served long enough and would like to see the board refreshed with a younger person and new ideas.

Davenport was among five trustees first named to the board in March of 1963. He was elected and served as chairman for three terms, the limit allowable under by-laws.

As a member of the board, he was responsible for choosing the site of the college, selecting the staff, managing finances, formulating the curricula and setting the educational standards of the college.

Davenport is president of Walter Davenport Sons, Inc., of High Falls. He is past master of the Hudson Valley Fuel Dealers Association.

Arrest Man

A 29-year-old Clintondale man was arrested early today by Highland state police on a charge of illegal possession of a dangerous weapon during an investigation in the Town of Plattekill.

According to Trooper Edward Pulver, Donel Robinson Jr., of Route 44-55 was taken into custody at 12:30 a. m. by BCI Investigator Roger Gardner and Trooper C. J. Bebensee, who accused the defendant of possessing a .22 caliber pistol without a permit.

Robinson was arraigned befor Lloyd Town Justice Lewis DiStasi, who committed the Clintondale man to the county jail and adjourned the hearing.

Davenport Submits UCCC Resignation

Walter Davenport of Stone Ridge, first chairman of the Ulster County Community College Board of Trustees, has submitted his resignation as a trustee after more than six years of service to the board.

His successor will, in all probability, be named by the County Legislature at its July meeting.

Present Board Chairman John Quimby said this morning he was sorry Davenport felt he must step aside, commenting on the great amount of time, effort and energy he has contributed to the college and the county community.

Davenport is said to have indicated he had served long enough and would like to see the board refreshed with a younger person and new ideas.

Davenport was among five trustees first named to the board in March of 1963. He was elected and served as chairman for three terms, the limit allowable under by-laws.

As a member of the board, he was responsible for choosing the site of the college, selecting the staff, managing finances, formulating the curricula and setting the educational standards of the college.

Davenport is president of Walter Davenport Sons, Inc., of High Falls. He is past master of the Hudson Valley Fuel Dealers Association.

Arrest Man

A 29-year-old Clintondale man was arrested early today by Highland state police on a charge of illegal possession of a dangerous weapon during an investigation in the Town of Plattekill.

According to Trooper Edward Pulver, Donel Robinson Jr., of Route 44-55 was taken into custody at 12:30 a. m. by BCI Investigator Roger Gardner and Trooper C. J. Bebensee, who accused the defendant of possessing a .22 caliber pistol without a permit.

Robinson was arraigned befor Lloyd Town Justice Lewis DiStasi, who committed the Clintondale man to the county jail and adjourned the hearing.

School Budget, Teacher Pay Before Educators on Friday

By WALTER S. CLARK

Adoption of new salary schedules and a part of the new contract for teachers in the Kingston School District Consolidated, and final adoption of the annual school budget for 1968-69, will be included in business on the agenda for a meeting of the Board of Education Friday at 8:30 p.m.

Fully paid retirement for non-instructional employes of the school system will be discussed and acted upon.

The new salary schedule will be adopted as part of recent negotiations. It was learned that it is necessary to approve and act on the schedule so that it can be included in the budget. The entire contract will not be adopted until lawyers for both sides — the school board and teachers — review it and agree to its provisions.

Up $1,920,841

The proposed budget, which was aired categorically at a recent public hearing totals $13,067,686, an increase of $1,920,841 above the $11,146,845 final budget approved by the board of education for the school year 1967-68.

It is understood that the $13 million plus will be sliced to a small degree, probably about $200,000, but the district trustees have indicated clearly that the taxpayers cannot expect any sizable reduction in the budget as presented last week at the hearing held in the George Washington School.

The largest item in the budget is the combined total of $7,896,233, the estimated cost for instruction in regular day schools and special schools in the consolidated district. The combined $7.8 total is an increase of $1,384,922 above the estimated costs listed in the 1967-68 final budget.

In an explanation of the functions of the budget, the school board noted that the appropriation for instruction in the regular day school and special schools, is understandably the largest expenditure in any school budget, since it deals with the major function of the schools.

Included in that classification — the instructional program — are appropriations for salaries of teachers, principals, assistant principals, directors and supervisors of instruction, guidance counselors, psychologists, librarians, attendance and health service personnel, and members of the office staffs.

It has been explained by school authorities that the tax rates for the City of Kingston and other areas within the consolidated district, will not be computed until assessment rolls are compiled by the boards of assessors and sent to the school district's business department.

Final School-Year Session

There will be no appropriation included in the 1968-69 budget to provide for fully paid retirement for non-instructional employes, according to board president Arthur Withall, who noted that item would be included in the 1969-70 school district budget.

Friday night's meeting to be held in the George Washington School offices of the board, will be the final meeting of the 1967-68 school year. Members will meet Tuesday, July 2 for the organizational meeting during which officers will be elected for 1968-69.

Hubert Hoderath, who is retiring as a board member, will attend his final meeting tomorrow night. He did not seek election for another term at the May election.

The public meeting Friday will follow an executive session of the board scheduled to start at 7:30 p.m.

On the agenda for the final meeting of the school year will be resolutions to be offered by Ellsworth L. Johnson, chairman of the personnel committee, relating to resignations, appointments, changes in tenure area, changes in salary—extra credit, salary adjustment for Donald Anderson, and the salary schedules for teachers.

Johnson also will report on resignations and terminations, changes and permanent status for clerical employes under civil service.

Financial Reports Due

Harold E. Keator Jr., chairman of business management committee, will submit financial reports of the collector-treasurer for the period ending May 31, the May school lunch and milk program and transfer of appropriations. Keator also will offer resolutions for awarding of bids for musical instruments, language laboratory, audio-visual equipment, milk, ice cream, pie, fuel oil and coal and a cash register for the cafeteria.

Mileage allowance, fully paid retirement proposal for non-instructional employes, and a resolution authorizing the board to participate in a combined grocery bid with BOCES, also will be reported by Trustee Keator.

Trustee Hoderath, chairman of the building committee, will give a report, and Mrs. Evelyn Corsones, chairman of public relations committee, will submit a calendar for school year 1968-69, a resolution listing religious holidays for the next school year, and the usual committe report.

Richard P. Boice, chairman of the transportation committee, is slated to report on transportation for 1968-69, and the meeting will conclude with a report by Supt. of Schools W. Wendell Hoover.

DR. RODNEY E. WELLS

KHS Grad To Maine School Job

A 1949 graduate of Kingston High School, Dr. Rodney E. Wells, will assume the duties as superintendent of schools at Portland, Me., in August. He is the son of Mrs. DeWitt F. Wells of 7 Orchard Street, Hurley, and the late Mr. Wells.

Dr. Wells graduated from the University of Rochester in 1953. He received his Master's degree from Albany State University and his Ph.D. from the University of Connecticut in 1966.

He had previously been principal of Hudson High School and assistant superintendent of schools at Branford, Conn., where he now resides at 24 Eellsweep Road with his wife Joan and their son, David Rodney Wells.

Top N. Y. Democrats Silenced

By FRANK H. RICE

ALBANY, N. Y. (UPI) — The heavy artillery of the Democratic party in New York state is being silenced and much of it by choice .

The party "drop-outs" — former New York City Mayor Robert F. Wagner Jr., former Gov. Averell Harriman and State Assembly Speaker Anthony J. Travia—have forsaken state politics for other fields of endeavor.

Wagner, Travia

Wagner, who bears the scars of many a political battle — some of them inflicted by members of his own party — will become U.S. Ambassador to Spain.

Travia will step down from the speaker's rostrum in a few days to become a federal judge. And, Harriman has been too pre - occupied with Vietnam peace talks to become embroiled in state politics again.

An assassin's bullets cut short what had promised to be the most brilliant political career of a Democrat, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, in a long time.

Another Democratic power, Max Turshen who held the all-important Judiciary Committee chairmanship in the State Assembly, tasted defeat in the recent primaries for the first time in 31 years.

The stars also shone brightly for a while for two other Democrats — Rep. Joseph Y. Resnick of Ellenville and Nassau County Executive Eugene Nickerson. The light was snuffed out in the June 18 primary for the U.S. senatorial nomination.

DeSapio Something Else

The career of former Democratic bigwig, Carmine DeSapio who once ruled Tammany Hall with an iron fist, may be at an end, but not by choice.

And, a big question mark hangs over the continued reign of John Burns of Binghamton, the state chairman. Some factions within the party have expressed dissatisfaction with his operations.

The state committee meets Friday to pick at-large delegates to the national convention and Burns' future as chairman could well be decided at that meeting.

For the Republicans it may be a new era of political prosperity.

The death of Kennedy left a vacancy in the state's congressional delegation and Governor Rockefeller is expected to appoint a party stalwart. He has a long list from which to choose.

GOP Eyes 15 Seats

There is a growing feeling among top Republicans that now is their best chance to regain control of the State Assembly. If they do Minority Leader Perry Duryea of Montauk will become the state's second most powerful Republican.

The GOP is eying 15 incumbent Democratic seats in the Assembly — four in Nassau County, two in Onondaga, and one each in Suffolk, Westchester, Erie, Niagara, Orange, Rockland, Dutchess, Monroe, and Essex.

And if Rockefeller is successful in his presidential bid, Lt. Gov. Malcolm Wilson will not find it difficult to move into the executive mansion.

While the Republicans are having a "ball" it's "no party" for the Democrats.

DR. RODNEY E. WELLS

KHS Grad To Maine School Job

A 1949 graduate of Kingston High School, Dr. Rodney E. Wells, will assume the duties as superintendent of schools at Portland, Me., in August. He is the son of Mrs. DeWitt F. Wells of 7 Orchard Street, Hurley, and the late Mr. Wells.

Dr. Wells graduated from the University of Rochester in 1953. He received his Master's degree from Albany State University and his Ph.D. from the University of Connecticut in 1966.

He had previously been principal of Hudson High School and assistant superintendent of schools at Branford, Conn., where he now resides at 24 Eellsweep Road with his wife Joan and their son, David Rodney Wells.

Top N. Y. Democrats Silenced

By FRANK H. RICE

ALBANY, N. Y. (UPI) — The heavy artillery of the Democratic party in New York state is being silenced and much of it by choice .

The party "drop-outs" — former New York City Mayor Robert F. Wagner Jr., former Gov. Averell Harriman and State Assembly Speaker Anthony J. Travia—have forsaken state politics for other fields of endeavor.

Wagner, Travia

Wagner, who bears the scars of many a political battle — some of them inflicted by members of his own party — will become U.S. Ambassador to Spain.

Travia will step down from the speaker's rostrum in a few days to become a federal judge. And, Harriman has been too pre - occupied with Vietnam peace talks to become embroiled in state politics again.

An assassin's bullets cut short what had promised to be the most brilliant political career of a Democrat, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, in a long time.

Another Democratic power, Max Turshen who held the all-important Judiciary Committee chairmanship in the State Assembly, tasted defeat in the recent primaries for the first time in 31 years.

The stars also shone brightly for a while for two other Democrats — Rep. Joseph Y. Resnick of Ellenville and Nassau County Executive Eugene Nickerson. The light was snuffed out in the June 18 primary for the U.S. senatorial nomination.

DeSapio Something Else

The career of former Democratic bigwig, Carmine DeSapio who once ruled Tammany Hall with an iron fist, may be at an end, but not by choice.

And, a big question mark hangs over the continued reign of John Burns of Binghamton, the state chairman. Some factions within the party have expressed dissatisfaction with his operations.

The state committee meets Friday to pick at-large delegates to the national convention and Burns' future as chairman could well be decided at that meeting.

For the Republicans it may be a new era of political prosperity.

The death of Kennedy left a vacancy in the state's congressional delegation and Governor Rockefeller is expected to appoint a party stalwart. He has a long list from which to choose.

GOP Eyes 15 Seats

There is a growing feeling among top Republicans that now is their best chance to regain control of the State Assembly. If they do Minority Leader Perry Duryea of Montauk will become the state's second most powerful Republican.

The GOP is eying 15 incumbent Democratic seats in the Assembly — four in Nassau County, two in Onondaga, and one each in Suffolk, Westchester, Erie, Niagara, Orange, Rockland, Dutchess, Monroe, and Essex.

And if Rockefeller is successful in his presidential bid, Lt. Gov. Malcolm Wilson will not find it difficult to move into the executive mansion.

While the Republicans are having a "ball" it's "no party" for the Democrats.

But Ky's Goal The Same

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnam's flamboyant Nguyen Cao Ky, foiled in the ambition to become chief of state under American auspices, has abruptly changed style and tactics. His ultimate objective—power—remains unchanged.

Instead of his famed Captain Midnight flying suit with lavender scarf and black baseball cap, the vice president now wears a Mao jacket.

Instead of cultivating friends in the U.S. Embassy, Ky has withdrawn into semi-isolation and embarrasses American officials with thinly veiled attacks on the United States.

Finally a Break

The 37-year-old swashbuckler with a passion for exploits has virtually broken with the American-backed regime of President Nguyen Van Thieu.

Reduced to the ceremonial functions assigned to the vice presidency by South Vietnam's new constitution, Ky still pays lip service to the regime. But in the public mind, he is a more immediate threat to Thieu than the Viet Cong.

In his new image, Ky wants to appear a nationalist hero, seeking to free his country as much from the threat of communism.

He remains the most prominent and most determined foe of any kind of accommodation or discussion with the Viet Cong.

Once the master of South Vietnam's military regime as premier, Ky's decline really began when the ruling group of generals—and discreet American prodding—persuaded him to abandon his bid for the presidency and enter last September's presidential elections as Thieu's running mate.

American officials believe Ky has lost so much power and influence in the past two months that he is no longer a physical threat to Thieu.

Thieu himself and those close to him disagree.

Since early May, many of Ky's friends have been removed from important posts and replaced by Thieu nominees.

Yet the more Thieu strengthens his position, the more he seems to fear that the vice president's supporters may resort to violent action before it is too late.

Get-Away Planned

A get-away helicopter stands permanently on the lawn in front of the presidential palace. The president's personal security force has been assigned to keep an eye on Ky and his entourage.

The president's friends point out that Thieu's elimination would automatically put Ky into the presidency. The South Vietnamese constitution requires new presidential elections in case the presidency becomes vacant—but the vice president assumes the post in the interim.

In South Vietnam, that provision can be interpreted in widely different ways.

IBM Helps College to Acquire Laser

Ulster County Community College has acquired some laser equipment through a contribution from the International Business Machines Corp. plant in Kingston, president George B. Erbstein announced today.

"We are most grateful for the continued support of the college by the IBM Corp.," president Erbstein said. "The acquisition of the laser equipment, resulting from the IBM contribution, will assist faculty and students in understanding and learning about this new scientific advancement."

The Science and Mathematics Division at UCCC plans to use the equipment for instruction in laser technology.

The equipment obtained by UCCC is a helium-neon gas laser which will be used in the advanced physics laboratory. The college selected a commercial, low output laser to insure the utmost in safety requirements and to obtain maximum student use.

The third semester of the physics engineering course at the college, where the investigative work will be conducted, is under the direction supervision of Dr. Morris Anschel, a part-time UCCC faculty member, who is a staff chemist at IBM.

Antique Cars In Red Hook

Thirty antique cars will be on display Saturday in the parking area of the First National Bank of Red Hook.

The Antique Car Show is being sponsored by the Red Hook Businessmen's Association and will take place from noon to 4 p.m.

Among cars on display will be a 1908 Buick roadster and a 1907 Ford Speedster. Two cars from the Rhinebeck Aerodrome will also be shown, including a Sears Roebuck model, according to Walter Irwin, chairman.

Living by Law

— A minister in the Communist-dominated coalition government of Kerala state was seen walking down the long corridors toward the office cafeteria.

He was going to get himself a cup of tea after workers had prevented his office boy from fetching it for him.

Elected Official Favored

An elected county executive serving a four-year term appeared to be favored by most of those who expressed an opinion at public hearings conducted by the Ulster County Charter Commission, it was revealed today by Ward W. Ingalsbe Jr., chairman.

Charter Commission members are studying opinions and comments about the form of government to be incorporated in a proposed charter to be recommended to the County Legislature by the end of this year. If approved by that body, it will be submitted to the voters for their decision.

The last of five public hearings was held earlier this month at Saugerties, with Mrs. Jerome J. Andersen, a commission vice chairman, presiding. It had the largest attendance of any of the hearings, indicating a steady growth of interest in the charter study which may affect the entire structure of county government.

Among those speaking at the Saugerties hearing were Albert Spada, Ulster county clerk; Frank Greco, executive secretary of the Ulster County Civil Service Commission; Louis P. Francello, attorney; Dr. Richard J. Messina, George Smith, Harry Hoffman, Ben Rinaldi, Robert Gardiner, A. Michael Schoorl, Jan Metzelaar, and representatives of the League of Women Voters. Charter Commission members attending in addition to Mrs. Andersen, were Chairman Ingalsbe, Robert Russell and Richard Thornton.

Other public hearings in the series were held in Kingston, with commission chairman Ingalsbe presiding; New Paltz, with vice chairman Daniel Alfonso presiding; Boiceville, with vice chairman Verner May presiding; and in Ellenville with vice chairman Robert Kuhlmann presiding.

Major change in the structure of county government that the charter will provide, if it is adopted, will be the creation of the office of county executive and a separation of the legislative and executive functions of government. This was mandated by the resolution unanimously passed by the Board of Supervisors April 13, 1967, creating the Charter Commission.

Chairman Ingalsbe has listed the following topics as those most frequently discussed at the five hearings:

County Executive — The majority of expressed opinion favored an elected executive to serve a term of four years. Some speakers contended an appointed executive is to be preferred because professional qualifications could be established.

Home Rule—One of the advantages of a charter is the protection of the county's home rule, vis-a-vis the state. Many persons, however, are concerned that the charter will not appropriate to the county certain governmental functions now reserved to the city, towns and villages. Commission members have given assurance that this factor will be given careful consideration.

Finances — An elected comptroller and an appointed treasurer was most often advocated, but several alternatives were also mentioned.

Assessments — This was a "sticky question" with some favoring the efficiency and equality of having a qualified, professional assessor employed on a county-wide basis, and others warning against loss of powers that traditionally belong to the towns within the county. Centralized school districts pointed to hardships of present assessment procedures and alleged inequalities.

Costs—It is generally believed the establishment of an executive department may cost a little more initially, but that it will pay for itself in increased efficiency over the long run. The public would like specific cost estimates.

Woman Held

Edna Mae Alexander 25, a waitress, whose address was recorded by police as the Huntington Hotel, was arrested at 9 p. m. Wednesday on a charge of second degree assault involving a stabbing incident. The woman was held for arraignment before City Judge Hubert A. Richter. Police said the woman was accused of stabbing Ronald Johnson in the right arm. Detectives and uniformed patrolmen investigated.

Suicide vs. Homicide

Nations with high suicide rates often have low homicide rates. For example, West Berlin, Japan, Austria, Denmark and Switzerland have high suicide rates but also some of the lowest homicide rates in the world, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Elected Official Favored

An elected county executive serving a four-year term appeared to be favored by most of those who expressed an opinion at public hearings conducted by the Ulster County Charter Commission, it was revealed today by Ward W. Ingalsbe Jr., chairman.

Charter Commission members are studying opinions and comments about the form of government to be incorporated in a proposed charter to be recommended to the County Legislature by the end of this year. If approved by that body, it will be submitted to the voters for their decision.

The last of five public hearings was held earlier this month at Saugerties, with Mrs. Jerome J. Andersen, a commission vice chairman, presiding. It had the largest attendance of any of the hearings, indicating a steady growth of interest in the charter study which may affect the entire structure of county government.

Among those speaking at the Saugerties hearing were Albert Spada, Ulster county clerk; Frank Greco, executive secretary of the Ulster County Civil Service Commission; Louis P. Francello, attorney; Dr. Richard J. Messina, George Smith, Harry Hoffman, Ben Rinaldi, Robert Gardiner, A. Michael Schovel, Jan Metzelaar, and representatives of the League of Women Voters. Charter Commission members attending in addition to Mrs. Andersen, were Chairman Ingalsbe, Robert Russell and Richard Thornton.

Other public hearings in the series were held in Kingston, with commission chairman Ingalsbe presiding; New Paltz, with vice chairman Daniel Alfonso presiding; Boiceville, with vice chairman Vernon Mayo presiding; and in Ellenville with vice chairman Robert Kuhlmann presiding.

Major change in the structure of county government that the charter will provide, if it is adopted, will be the creation of the office of county executive and a separation of the legislative and executive functions of government. This was mandated by the resolution unanimously passed by the Board of Supervisors April 13, 1967, creating the Charter Commission.

Chairman Ingalsbe has listed the following topics as those most frequently discussed at the five hearings:

County Executive—The majority of expressed opinon favored an elected executive to serve a term of four years. Some speakers contended an appointed executive is to be preferred because professional qualifications could be established.

Home Rule—One of the advantages of a charter is the protection of the county's home rule, vis-a-vis the state. Many persons, however, are concerned that the charter will not appropriate to the county certain governmental functions now reserved to the city, towns and villages. Commission members have given assurance that this factor will be given careful consideration.

Finances—An elected comptroller and an appointed treasurer was most often advocated, but several alternatives were also mentioned.

Assessments—This was a "sticky question" with some favoring the efficiency and equality of having a qualified, professional assessor employed on a county-wide basis, and others warning against loss of powers that traditionally belong to the towns within the county. Centralized school districts pointed to hardships of present assessment procedures and alleged inequalities.

Costs—It is generally believed the establishment of an executive department may cost a little more initially, but that it will pay for itself in increased efficiency over the long run. The public would like specific cost estimates.

Woman Held

Edna Mae Alexander 25, a waitress, whose address was recorded by police as the Huntington Hotel, was arrested at 9 p.m. Wednesday on a charge of second degree assault involving a stabbing incident. The woman was held for arraignment before City Judge Hubert A. Richter. Police said the woman was accused of stabbing Ronald Johnson in the right arm. Detectives and uniformed patrolmen investigated.

Suicide vs. Homicide

Nations with high suicide rates often have low homicide rates. For example, West Berlin, Japan, Austria, Denmark and Switzerland have high suicide rates but also some of the lowest homicide rates in the world, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Warwarsing Seeking Poppel Replacement

With the Wawarsing Town Board meeting set for July 2, speculation runs high on a possible successor to Town Justice Herbert Poppel who resignation date is deadlined for June 30.

Prominently mentioned to fill the vacated slot is Frank M. Spada, law partner of Alex J. Nirenberg.

Town Supervisor Frank W. Harkin said, however, that although Spada is "capable," there have been "a number of people mentioned."

"I wouldn't say that (Spada) necessarily has the inside edge," said Harkin.

Justice Poppel submitted his resignation recently after The Freeman broke the story that the Ulster County District Attorney's office was investigating the books of the 16-year office holder.

A routine examination of town books by the State Department of Audit and Control turned up a discrepancy from Poppel's office.

Another matter to be decided is the work load and the salary of the two town justices.

As it stands now, Poppel, a Republican, receives a yearly salary of $4,250. Justice Herbert Weinsoff, a Democrat elected in 1965, is paid a yearly salary of $2,750.

Reportedly, Poppel handled the bulk of town cases but Weinsoff has claimed that he would take an equal amount of cases for an equal amount of money.

Another reason given for Poppel's higher salary was that he was the "senior" town justice. The Poppel resignation, however, now makes Weinsoff the senior justice.

The district attorney's office would not comment on what possible action it plans to take against Poppel except to say that the case continues "under investigation."

Rusk's West German Visit Is Assessed by Observers

BONN (UPI)—Political observers today assessed Secretary of State Dean Rusk's visit to West Germany as another proof that, even in international diplomacy, there is no substitute for a personal appearance.

It is unlikely that Rusk told Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger anything he hadn't previously stated publicly or conveyed privately to West German Foreign Minister Willy Brandt about America's stand in the new Berlin squeeze.

But Rusk's brief presence in Bonn Wednesday and his tough statement before television cameras injected a measure of confidence here and probably assauged West German fears that America's commitment to Berlin was fading.

The West Germans have demanded this symbolic reassurance although Rusk had said essentially the same thing in Washington five days ago.

"Free access to Berlin is a vital interest of the three Western powers as well as of the Federal Republic of Germany and any interference with such access can lead to a very grave situation," Rusk told the West German television audience.

He warned the Soviet Union and East Germany that the members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization "unanimously associated themselves with the determination of three powers to maintain freedom of access to Berlin."

The secretary, suffering from a painful infection of the urinary tract, originally was reluctant to visit Bonn but the West Germans forced his hand by issuing a public invitation. Rusk rejected a West German suggestion to also visit Berlin.

At Math Meet

Keith J. Kempton, Kingston High School, attended the annual national Advanced Placement Program Mathematics Conference of the College Entrance Examination Board at Lake Forest College last week.

Two hundred school and college teachers and administrators from throughout the nation gathered to review the new APP math syllabus and to discuss other topics, including implications of the computer for calculus and the use of videotape in mathematics instruction. Keynote speaker was Charles D. O'Connell, dean of students at the University of Chicago.

Gabrielson for Rocky

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Guy George Gabrielson has become the sixth former Republican national chairman to endorse Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller for the GOP presidential nomination.

Gabrielson, national chairman from 1949 to 1952, declared his support for the governor Wednesday.

"Nelson Rockefeller," he said, "will make a great president of the United States. . ."

The other former GOP national chairmen who have declared support for Rockefeller are Meade Alcorn, William B. Miller, Leonard W. Hall, Sen. Thurston Morton and Sen. Hugh Scott.

Gabrielson, a lawyer, lives in Bernardsville, N.J.

Jaycees Take Another Step In Red Hook

Nineteen young men from Red Hook ratified their Constitution and took another step toward affiliation with the United States and New York Jaycees. Sixteen have signed formal applications for membership. Only nine more applications are required for affiliation.

There were eight Jaycees from neighboring localities in attendance. Kingston, Vic Locke; Saugerties, Bob Martin, George Pardooner, Bob Saturn, Willie Edmunds, Ralph Childers; Woodstock, Paul DeLisio and John Spratt. Spratt served as guest speaker and gave a talk on "What is a Jaycee?"

The meeting was called to order by temporary chairman Phil White. The Constitution was presented by Terry Motala, temporary secretary and ratified by the membership. The following chairmen were appointed by White: Publicity, Jerry Motala; social, Bill Gilster; ways and means, Stan Pruzan; membership, Mark Chankus. Carl Stone was named temporary treasurer.

Dues have been set and the third Tuesday of each month has been designated as the regular meeting night. The next meeting will take place at The Motor Rest on Route 9 at 7:30 p. m., July 16. Chairman White urges all interested young men to attend the next meeting as officers for the coming year will be nominated and elected at that time.

Doubt Moscow OK On Risking Crisis

By STEWART HENSLEY

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Administration officials said today they thought it unlikely the Soviet Union would permit Communist East Germany to increase its harassment of trade and travel to West Berlin to the point of risking a crisis.

The reasoning in official Washington circles was that the Kremlin did not want to risk raising European tensions at a time when it faces increasing friction with some of the Communist East European countries and growing disarray in the Warsaw Pact—Moscow's answer to NATO.

The United States has warned the Soviet Union and East Germany of perils which might arise if the regime of Walter Ulbricht added to recent regulations requiring West Germans and residents of Communist-surrounded West Berlin to present passports with an East German visa in order to enter that country.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk, after a three-hour conference in Bonn Wednesday with Chancellor Kurt-Georg Kiesinger, warned that further interference with travel and trade would lead to a "very grave situation."

Rusk returned to Washington Wednesday night from the West German capital. He made a quick trip there in an effort to stiffen morale after attending the meeting in Iceland earlier this week of the NATO council.

NATO members passed a mild resolution saying that East Germany's actions threatened the growth of better relations between Eastern and Western European nations. NATO also expressed hope for eventual agreement with the Soviet Union on reciprocal reduction of forces on both sides of the Iron Curtain.

U.S. officials said, however, the Kremlin apparently has lost interest for the time being in any such mutual reduction, which the Soviet Union and some Communist East European countries previously proposed.

—Its hope that the erosion of the NATO military structure after France's withdrawal would lead to cuts in allied forces in West Europe without any similar action by members of the Warsaw Pact.

—Its unwillingness to consider reducing its garrisions in East Germany and other Eastern European countries at a time when Romania has virtually defected from the alliance. Czechoslovakia is showing signs of asserting greater independence, and even Poland is less cooperative.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Thursday, June 27, the 179th day of 1968. There are 187 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1844, Mormon leaders Joseph and Hyrum Smith were slain by a mob in Carthage, Ill. Brigham Young became head of the church.

On this date—

In 1759, the British general, James Wolfe, landed his forces opposite French Quebec in preparation for an attack.

In 1847, the cities of Boston and New York were connected by telegraph.

In 1880, the late Helen Keller, a world-famous educator of the blind, was born in Tuscumbia, Ala.

In 1936, President Franklin D. Roosevelt was nominated for a second term at a Democratic National Convention in Philadelphia.

In 1942, the FBI disclosed the capture of eight Nazi saboteurs who had gone ashore from a submarine on Long Island, N.Y.

In 1950, U.S. air and naval forces were ordered to help repel a North Korean invasion of the Korean Republic.

Ten years ago — A U.S. Air Force transport plane en route from Turkey to Iran lost its way in a storm and was shot down inside the Soviet Union.

Five years ago—Premier Levi Eshkol was organizing a new government in Israel.

One year ago—Pope Paul VI created the permanent rank of deacon in the Roman Catholic Church, reviving a practice of Christianity's early days.

Time for Progress

NEW DELHI (AP) — The machine age is finally coming to Indian road building.

Officials have imported three huge road-building machines as part of a major widening and strengthening of New Delhi streets. They decided the old system of hauling hand-mixed asphalt in baskets on the heads of workmen was too slow.

Shawangunk Fund Drive Commences

Door to door collecting is already under way to obtain funds for the Shawangunk youth recreation and swimming program.

According to Town Clerk Elizabeth Hammesfahr, the program will begin July 8 running, then, for the next six weeks.

Swimming instruction will take place at the Grove, a four-year-old man-made pond at the intersection of Route 300 and 208, just east of the Village of Wallkill.

A program director and five hired instructors, all with Red Cross life saving certificates, will be on hand to serve area youngsters.

The program actually began several years ago when faculty members from the Wallkill Central School formed a committee for swimming instruction and general swimming instruction.

The program was about to end last year when the Wallkill Chamber of Commerce formed another committee to take over the functions of the last.

There are currently nine directors on the committee.

Last year, some 299 area school children learned to swim or received advanced swimming instruction.

Some of the youths gained junior life saving status.

Urge Lomenzo For RFK Seat

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller was urged Wednesday by Republican leaders here to name Secretary of State John P. Lomenzo to the U.S. Senate seat vacated by the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

James R. Lawley and Alfonso V. Bellanca sent Rochefeller a telegram urging that Lomenzo be appointed to satisfy requests for "an outstanding, upstate Republican." Lomenzo is a former Rochester resident.

Lawley, Western New York GOP regional coordinator, and Bellanca, Erie County Republican chairman, had previously urged the governor to name Justice Walter J. Mahoney of the Supreme Court to the Senate. Mahoney allowed Bellanca to remove his name from consideration, a party spokesman said.

The telegram read in part, "We feel that he (Lomenzo) is a fine, outstanding, clean-cut honorable family man with a great background of dedication and service. We can assure you that the appointment to this high office of John P. Lomenzo would have great acceptance in our area."

Ten and Twenty Years Ago

June 27, 1948 — The Rev. Henry E. Herdegen of St. Peter's Church delivered the baccalaureate sermon to the high school graduating class.

Walter J. Fitzgerald, of Hoffman Street, a patrolman for more than 20 years, indicated he would apply for retirement.

Eugene O'Neil Jr. was named moderator for a Woodstock forum.

An Albany report said that state vegetable crops were making satisfactory progress.

* * *

June 27, 1958 — A 17-year-old girl, Miss Moira Rose Altevogy, was named Miss Saugerties at the Saugerties Area Chamber of Commerce Ball at the Flamingo Restaurant. The announcement, a closely guarded secret since the judging Saturday at Sack's Lodge, Katsbaan, was made by President George E. Thornton at midnight.

James Hicks, financial secretary of the Tillson Fire Company, made the first application for a bingo license with Rosendale Town Clerk, Miss Lillian C. Hyatt.

A low bid of $601,285.30 from Amsterdam Excavating Co. Inc., Amsterdam, for widening and resurfacing of a section of Route 209 near Kerhonkson was received by the State Department of Public Works. It was announced by John W. Johnson, superintendent.

Doubt Moscow OK On Risking Crisis

By STEWART HENSLEY

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Administration officials said today they thought it unlikely the Soviet Union would permit Communist East Germany to increase its harassment of trade and travel to West Berlin to the point of risking a crisis.

The reasoning in official Washington circles was that the Kremlin did not want to risk raising European tensions at a time when it faces increasing friction with some of the Communist East European countries and growing disarray in the Warsaw Pact—Moscow's answer to NATO.

The United States has warned the Soviet Union and East Germany of perils which might arise if the regime of Walter Ulbricht added to recent regulations requiring West Germans and residents of Communist-surrounded West Berlin to present passports with an East German visa in order to enter that country.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk, after a three-hour conference in Bonn Wednesday with Chancellor Kurt-Georg Kiesinger, warned that further interference with travel and trade would lead to a "very grave situation."

Rusk returned to Washington Wednesday night from the West German capital. He made a quick trip there in an effort to stiffen morale after attending the meeting in Iceland earlier this week of the NATO council.

NATO members passed a mild resolution saying that East Germany's actions threatened the growth of better relations between Eastern and Western European nations. NATO also expressed hope for eventual agreement with the Soviet Union on reciprocal reduction of forces on both sides of the Iron Curtain.

U.S. officials said, however, the Kremlin apparently has lost interest for the time being in any such mutual reduction, which the Soviet Union and some Communist East European countries previously proposed.

—Its hope that the erosion of the NATO military structure after France's withdrawal would lead to cuts in allied forces in West Europe without any similar action by members of the Warsaw Pact.

—Its unwillingness to consider reducing its garrisions in East Germany and other Eastern European countries at a time when Romania has virtually defected from the alliance. Czechoslovakia is showing signs of asserting greater independence, and even Poland is less cooperative.

Temple Emanuel

Sabbath evening services will be conducted at Temple Emanuel, 243 Albany Avenue, Friday 7:30 p.m. The title of Rabbi Jonathan Eichhorn's sermon is The Voice of Feeling, dealing with the influence of emotion on human behavior. The Torah portion will be Korach; Numbers Chapter 16. An Oneg Shabbat will be conducted in the social hall after the service.

During memorial services the memories of the following persons will be invoked: Samuel Meyer, Simon Newland, Rose Brown, George Greenberg, Augusta Wetterhahn, Benjamin Wolff and Milton Adler.

The Temple Board of Education and the faculty of the Temple Religious School will meet tonight 8 o'clock at the Temple. Plans for next year's religious education program will be discussed.

Time for Progress

NEW DELHI (AP) — The machine age is finally coming to Indian road building.

Officials have imported three huge road-building machines as part of a major widening and strengthening of New Delhi streets. They decided the old system of hauling hand-mixed asphalt in baskets on the heads of workmen was too slow.

Urge Lomenzo For RFK Seat

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller was urged Wednesday by Republican leaders here to name Secretary of State John P. Lomenzo to the U.S. Senate seat vacated by the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

James R. Lawley and Alfonso V. Bellanca sent Rochefeller a telegram urging that Lomenzo be appointed to satisfy requests for "an outstanding, upstate Republican." Lomenzo is a former Rochester resident.

Lawley, Western New York GOP regional coordinator, and Bellanca, Erie County Republican chairman, had previously urged the governor to name Justice Walter J. Mahoney of the Supreme Court to the Senate. Mahoney allowed Bellanca to remove his name from consideration, a party spokesman said.

The telegram read in part, "We feel that he (Lomenzo) is a fine, outstanding, clean-cut honorable family man with a great background of dedication and service. We can assure you that the appointment to this high office of John P. Lomenzo would have great acceptance in our area."

Ten and Twenty Years Ago

June 27, 1948 — The Rev. Henry E. Herdegen of St. Peter's Church delivered the baccalaureate sermon to the high school graduating class.

Walter J. Fitzgerald, of Hoffman Street, a patrolman for more than 20 years, indicated he would apply for retirement.

Eugene O'Neil Jr. was named moderator for a Woodstock forum.

An Albany report said that state vegetable crops were making satisfactory progress.

June 27, 1958 — A 17-year-old girl, Miss Moira Rose Altevogy, was named Miss Saugerties at the Saugerties Area Chamber of Commerce Ball at the Flamingo Restaurant. The announcement, a closely guarded secret since the judging Saturday at Sack's Lodge, Katsbaan, was made by President George E. Thornton at midnight.

James Hicks, financial secretary of the Tillson Fire Company, made the first application for a bingo license with Rosendale Town Clerk, Miss Lillian C. Hyatt.

A low bid of $601,285.30 from Amsterdam Excavating Co. Inc., Amsterdam, for widening and resurfacing of a section of Route 209 near Kerhonkson was received by the State Department of Public Works. It was announced by John W. Johnson, superintendent.

Shawangunk Fund Drive Commences

Door to door collecting is already under way to obtain funds for the Shawangunk youth recreation and swimming program.

According to Town Clerk Elizabeth Hammesfahr, the program will begin July 8 running, then, for the next six weeks.

Swimming instruction will take place at the Grove, a four-year-old man-made pond at the intersection of Route 300 and 208, just east of the Village of Wallkill.

A program director and five hired instructors, all with Red Cross life saving certificates, will be on hand to serve area youngsters.

The program actually began several years ago when faculty members from the Wallkill Central School formed a committee for swimming instruction and general swimming instruction.

The program was about to end last year when the Wallkill Chamber of Commerce formed another committee to take over the functions of the last.

There are currently nine directors on the committee.

Last year, some 299 area school children learned to swim or received advanced swimming instruction.

Some of the youths gained junior life saving status.

DEWEESE W. DE WITT

DR. A. M. FELDSHUH

The board of directors of the Mid-Hudson Heart Association elected Deweese W. DeWitt chairman of the board, and Dr. Alfred M. Feldshuh, Kerhonkson, president, at its annual meeting recently.

DeWitt, president of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Kingston, was re-elected for a one year term. He was the first president of the Ulster County Heart Association in 1964; chairman of the board after the merger of Ulster, Greene and Columbia Heart Chapters, and a long-standing member of the board of directors and the executive committee of the New York State Heart Assembly.

Dr. Feldshuh began his service to Heart in 1956. He is on the board of directors of the New York State Heart Assembly, and was recently chairman of the Chapter program committee. The proposed program of work for 1968-69 which he presented to the board included the following new programs: an audio-visual education program for physicians; participation in the Ulster County Interagency Council on Smoking and Health; physical fitness programs; nutrition program for cardiacs; expanded rehabilitation for stroke patients. The following established programs will be continued without interruption: cardiopulmonary resuscitation training; distribution of periodicals, pamphlets, films for professional and public education; research; rheumatic fever control and primary prevention; diagnostic services; and the annual Institute for Nurses.

Ulster County was further represented by George Rusk Jr., Marlboro, second vice-president and Jenner R. Kittle, Kingston, treasurer. Dr. Edward Ginouves, Hudson, was elected first vice-president; Mrs. James Stainislaw, Palenville, third vice-president and Robert A. Dyer, Craryville, secretary.

Dr. John A. Vosburgh, president for the year ending June 30, presented the president's report on the year's activities. Franklin S. Kelder, chairman of the Heart Fund Advisory Committee, reported 1600 volunteers in three counties raised over $52,000 during the February campaign, with Ulster County contributing $31,480. DeWitt presented Kelder with a certificate and medallion for five years of service to Heart.

Mrs. Vincent G. Connelly, Kingston, chairman of the membership committee, announced 79 members in the Association. As Volunteer Activities chairman, she reported on a planning meeting which set up the structure and aims for this new service volunteer program.

The Rheumatic Fever Control Program for Ulster and Greene Counties reached 125 and 41 patients, respectively, according to Dr. Paul Snapper, chairman, of Catskill. Mrs. Harry Warner, Hudson, reported on the nutrition planning program and the nominating committee, both of which she serves as chairman. Miss Katherine A. Bower, executive director, announced that seven educational programs and three cardiopulmonary resuscitation training programs had been presented recently to organizations.

The meeting concluded with the delegates to the New York State Heart Assembly reporting on the annual meeting in Syracuse, May 22-23.

Callaway Man of Surprises

By RAY BELL
Associated Press Writer

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — When Howard H. "Bo" Callaway suglested the Republican party might gain the support of third party presidential candidate George C. Wallace, it caused little surprise to those familiar with the Georgia political figure.

In a way, Callaway might be considered a man of surprises.

Until only a few years ago, he was a novice at politics and had been a lifelong Democrat.

Then, abruptly in 1964, he switched his party allegiance to support GOP presidential nominee Barry Goldwater. He then became the first Republican to represent Georgia in the U.S. House of Representatives since Reconstruction and later narrowly missed becoming governor of the state.

Most observers concede it was Callaway's political philosophy that caused him to switch parties in 1964. And, they say, this same philosophy may have ignited his recent remarks concerning Wallace.

According to Callaway, who now is Southern campaign manager for GOP presidential hopeful Richard M. Nixon, he told the Mississippi Republican Committee in a speech that "... maybe we can even get George (Wallace) himself on our side, because that's where he ought to be.

"I suggested that all who want a change... you've got to change through the Republican party," he said.

Even as a Democrat, Callaway had been conservative. Later, as a Republican representative, he voted against all federal welfare programs and opposed medicare, minimum wage legislation, grants for urban renewal and other Great Society programs of President Johnson.

"I reject the idea that the world owes me a living from the cradle to the grave," he said at one time. "I believe you do not cure poverty with charity, you cure poverty with hard work."

The son of Cason J. Callaway, founder of the Callaway Mills industrial empire, the handsome 41-year-old Callaway graduated from the U.S. Military Academy at West Point in 1949 with six letters in athletics and a scholastic record placing him in the top 10 per cent of his class.

He served with the 17th Infantry Division in Korea, leading a platoon from Inchon to the Yalu River, and later became an infantry tactics instructor at Ft. Benning, Ga.

When his father became ill, Callaway resigned from the Army and became president of Callaway Gardens, a vast tourist resort in west Georgia. Then, in 1966, he resigned from Congress to run for governor of Georgia and polled 3,039 more votes than his nearest opponent.

A write-in campaign, however, prevented either candidate from getting a majority and the U.S. Supreme Court threw the election into Georgia's predominantly Democratic state legislature. The legislature named Lester Maddox—a Democrat and runnerup to Callaway in the election.

MRS. THEODORE L. HUNT
(Lakeside Studio)

Garcia-Hunt Wedding

Miss Constance Garcia of 66 Hurley Avenue, Kingston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luis Garcia of Purley, Surrey, England, became the bride of Theodore Lansing Hunt, son of Mrs. Lansing Hunt of RD 3, Box 163, Kingston, on Sunday, June 23, at Kripplebush Methodist Church.

The Rev. C. Frederick Yohe officiated at the double ring ceremony. Mrs. Jacobsen provided traditional wedding selections. Arrangements of yellow carnations decorated the altar.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a sheath style gown in silk organza fashioned in a modified cage effect, featuring a chapel length panel train. Her silk illusion veil was shirred to a tiara of stephanotis and she carried a bouquet of daisies.

Mrs. Joseph Shields III of Stone Ridge, sister of the bridegroom, was matron of honor. She wore a pink silk organza gown in the sheath styling with an empire waist and accented with a satin bow at the waist. She carried a bouquet of pink daisies.

Kermit Hunt of RD 3, Kingston, was best man for his brother. Douglas Hunt of Kingston, brother of the bridegroom, served as usher.

After the wedding a reception for 30 guests was held at Skytop Restaurant.

The bride attended schools in Canada, Argentina, Michigan, Long Island. She will be graduated in August from State University College at New Paltz.

Her husband, an alumnus of Kingston High School and State University College at New Paltz, is a teacher at Saugerties Junior High School.

Mr. and Mrs. Hunt will reside at RD 3, Box 76, New Paltz.

TRAVEL TIPS FOR MOTOR TRIPS REVEALED IN QUIZ

With the arrival of summer, lots of us are planning trips by automobile. If you have never traveled any distance by car a number of questions will arise and you will enjoy your trip much more if you know the answers. The following quiz may help to solve a few of the more common problems. In speaking of motels in this quiz, I am not referring to the resort variety which require the same manners and behavior as a resort hotel, but rather to the wayside motels which cater to those "passing through."

1. A woman signs a hotel or motel register: (a) Mrs. John Jones; (b) Sarah Jones.

2. For a one - night stay in a motel one (a) leaves a tip for the maid; (b) does not leave a tip for anyone unless a special service has been performed.

3. When you stay for several nights in a motel (a) you tip the maid and others who may have served you; (b) you still need not tip anyone, since it is not a hotel.

4. In most motel dining rooms men (a) must wear jackets and ties; (b) may wear sport shirts as long as they are clean and neat.

5. When a couple arrives at a motel (a) the husband generally goes in to register alone; (b) the wife must accompany her husband to register.

6. It is (a) not necessary to make a reservation at a motel; (b) wise to make a reservation at least one night ahead.

7. Children, after a long day's trip in the car, (a) may be turned loose to run off steam; (b) must be supervised by their parents.

8. Motels are strictly "informal" (a) so parties may be held in motel rooms at any hour; (b) but the same rules apply to considering other guests as you do in the more formal hotel.

Remember these answers on your trip.

1. (a) This is one of the few cases where a woman signs using her husband's name.

2. (b) This is one of the traditional advantages of a motel.

3. (a) True. Extra service of any sort, as would be entailed in a long stay - over, merits a tip.

4. (b) Even large motels permit neat sports clothes for travellers. Not all, however, allow women to dine in slacks.

5. (a) Another advantage of a motel — a woman need not appear in the lobby in bedraggled travel clothes.

6. (b) On main highways and resort areas it is necessary to make reservations ahead, or to arrive very early in the afternoon.

7. (b) Much as mother and father may wish to say, "Run along and stretch your legs," it is not fair to the other guests.

8. (b) Always remember there are other guests, whose comfort must be considered.

Marriage Vows Taken

Anouncement of the marriage of Miss Linda Mae Ashlaw and Edward John Hoffman was made today to The Freeman. Miss Ashlaw is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfrid J. Ashlaw of Herrings and Hoffman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Hoffmon Sr. of 179 Murray Street, Kingston. The wedding took place at St. James Church, Carthage, with the Rev. Francis B. Ruddy officiating.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length bouffant gown of Chantilly lace and organza, styled with long lace sleeves, a fitted bodice and Sabrina neckline. The gown featured a tier of ruffles down the front and a detachable watteau train. A double crown of lace, trimmed with pearls and crystals, held her bouffant silk illusion veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses, lillies of the valley and baby's breath.

Miss Cheryl M. Gokey of Herrings was maid of honor for her cousin. She wore a floor length A-line gown of yellow lace and organza. A cluster of flowers and seed pearls held a matching veil and she carried a cascade bouquet of daisies and ivy.

Bridesmaids were the Misses JoAnn Astafan, Maureen Dalton and Marsha Kline who wore mint green gowns and headpieces fashioned identically to that of the honor attendant.

Miss Debbie Gagnon, cousin of the bride, was flower girl. Her brother Gregory Gagnon, served as ringbearer.

George F. Hoffman Jr., Kingston, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were Wilfrid R. Ashlaw of Herrings, brother of the bride; Thomas R Garrett, Carthage, cousin of the bride; and Jackie Heppner, Kingston, cousin of the bridegroom.

Jack Brigeland, organist, accompained Guy Smith who sang traditional wedding selections.

After the wedding a reception was held at the Sahara Restaurant.

For her wedding trip to the Pocono Mountains in Pennsylvania the bride selected a powder blue suit with white accessories and a white carnation corsage.

The bride, a graduate of Carthage Central School, was employed as secretary in the customer services department of St. Regis Paper Company, Deferiet. Her husband, an alumnus of Kingston High School, is a member of the U.S. Army Reserves, and is employed by IBM, Poughkeepsie.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoffman will reside at 292 East Chester Street, Kingston.

To Work Overseas

Miss Mary Lou Josefski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen J. Josefski of 88 Wrentham Street, Kingston, is one of 58 students from Keuka College, Keuka Park, who will study or work overseas this summer under the college's Keuka World-Emphasis Service program.

Garcia-Hunt Wedding

Miss Constance Garcia of 66 Hurley Avenue, Kingston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luis Garcia of Purley, Surrey, England, became the bride of Theodore Lansing Hunt, son of Mrs. Lansing Hunt of RD 3, Box 163, Kingston, on Sunday, June 23, at Kripplebush Methodist Church.

The Rev. C. Frederick Yohe officiated at the double ring ceremony. Mrs. Jacobsen provided traditional wedding selections. Arrangements of yellow carnations decorated the altar.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a sheath style gown in silk organza fashioned in a modified cage effect, featuring a chapel length panel train. Her silk illusion veil was shirred to a tiara of stephanotis and she carried a bouquet of daisies.

Mrs. Joseph Shields III of Stone Ridge, sister of the bridegroom, was matron of honor. She wore a pink silk organza gown in the sheath styling with an empire waist and accented with a satin bow at the waist. She carried a bouquet of pink daisies.

Kermit Hunt of RD 3, Kingston, was best man for his brother. Douglas Hunt of Kingston, brother of the bridegroom, served as usher.

After the wedding a reception for 30 guests was held at Skytop Restaurant.

The bride attended schools in Canada, Argentina, Michigan, Long Island. She will be graduated in August from State University College at New Paltz.

Her husband, an alumnus of Kingston High School and State University College at New Paltz, is a teacher at Saugerties Junior High School.

Mr. and Mrs. Hunt will reside at RD 3, Box 76, New Paltz.

TRAVEL TIPS FOR MOTOR TRIPS REVEALED IN QUIZ

With the arrival of summer, lots of us are planning trips by automobile. If you have never traveled any distance by car a number of questions will arise and you will enjoy your trip much more if you know the answers. The following quiz may help to solve a few of the more common problems. In speaking of motels in this quiz, I am not referring to the resort variety which require the same manners and behavior as a resort hotel, but rather to the wayside motels which cater to those "passing through."

1. A woman signs a hotel or motel register: (a) Mrs. John Jones; (b) Sarah Jones.

2. For a one - night stay in a motel one (a) leaves a tip for the maid; (b) does not leave a tip for anyone unless a special service has been performed.

3. When you stay for several nights in a motel (a) you tip the maid and others who may have served you; (b) you still need not tip anyone, since it is not a hotel.

4. In most motel dining rooms men (a) must wear jackets and ties; (b) may wear sport shirts as long as they are clean and neat.

5. When a couple arrives at a motel (a) the husband generally goes in to register alone; (b) the wife must accompany her husband to register.

6. It is (a) not necessary to make a reservation at a motel; (b) wise to make a reservation at least one night ahead.

7. Children, after a long day's trip in the car, (a) may be turned loose to run off steam; (b) must be supervised by their parents.

8. Motels are strictly "informal" (a) so parties may be held in motel rooms at any hour; (b) but the same rules apply to considering other guests as you do in the more formal hotel.

Remember these answers on your trip.

1. (a) This is one of the few cases where a woman signs using her husband's name.

2. (b) This is one of the traditional advantages of a motel.

5. (a) Another advantage of a motel — a woman need not appear in the lobby in bedraggled travel clothes.

6. (b) On main highways and resort areas it is necessary to make reservations ahead, or to arrive very early in the afternoon.

7. (b) Much as mother and father may wish to say, "Run along and stretch your legs," it is not fair to the other guests.

Music Scholarships for OCS Students

Harry Simon, dirlector of music at Onteora Central School, Boiceville, has announced the names of three OCS students selected to receive scholarships to the Summer Music Session at the University of Vermont. These scholarships are awarded to the most deserving students who are deeply interested in music and music education.

The recipients are: Barbara A. Narel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aleksander Narel of West Hurley; Linda Van de Bogart, daughter of Mrs. Helen Van de Bogart of Wittenburg Road, Mt. Tremper; and Kristine Pedersen, daughter of Mrs. Gunner Pedersen of Bearsville.

Miss Narel will represent the Onteora Chorus. Miss Van de Bogart will represent the OCS Orchestra and Miss Pedersen, OCS Band.

The Scholarship Fund for these sessions was established from proceeds of the annual Music Department spring concerts.

The chorus is under the direction of Earl Proper; orchestra is directed by Fritz Wolff; and Mr. Simon directs the band.

Six Weeks

The Summer Music Session at the University of Vermont will convene on June 30 and conclude August 11. The sessions offer boys and girls of high school and first year college levels unusual opportunity to combine stimulating musical activities with the most attractive features of University campus living.

Daily band, chorus, orchestra, ensembles, ballet and modern dance rehearals under inspiring conductors and teachers, courses dealing with the structure, analysis, and appreciation of music, a full and varied recreational program, and informal association with faculty members of rich musical background provides experiences that will be highly valued and long remembered.

The purpose of the summer sesssion is to broaden the musical horizons of these students and to strengthen their basic understandings, skills and knowledge vital to the growth of a musical person.

Noted Conductors

The band, chorus and orchestra are under regular conductors noted for their work in state and regional music festivals. Ballet and modern dance will be under the supervision of an outstanding teacher and former premier ballerina. All of the instructional staff are distinguished for their performing skill as well as for their successful experience as teachers.

The University of Vermont is situated on the crest of a slope rising from the shore of Lake Champlain, in the lake and mountain area of New England.

To the east of Redstone campus are the Green Mountains of Vermont and to the west are the Adirondack Mountains of New York.

The Misses Narel, Van de Bogart, and Pedersen, will be OCS seniors in September.

The public is invited.

Merry Mixers Elect

Mrs. Leo McCormack, newly elected chairman of Merry Mixers Club, accepted the gavel from Mrs. Richard Brightly at a recent meeting held at the home of Mrs. Thomas Seaman, Blue Mountain.

Program for the May meeting was "Salads," presented by Mrs. Brightly with special lettuce bread preparation by Mrs. Robert Brannon and Mrs. Frank Mignone. Several members prepared dressings to be served with the salads.

Dessert hostesses for the June meeting were Mrs. William Schmidt and Mrs. Fred Polizzi. Vacation slides and "Where To in New York State" was the program given by Mrs. Seaman.

Appreciation was extended to Mrs. Robert Brannon for her work on the scrap book.

The annual banquet was held June 8 at Maverick Inn.

Strawberry Festival

The strawberry festival of the Plutarch United Methodist Church will be held on Saturday at the Plutarch Church grounds located two and one half miles north of old Route 299 on Plutarch Road. This an-wide variety of homemade foods including fresh strawberries with all the fixings. Traditionally, the event has attracted large crowds from all over the Mid-Hudson Valley and provides a setting where old friends come together for a relaxing meal and fellowship.

In case of rain the festival will be held in the Fellowship Hall of the New Paltz Methodist Church.

Annual Picnic

The Saugerties Society of Little Gardens held their annual picnic recently at Seaman Park. Mrs. Morris Rosenbloom was hostess with Mrs. Earl Moore, Mrs. Brendan Dooley and Mrs. Robert Finger assisting at the barbecue.

After the picnic a short meeting was conducted by Mrs. Frank Greco, club president. The next meeting of the Garden Club will be held at the home of Mrs. Dorrence Baker on September 11.

Night in Monte Carlo

The Couples Club of Congregation Ahavath Israel will sponsor a gala night in Monte Carto Saturday at 9 p.m. in the Ahavath Israel social hall, 100 Lucas Avenue. The event is open to all members of the Congregation and their friends and guests. Refreshments will be served.

Immediately prior to the program, a short business meeting will be conducted by Murray Camhi, president of the Couples Club. At this time officers for the coming year will be chosen.

Serving on the planning committee for the event are Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lipton, Dr. and Mrs. Henry Jacobs, and Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Semilof. Reservations are requested and may be made with any member of the committee.

Church Sale

The Ladies' Society of the Krumville Reformed Church will hold a sale for the benefit of the church on July 13 from 9 a.m. at the Bradley Meadows Shopping Center in Woodstock.

"In April of 1851, Wesley Taylor was commissioned the first minister of this church. The first sermon preached was from Luke 12 - 21."

"March 24, 1852, an effort was made to raise funds for the support of the pastor by renting out as many pews as possible, but the weather 'proved too stormy to allow a large enough representation so the rental was postponed to April."

"October 25, 1854, the Honorable Colonel Zadoc Pratt of Prattsville donated the church bell."

Generous donations have played their part in keeping the Krumville Reformed Church active, evidenced by the above quotations from the church diary.

"The Lord rewards those who help his church."

Donations for the church rummage and bake sale may be made by phoning Mrs. Arthur Sutton in Krumville. Arrangements can be made for articles to be picked up.

Also the Misses Ida Woerner, Jean Freer, Robin Freer, Althea Stahl, Carol Stahl, Judy McGowan.

Marjorie Spiegel Receives Award

Miss Marjorie Sue Spiegel of 31 Janet Street, Kingston, will be the Skidmore College recipient of the Borden Company Foundation freshman prize scholarship. Her selection was announced today by Dr. Norma MacRury, dean of the college.

To qualify for the award, Miss Spiegel achieved the highest quality point ratio in the Class of 1971. Dean MacRury congratulated her by letter "on continuing the high quality of work already attested by your high school record and advanced placement in biology and English." Miss Spiegel is a graduate of Kingston High School.

Miss Spiegel will receive a certificate of citation and a $200 check from the Borden Company Foundation, which established the award to encourage academic achievement. Dr. Joseph C. Palamountain, president of Skidmore, will present the award at a special ceremony after Miss Spiegel returns to classes in the fall.

Miss Spiegel's name will be added to a plaque in the Skidmore Administration Building listing the names of all recipients of the award. In honor of her achievement, Kingston High School will receive a check from Skidmore for the purchase of books for its library.

Miss Spiegel is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Spiegel.

Hudson Valley Benefit

A successful piano-organ recital, given by pupils of Tonnesen's Music Studio in Mt. Marion, was held recently. Proceeds from the performance were donated to the Hudson Valley Philharmonic Orchestra maintenance fund. A contribution amounting to $200 was presented to the Headquarters of Hudson Valley Philharmonic in Poughkeepsie.

Wife Is Composer's Walking Memory Bank

By LORETTA COUREAS
Norfolk, Va., Ledger-Star

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — American composer Gene Gutche says that the greatest task in composing symphonic music is not in conceiving it but in the work that goes into writing out the material.

It is this great task of committing to paper the fruits of his creative endeavors that makes Marion Buchan Gutche indispensable to her composer husband.

"The creation of a piece may take seconds. Its publication in a finished symphony takes a great deal longer," Gutche said. "My wife has fallen victim to her own simple request to help me. I have taken advantage of her skill and willingness to the point that she has become absolutely necessary to my work."

Marion thinks of herself as Gene's walking memory bank.

Their home in White Bear Lake, Minn., offers the solitude Gene needs for doing his work.

"When he is in one of his creative periods, I have to get out of the house," Marion said. "He cannot stand any sounds. When he's finished I proofread his work and get it ready for publication."

Gutche praised his wife's knowledge of contemporary music. But he does not always agree with her and the arguments which evolve are sometimes so stimulating that they go on for hours.

They still laugh about the night their argument became so heated they left the dinner table to continue their debate in the living room. When they returned to the dining room, their pet dogs had devoured the sirloin steaks Gene had cooked for dinner.

"For the first several years of our marriage we lived in New York and Gene had very little success with anything," Marion said.

"I was born in Berlin and came to this country to get away from family pressures and expectations," Gene continues. "I had wanted to be a concert pianist but a broken wrist took care of that."

In 1945, Marion decided what Gene would do. As he tells it:

"She said to me, 'The only thing you're any good at is music, but you don't know anything about it. Get yourself an education. I'll scrub floors if I have to.' She didn't have to. Instead, through my wife, I met two very prominent men in Minneapolis who helped me get my masters and Ph.D."

The love of life which Gene and Marion Gutche feel is part of what he intends to put across in his music. He believes contemporary music should mirror life as it actually is.

Six Weeks

The Summer Music Session at the University of Vermont will convene on June 30 and conclude August 11. The sessions offer boys and girls of high school and first year college levels unusual opportunity to combine stimulating musical activities with the most attractive features of University campus living.

Daily band, chorus, orchestra, ensembles, ballet and modern dance rehearals under inspiring conductors and teachers, courses dealing with the structure, analysis, and appreciation of music, a full and varied recreational program, and informal association with faculty members of rich musical background provides experiences that will be highly valued and long remembered.

The purpose of the summer sesssion is to broaden the musical horizons of these students and to strengthen their basic understandings, skills and knowledge vital to the growth of a musical person.

Noted Conductors

The band, chorus and orchestra are under regular conductors noted for their work in state and regional music festivals. Ballet and modern dance will be under the supervision of an outstanding teacher and former premier ballerina. All of the instructional staff are distinguished for their performing skill as well as for their successful experience as teachers.

The University of Vermont is situated on the crest of a slope rising from the shore of Lake Champlain, in the lake and mountain area of New England.

To the east of Redstone campus are the Green Mountains of Vermont and to the west are the Adirondack Mountains of New York.

The Misses Narel, Van de Bogart, and Pedersen, will be OCS seniors in September.

Card Party

Clinton Chapter No. 445, Order of Eastern Star, will hold a pinochle card party on Saturday at Masonic Temple, 31 Albany Avenue, Kingston. Awards will be given and refreshments served.

The public is invited.

Merry Mixers Elect

Mrs. Leo McCormack, newly elected chairman of Merry Mixers Club, accepted the gavel from Mrs. Richard Brightly at a recent meeting held at the home of Mrs. Thomas Seaman, Blue Mountain.

Program for the May meeting was "Salads," presented by Mrs. Brightly with special lettuce bread preparation by Mrs. Robert Brannon and Mrs. Frank Mignone. Several members prepared dressings to be served with the salads.

Dessert hostesses for the June meeting were Mrs. William Schmidt and Mrs. Fred Polizzi. Vacation slides and "Where To in New York State" was the program given by Mrs. Seaman.

Appreciation was extended to Mrs. Robert Brannon for her work on the scrap book.

The annual banquet was held June 8 at Maverick Inn.

Strawberry Festival

The strawberry festival of the Plutarch United Methodist Church will be held on Saturday at the Plutarch Church grounds located two and one half miles north of old Route 299 on Plutarch Road. This annual wide variety of homemade foods including fresh strawberries with all the fixings. Traditionally, the event has attracted large crowds from all over the Mid-Hudson Valley and provides a setting where old friends come together for a relaxing meal and fellowship.

In case of rain the festival will be held in the Fellowship Hall of the New Paltz Methodist Church.

Annual Picnic

The Saugerties Society of Little Gardens held their annual picnic recently at Seaman Park. Mrs. Morris Rosenbloom was hostess with Mrs. Earl Moore, Mrs. Brendan Dooley and Mrs. Robert Finger assisting at the barbecue.

After the picnic a short meeting was conducted by Mrs. Frank Greco, club president. The next meeting of the Garden Club will be held at the home of Mrs. Dorrence Baker on September 11.

Night in Monte Carlo

The Couples Club of Congregation Ahavath Israel will sponsor a gala night in Monte Carto Saturday at 9 p.m. in the Ahavath Israel social hall, 100 Lucas Avenue. The event is open to all members of the Congregation and their friends and guests. Refreshments will be served.

Immediately prior to the program, a short business meeting will be conducted by Murray Camhi, president of the Couples Club. At this time officers for the coming year will be chosen.

Serving on the planning committee for the event are Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lipton, Dr. and Mrs. Henry Jacobs, and Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Semilof. Reservations are requested and may be made with any member of the committee.

Church Sale

The Ladies' Society of the Krumville Reformed Church will hold a sale for the benefit of the church on July 13 from 9 a.m. at the Bradley Meadows Shopping Center in Woodstock.

"In April of 1851, Wesley Taylor was commissioned the first minister of this church. The first sermon preached was from Luke 12 - 21."

"March 24, 1852, an effort was made to raise funds for the support of the pastor by renting out as many pews as possible, but the weather 'proved too stormy to allow a large enough representation so the rental was postponed to April."

"October 25, 1854, the Honorable Colonel Zadoc Pratt of Prattsville donated the church bell."

Generous donations have played their part in keeping the Krumville Reformed Church active, evidenced by the above quotations from the church diary.

"The Lord rewards those who help his church."

Donations for the church rummage and bake sale may be made by phoning Mrs. Arthur Sutton in Krumville. Arrangements can be made for articles to be picked up.

Marjorie Spiegel Receives Award

Miss Marjorie Sue Spiegel of 31 Janet Street, Kingston, will be the Skidmore College recipient of the Borden Company Foundation freshman prize scholarship. Her selection was announced today by Dr. Norma MacRury, dean of the college.

To qualify for the award, Miss Spiegel achieved the highest quality point ratio in the Class of 1971. Dean MacRury congratulated her by letter "on continuing the high quality of work already attested by your high school record and advanced placement in biology and English." Miss Spiegel is a graduate of Kingston High School.

Miss Spiegel will receive a certificate of citation and a $200 check from the Borden Company Fourdation, which established the award to encourage academic achievement. Dr. Joseph C. Palamountain, president of Skidmore, will present the award at a special ceremony after Miss Spiegel returns to classes in the fall.

Miss Spiegel's name will be added to a plaque in the Skidmore Administration Building listing the names of all recipients of the award. In honor of her achievement, Kingston High School will receive a check from Skidmore for the purchase of books for its library.

Miss Spiegel is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Spiegel.

Hudson Valley Benefit

A successful piano-organ recital, given by pupils of Tonnesen's Music Studio in Mt. Marion, was held recently. Proceeds from the performance were donated to the Hudson Valley Philharmonic Orchestra maintenance fund. A contribution amounting to $200 was presented to the Headquarters of Hudson Valley Philharmonic in Poughkeepsie.

Wife Is Composer's Walking Memory Bank

By LORETTA COUREAS
Norfolk, Va., Ledger-Star

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — American composer Gene Gutche says that the greatest task in composing symphonic music is not in conceiving it but in the work that goes into writing out the material.

It is this great task of committing to paper the fruits of his creative endeavors that makes Marion Buchan Gutche indispensable to her composer husband.

"The creation of a piece may take seconds. Its publication in a finished symphony takes a great deal longer," Gutche said. "My wife has fallen victim to her own simple request to help me. I have taken advantage of her skill and willingness to the point that she has become absolutely necessary to my work."

Marion thinks of herself as Gene's walking memory bank.

Their home in White Bear Lake, Minn., offers the solitude Gene needs for doing his work.

"When he is in one of his creative periods, I have to get out of the house," Marion said. "He cannot stand any sounds. When he's finished I proofread his work and get it ready for publication."

Gutche praised his wife's knowledge of contemporary music. But he does not always agree with her and the arguments which evolve are sometimes so stimulating that they go on for hours.

They still laugh about the night their argument became so heated they left the dinner table to continue their debate in the living room. When they returned to the dining room, their pet dogs had devoured the sirloin steaks Gene had cooked for dinner.

"For the first several years of our marriage we lived in New York and Gene had very little success with anything," Marion said.

"I was born in Berlin and came to this country to get away from family pressures and expectations," Gene continues. "I had wanted to be a concert pianist but a broken wrist took care of that."

In 1945, Marion decided what Gene would do. As he tells it:

"She said to me, 'The only thing you're any good at is music, but you don't know anything about it. Get yourself an education. I'll scrub floors if I have to.' She didn't have to. Instead, through my wife, I met two very prominent men in Minneapolis who helped me get my masters and Ph.D."

The love of life which Gene and Marion Gutche feel is part of what he intends to put across in his music. He believes contemporary music should mirror life as it actually is.

-St. Louis Swifty, Gibson, Deals 47 Zeros-

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Momentum will be in Bob Gibson's corner when the St. Louis swifty resumes his pursuit of Don Drysdale . . . and collides head-on with Mr. Zero himself.

Gibson reeled off his fifth straight shutout . . . one short of the major league record set earlier this month by Los Angeles' Drysdale . . . with a four-hit 3-0 triumph over Pittsburgh in the opener of a doubleheader Wednesday night.

But Drysdale, whose shutout string ran out about the same time Gibson started picking up steam, proved he hasn't lost his magic by hurling 7 2-3 hitless innings on the way to his 200th career victory, a two-hit 2-1 nod over San Francisco.

Drysdale, who holds the all-time mark of 58 2-3 consecutive scoreless innings, and Gibson, with a string of 47 blanks intact, are due to oppose each other next Monday night at Los Angeles.

Pirates Rebound

The Pirates rebounded from their loss to Gibson and trimmed the National League leading Cardinals 3-1 in the nightcap. Cincinnati shaded the New York Mets 7-6, Houston nipped the Chicago Cubs 2-1 and Philadelphia slipped past Atlanta 3-2 in 11 innings.

Gibson, who started his string of shutouts with a 4-0 victory over Houston on June 6, two days before Philadelphia ended Drysdale's skein, struck out seven, walked none and continued to shrug off his run at the whitewash record.

"I really don't care about it, but everybody talks about it," said the big right-hander, 9-5 on the year. "If I set a record . . . fine. I don't really care.

"Shutouts are secondary. Get yourself preoccupied with shutouts and pretty soon you're behind. I'm not looking forward to a shutout. I'm looking forward to a win."

Help With Double

Gibson contributed a fourth-inning double to the Cards' attack and scored on Lou Brock's double. Mike Shannon homered in the eighth.

The Cardinals stopped Maury Wills' 24-game hitting streak in the second game, but the Pirates rallied behind Matty Alou, who collected three hits and drove in two runs. Ron Kline preserved the victory with a clutch relief job in the ninth.

Dave Marshall's pinch single with two out in the eighth deprived Drysdale, 10-4, of both a no-hitter and a shutout after the Dodger ace dug himself into a hole with a walk and a throwing error. Jim Hart's two-out single in the ninth was the only other San Francisco hit.

Hart Error Helped

The Dodgers gave Drysdale all the support he needed in the seventh inning, when Wes Parker doubled across one run and Hart threw wide to the plate for another.

New York rallied for three runs in the ninth, but Ted Abernathy pitched out of the jam and prevented the Mets from bringing their record to .500. Tony Perez socked a bases-loaded triple for Cincinnati in the fifth.

Chicago got only two hits off Dave Giusti in losing its 11th game in the last 12. Jim Wynn homered for the first Houston run and Giusti singled home the second.

Is Gibson String 48?

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—A controversy has developed over the number of innings Bob Gibson should be given credit for in his current scoreless streak.

The Cardinals are claiming 48—but baseball commissioner William Eckert thinks it should be 47.

The situation developed because in the first inning of his streak, Gibson gave up a homer and retired the next three batters. The Cardinals think Gibson should be given credit for those three outs or one more inning.

The Cards note that when Don Drysdale set the record earlier this season, it was counted at 58 2-3 when he was scored on with two out in the 59th inning. Drysdale got credit for that two-thirds of an inning. Gibson should get credit for his inning. When the Cards checked with Eckert, the commissioner said he thought it should be 47—but the Cards insist they're still counting it as 48.

Ironically, Gibson's next start will be Monday night in Los Angeles—and probably against Drysdale.

BIG DON DRYSDALE unwinds in 9th inning on his way to 200th major league win with a 2-hit, 2-1 performance over the San Francisco Giants. The Dodger pitching ace had a no-hitter going for 7 2/3 innings until a pinch hitter, Dave Marshall, singled to centerfield to drive in the Giants only run. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

Don Wanted "200" Over O-Hitter

By JOE SARGIS
UPI Sports Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—For a while there everyone was beginning to think Don Drysdale wasn't human.

That was while he was putting together a string of six shutouts and 58 2-3 innings of runless pitching to set a major league record.

Then, the bubble burst, as it inevitably had to, and the man they call "Big D" came back to earth.

"Now that the record is out of the way," said Don, shortly after suffering his first loss in nearly a month, "all I want to win is 10 games to reach 200." He was talking about 200 career victories, a plateau heretofore reached by 62 pitchers.

"If I get there," said Drysdale, "I'll be satisfied."

On Wednesday afternoon, in windswept Candlestick Park, Don got there and for a while it seemed he might really put frosting on the cake by doing it with a no-hitter.

Four Outs Away

Drysdale, now in his 13th big league season and all with the Dodgers, was just four outs away from a no-hitter when rookie outfielder Dave Marshall came off the bench in the eighth to line a single to center.

The blow not only ruined the no-hitter but scored San Francisco's only run in a 2-1 loss.

"He hit a good pitch," said Drysdale of Marshall's blow. "It was a fastball low and away. This may sound surprising, but I wasn't concerned with the no-hitter as I was with winning the game. Heck, what's a 2-0 lead anyway against a team with the hitters the Giants have. I wanted that victory more than any no-hitter."

He Knew About It

"I'd be a heck of a liar if I said I didn't know I was working on a no-hitter," Drysdale explained. "There wasn't a soul in the park who didn't know it so why shouldn't I when I was the most interested party?

"When Marshall got his hit all I could think of is what happens if the next guy hits, too. I'll tell you. I might have been taken out because another hit would have tied the score."

Drysdale started the fateful eighth by walking the pinch-hitting Jimmy Davenport. Then, Bob Bonds, who hit a grand-slam homer in his first big league game on Tuesday to sink the Dodgers, bunted just to the left of the mound. Drysdale picked up the ball and, in his haste, threw low to first for an error. Then, he nailed Hal Lanier on a pop to third and struck out pinch-hitting Ty Cline.

Marshall, who hasn't played a game in two weeks because of an ankle injury, came up to hit for Ron Hunt. He lined his hit to center scoring Davenport and sending Bonds to third.

"Oh, oh, I thought," said Drysdale, "here we go."

Fanned Willie McCovey

But he got Jay Alou on a pop to short and then had only the ninth to worry about. Don handled Willie Mays on an infield op and struck out Willie McCovey but Jimmy Hart singled to left for the second hit and there was Davenport to face again.

"Ordinarily I try to get the batters to hit the ball," said Drysdale, "but now I figured I needed a strikeout."

You guessed it, he struck out Davenport to end the game and then headed for a television interview with his 200th career victory tucked away.

What lies ahead now that Don has reached his primary 1968 goal?

"I really don't know," he said, "but it would be nice to win 20."

That sounds like a pretty modest second goal. Pretty human, too.

Two Divisions Seen Possible For National

NEW YORK (AP) — Baseball's executive council, heeding Commissioner William D. Eckert's call for a "united front," has recommended uniform scheduling and division play next year when the major leagues expand to 12 teams apiece.

Following a meeting in New York Wednesday, the five-man executive council, headed by the commissioner, unanimously recommended that the National League adopt a two-division setup and the American League retain the present 162-game schedule.

The two leagues will act on the recommendations in Houston July 10, the day after the All-Star Game in the Astrodome.

The American League has announced it will go to two divisions of six teams each and will cut its scheduled to 156 games followed by a playoff between division champions, with the winner advancing the the World Series.

Last month, the National League granted 1969 franchises to Montreal and San Diego, then later announced it would stay with one division and a 162-game schedule.

"I have always advocated that the two leagues moved forward jointly and present a united front with the common aim—what is best for the baseball public," Eckert said in calling for an end to inter-league differences over expansion.

Fears had been expressed that the excitement created by an American League pennant playoff between division champs would detract from the prestige of a National League pennant race in September.

Unanimous approval of the National League club owners is necessary for a switch to two divisions.

Under the American League's divisional split Kansas City and Seattle, the new clubs, will play in the Western Division along with Chicago, Minnesota, California and Oakland. Boston, New York, Washington, Baltimore, Cleveland and Detroit will be in the Eastern Division.

CINCINNATI (UPI) — Tony Perez' bases-loaded triple highlighted a four-run fifth inning which carried the Cincinnati Reds to a 7-6 victory over the New York Mets Wednesday night and gave Jim Maloney his eighth win of the season.

Rightfielder Cleon Jones fell down going after Perez' long drive and the ball dropped several feet beyond him as Pete Rose, Alex Johnson and Vada Pinson romped home.

The Mets sent Maloney to the showers when they rallied for three runs in the ninth inning. Ted Abernathy, taking over with none out, finally retired the side by getting Cleon Jones to hit into an inning ending force play with two on.

A single by Johnny Bench and a double by Tommy Helms gave the Reds one run off loser Dick Selma in the second inning. They added another in the fourth on a double by Bench and a single by Lee May.

The Reds' four-run explosion in the fifth came after the Mets scored a run in the top of the inning on a walk to Art Shamsky, an infield out and Al Weis' single.

Woody Woodward touched off the rally with an infield single. He moved to second when Rose was hit by a pitched ball and went to third when Alex Johnson's single to short center loaded the bases. Woodward came home on a wild pitch and Perez' triple followed after Pinson had been walked intentionally refilling the bases.

Alex Johnson singled the reds seventh run home in the sixth inning.

Drysdale, who holds the all-time mark of 58 2-3 consecutive scoreless innings, and Gibson, with a string of 47 blanks intact, are due to oppose each other next Monday night at Los Angeles.

Pirates Rebound

The Pirates rebounded from their loss to Gibson and trimmed the National League leading Cardinals 3-1 in the nightcap. Cincinnati shaded the New York Mets 7-6, Houston nipped the Chicago Cubs 2-1 and Philadelphia slipped past Atlanta 3-2 in 11 innings.

Gibson, who started his string of shutouts with a 4-0 victory over Houston on June 6, two days before Philadelphia ended Drysdale's skein, struck out seven, walked none and continued to shrug off his run at the whitewash record.

"I really don't care about it, but everybody talks about it," said the big right-hander, 9-5 on the year. "If I set a record . . . fine. I don't really care.

"Shutouts are secondary. Get yourself preoccupied with shutouts and pretty soon you're behind. I'm not looking forward to a shutout. I'm looking forward to a win."

Help With Double

Gibson contributed a fourth-inning double to the Cards' attack and scored on Lou Brock's double. Mike Shannon homered in the eighth.

The Cardinals stopped Maury Wills' 24-game hitting streak in the second game, but the Pirates rallied behind Matty Alou, who collected three hits and drove in two runs. Ron Kline preserved the victory with a clutch relief job in the ninth.

Dave Marshall's pinch single with two out in the eighth deprived Drysdale, 10-4, of both a no-hitter and a shutout after the Dodger ace dug himself into a hole with a walk and a throwing error. Jim Hart's two-out single in the ninth was the only other San Francisco hit.

Hart Error Helped

The Dodgers gave Drysdale all the support he needed in the seventh inning, when Wes Parker doubled across one run and Hart threw wide to the plate for another.

New York rallied for three runs in the ninth, but Ted Abernathy pitched out of the jam and prevented the Mets from bringing their record to .500. Tony Perez socked a bases-loaded triple for Cincinnati in the fifth.

Chicago got only two hits off Dave Giusti in losing its 11th game in the last 12. Jim Wynn homered for the first Houston run and Giusti singled home the second.

BIG DON DRYSDALE unwinds in 9th inning on his way to 200th major league win with a 2-hit, 2-1 performance over the San Francisco Giants. The Dodger pitching ace had a no-hitter going for 7 2/3 innings until a pinch hitter, Dave Marshall, singled to centerfield to drive in the Giants only run. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

Don Wanted "200" Over O-Hitter

By JOE SARGIS
UPI Sports Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—For a while there everyone was beginning to think Don Drysdale wasn't human.

That was while he was putting together a string of six shutouts and 58 2-3 innings of runless pitching to set a major league record.

Then, the bubble burst, as it inevitably had to, and the man they call "Big D" came back to earth.

"Now that the record is out of the way," said Don, shortly after suffering his first loss in nearly a month, "all I want to win is 10 games to reach 200." He was talking about 200 career victories, a plateau heretofore reached by 62 pitchers.

"If I get there," said Drysdale, "I'll be satisfied."

On Wednesday afternoon, in windswept Candlestick Park, Don got there and for a while it seemed he might really put frosting on the cake by doing it with a no-hitter.

Four Outs Away

Drysdale, now in his 13th big league season and all with the Dodgers, was just four outs away from a no-hitter when rookie outfielder Dave Marshall came off the bench in the eighth to line a single to center.

The blow not only ruined the no-hitter but scored San Francisco's only run in a 2-1 loss.

"He hit a good pitch," said Drysdale of Marshall's blow. "It was a fastball low and away. This may sound surprising, but I wasn't concerned with the no-hitter as I was with winning the game. Heck, what's a 2-0 lead anyway against a team with the hitters the Giants have. I wanted that victory more than any no-hitter."

He Knew About It

"I'd be a heck of a liar if I said I didn't know I was working on a no-hitter," Drysdale explained. "There wasn't a soul in the park who didn't know it so why shouldn't I when I was the most interested party?

"When Marshall got his hit all I could think of is what happens if the next guy hits, too. I'll tell you, I might have been taken out because another hit would have tied the score."

Drysdale started the fateful eighth by walking the pinch-hitting Jimmy Davenport. Then, Bob Bonds, who hit a grand-slam homer in his first big league game on Tuesday to sink the Dodgers, bunted just to the left of the mound. Drysdale picked up the ball and, in his haste, threw low to first for an error. Then, he nailed Hal Lanier on a pop to third and struck out pinch-hitting Ty Cline.

Marshall, who hasn't played a game in two weeks because of an ankle injury, came up to hit for Ron Hunt. He lined his hit to center scoring Davenport and sending Bonds to third.

"Oh, oh, I thought," said Drysdale, "here we go."

Fanned Willie McCovey

But he got Jay Alou on a pop to short and then had only the ninth to worry about. Don handled Willie Mays on an infield op and struck out Willie McCovey but Jimmy Hart singled to left for the second hit and there was Davenport to face again.

"Ordinarily I try to get the batters to hit the ball," said Drysdale, "but now I figured I needed a strikeout."

You guessed it, he struck out Davenport to end the game and then headed for a television interview with his 200th career victory tucked away.

What lies ahead now that Don has reached his primary 1968 goal?

"I really don't know," he said, "but it would be nice to win 20."

That sounds like a pretty modest second goal. Pretty human, too.

Is Gibson String 48?

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—A controversy has developed over the number of innings Bob Gibson should be given credit for in his current scoreless streak.

The Cardinals are claiming 48—but baseball commissioner William Eckert thinks it should be 47.

The situation developed because in the first inning of his streak, Gibson gave up a homer and retired the next three batters. The Cardinals think Gibson should be given credit for those three outs or one more inning.

The Cards note that when Don Drysdale set the record earlier this season, it was counted at 58 2-3 when he was scored on with two out in the 59th inning. Drysdale got credit for that two-thirds of an inning. Gibson should get credit for his inning. When the Cards checked with Eckert, the commissioner said he thought it should be 47—but the Cards insist they're still counting it as 48.

Ironically, Gibson's next start will be Monday night in Los Angeles—and probably against Drysdale.

PITCHING—Bob Gibson, Cardinals, pitched a four-hitter for his fifth consecutive shutout and extended his scoreless inning string to 47 as St. Louis dropped Pittsburgh 3-0 in the first game of a doubleheader.

BATTING—Matty Alou, Pirates, slapped three hits and drove in two runs as Pittsburgh gained the split with a 3-1 second game victory over the Cardinals.

THE INFIELDERS for the 1968 American League All-Star team will be: Harmon Killebrew (UL) of the Minnesota Twins at 1st base, Rod Carew (UR) of the Minnesota Twins at second base, Jim Fregosi (LL) of the California Angels at Shortstop, and Brooks Robinson of the Baltimore Orioles (LR) at 3rd base. The announcement of the team was made yesterday. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

'500' Eludes Mets

CINCINNATI (UPI) — Tony Perez' bases-loaded triple highlighted a four-run fifth inning which carried the Cincinnati Reds to a 7-6 victory over the New York Mets Wednesday night and gave Jim Maloney his eighth win of the season.

Rightfielder Cleon Jones fell down going after Perez' long drive and the ball dropped several feet beyond him as Pete Rose, Alex Johnson and Vada Pinson romped home.

The Mets sent Maloney to the showers when they rallied for three runs in the ninth inning. Ted Abernathy, taking over with none out, finally retired the side by getting Cleon Jones to hit into an inning ending force play with two on.

A single by Johnny Bench and a double by Tommy Helms gave the Reds one run off loser Dick Selma in the second inning. They added another in the fourth on a double by Bench and a single by Lee May.

The Reds' four-run explosion in the fifth came after the Mets scored a run in the top of the inning on a walk to Art Shamsky, an infield out and Al Weis' single.

Woody Woodward touched off the rally with an infield single. He moved to second when Rose was hit by a pitched ball and went to third when Alex Johnson's single to short center loaded the bases. Woodward came home on a wild pitch and Perez' triple followed after Pinson had been walked intentionally refilling the bases.

Alex Johnson singled the reds seventh run home in the sixth inning.

Two Divisions Seen Possible For National

NEW YORK (AP) — Baseball's executive council, heeding Commissioner William D. Eckert's call for a "united front," has recommended uniform scheduling and division play next year when the major leagues expand to 12 teams apiece.

Following a meeting in New York Wednesday, the five-man executive council, headed by the commissioner, unanimously recommended that the National League adopt a two-division setup and the American League retain the present 162-game schedule.

The two leagues will act on the recommendations in Houston July 10, the day after the All-Star Game in the Astrodome.

The American League has announced it will go to two divisions of six teams each and will cut its scheduled to 156 games followed by a playoff between division champions, with the winner advancing the the World Series.

Last month, the National League granted 1969 franchises to Montreal and San Diego, then later announced it would stay with one division and a 162-game schedule.

"I have always advocated that the two leagues moved forward jointly and present a united front with the common aim—what is best for the baseball public," Eckert said in calling for an end to inter-league differences over expansion.

Fears had been expressed that the excitement created by an American League pennant playoff between division champs would detract from the prestige of a National League pennant race in September.

Unanimous approval of the National League club owners is necessary for a switch to two divisions.

Under the American League's divisional split Kansas City and Seattle, the new clubs, will play in the Western Division along with Chicago, Minnesota, California and Oakland. Boston, New York, Washington, Baltimore, Cleveland and Detroit will be in the Eastern Division.

Hanging out the wash on a day not fit for man, beast or Englishman:

If you aren't completely bored by local baseball, try to arouse yourself enough to visit Dietz Stadium tonight. There will be some remarkable young pitching talent on display in the game between the Kingston Braves and the Florida Comets, 1968 playoff champions of the Hudson Valley Rookie League.

Charlie Janes of Kingston and either Art or Gary Dross of Florida are worth a looksee.

(P.S. — Forget it! Game called. The Dietz Stadium drainage situation being what it is, it may be weeks before we see another game there).

YOU MAY NOT AGREE . . . BUT

I think TV producers who foist rehashes of the 1967-68 pro football season on the public in the middle of a rain-drenched baseball season should be arrested.

One last lingering thought — the Kingston High school baseball team should have been a lot better than its 7-5-2 record. What happened?

Mickey Mantle needs a minimum .286 for the remainder of the 1968 season to complete his major league career with a .300 batting average. His chances aren't good.

When I have the choice of watching the Mets or Yankees on TV, I invariably pick the Metsies. Their young pitchers make it worthwhile.

I never thought the Yankee broadcasting crew would ever come up to the Mets trio as pure hucksters but Messrs. Rizzuto, Coleman and Messer are giving it the good try.

MY DAY OF ATONEMENT:

In this business, you goof once in a while and promise to make amends—and then you forget.

So, to the young lady who called some time ago: Yes, it was Charlie Moore and not Charlie Janes who pitched to Andy Kosco in the batting exhibition before the Braves' Hudson Valley Rookie League opener at Dietz Stadium.

And to Stan Hankinson, the engineer-golfer: It's time to tell that Florida story about Al Schmid, the venerable Greens chairman at Wiltwyck Country Club.

It seems Mr. Schmid scored a hole-in-one on the famed Breakers course at Palm Beach last winter. It was a 139-yard effort. The next day, a typographical shank in the local blat recorded it as a 339-yard ace. We must assume the natives were duly impressed.

To Mrs. Craig Smith: Did you know that your husband is the youngest man ever to be voted into an area bowling Hall of Fame? That's what the record book says.

A YOUNG ACE DEPARTS:

The Kingston area loses its potentially finest young golfer when Eddie Byman goes to Colorado with his family.

Byman excelled in every sport—baseball, basketball and golf, his real forte. He led Kingston High School to its fifth straight DUSO championship, the Section 9 and placed second in the New York State high school golf championships. The brilliant showing of the 1968 team was a fitting memorial to their late coach, Harold Hathaway.

The young crop of golfers has failed to challenge the Big Four of Leon Randall, Bill Van Aken, George Hughes and Harvey Bostic. Had Buzzy Costello stayed in the area, he would have nudged his way into the select crowd. None of the others came close.

Byman looked like a real threat—and now he's gone.

FLOTSAM AND JETSAM:

Tony deLisio writes from Manchester, England that Wiggie is making a fine recovery from a successful hip surgery. She could resume her golf career next year.

We get the feeling that something has gone awry when junior baseball leagues have to use players as umpires. Don't these kids have any fathers?

Paul Buytkins' obvious preference for softball over baseball surprises many observers who figured he had major league potential.

The reversible battery in Little Leagues is an anachronism that should be abolished.

Ditto one hundred per cent handicap allotment in two-man, best-ball tournaments in golf.

The whole Mike Ferraro-Yankees episode doesn't make pleasant reading when all the facts are put on the table, but we'll get to that soon.

We hope Joe Frazier isn't dissauded from his announced intentions not to fight until Jimmy Ellis is the other guy in the ring. Any promoter who sends Frazier against any opponent other than Ellis also should be arrested.

Conley Leads Open Entrants

WALTON HEATH, England (UPI)—The British Women's Open golf championship, featuring a field of 64 qualifiers, including seven members of the U.S. Curtis Cup team, opened today over the 6,242-yard, par 75 "Old Course."

Peggy Conley of Spokane, Wash. led the Curtis Cuppers in Wednesday's qualifying with a two-over-par 77.

Miss Conley, whose 18-hole qualifying round was the best of the day, was trailed by fellow Curtis Cuppers Mrs. Ann Welts of Mount Vernon, Wash., and Shelly Hamlin of Fresno, Calif., both of whom shot 78's.

Robert Albers of Temple Terrace, Fla., had an 81, Phyllis Preuss of Pompano Beach, Fla., an 82 and Jean Ashley of Chanute, Kan., and Mary Lou Dill of Deer Park, Tex., both had 83's.

Brigitte Varangot of France, a two-time winner of the British title, had to fight for an 80 in the difficult qualifying test which began with 92 entrants.

No Game Today!

It's getting to sound like a broken record, but there will be no baseball at Dietz Stadium tonight. The Braves were scheduled to play the champion Florida Comets of the Hudson Valley Rookie League.

The Braves-Beacon contest set for Friday is also in serious jeopardy.

Oh, yes! Everything—but everything was rained out last night—again!

English Ketch Wins Yacht Race

NEWPORT, R.I. (UPI)—The 57-foot ketch Sir Thomas Lipton, skippered by English school teacher Jeffrey Williams, today was the first boat to cross the finish line at Newport in the singlehanded transatlantic yacht race.

Williams' yacht arrived in Newport Harbor at 2:28 a.m. (EDT), 26 days after setting out from Plymouth, England.

The 25-year-old Williams' victory in the race was not assured however, since he was slapped with a 12-hour penalty for failing to report to the race committee prior to the start of his voyage June 1.

He also faces possible penalty for passing between the Nantucket Light Ship and Nantucket Island, instead of going to the south of the lightship as called for in amended rules.

They're Talking Frazier-Quarry

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Talks centering around a possible bout between heavyweights Joe Frazier and Jerry Quarry are underway according to matchmaker Micky Davies.

Davies, who returned from New York Wednesday after meeting with Frazier's manager, Yank Durham, said he planned to meet today with Jack Quarry, the fighter's father and manager, and co-manager John Flores.

"Although Durham did not sign for the match, he told me he is definitely interested and within two weeks will come to Los Angeles to discuss the bout," Davies said.

He said there were indications that both fighters were interested in holding the bout in Los Angeles in September. Davies mentioned the Los Angeles Coliseum, with a potential capacity of 60,000 seats for boxing, as a possible site.

Boycott Alive Edwards Says

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — Reports of the death of the Negro Olympic boycott movement are premature, according to the leader of the effort, Harry Edwards.

Edwards, a San Jose State instructor, said Wednesday, "There's no question in my mind that there will be a boycott. I'm 100 per cent satisfied that the thing we have planned will be endorsed by the black athletes."

Reports from a meeting of Negro athletes after the Amateur Athletic Union's track meet in Sacramento, Calif., last week indicated that unless 75 per cent of the Negro athletes went along with the boycott it would be called off.

Edwards denied this, saying a meeting would be held at the Olympic trials in Los Angeles this weekend and that a decision about the boycott would be made then.

$1,000 for Pagano

Editor's Note: Because of mechanical difficulties Wednesday, the following article appeared in garbled form. It is being reprinted in deference to the winner and donor of the award.)

By CHARLES J. TIANO
Sports Editor

Michael (Mike) Pagano, 18-year-old Marlboro High School three-letter athlete, has been named winner of the first annual Miron Athletic and Scholastic Scholarship Award.

The $1,000 award, largest scholarship ever offered an Ulster County high school athlete, was announced today by Sam D. Greenspan, manager of Miron Bulding Products of Kingston.

Pagano, who enters Lycoming College at Williamsport, Pa., in September, won 10 varsity letters with the Dukes—four in baseball and three each in basketball and baseball. He is already established as one of the leading catchers in the mid-Hudson valley area.

Chosen From Sixteen

The 5-foot-9, 180-pound Pagano was selected from 16 candidates for the coveted award. The selections committee included Joseph W. Robertson, vice president of Kingston Trust Co.; Edward Palladino, assistant city editor, and Charles J. Tiano, sports editor of The Kingston Daily Freeman staff.

Greenspan, who conceived the idea for the scholarship several months ago, said the Miron company was highly pleased with the selection of Pagano.

MIKE PAGANO

"The selections committee was confronted with a very difficult task in choosing among all these talented student-athletes," said Greenspan. "But we think they made a commendable choice.

"Mike is an outstanding combination of student and athlete and certainly deserves the award," Greenspan added. "He has carried a strong academic program throughout high school and had an 82 average for the first three and one half years of his high school career. We're confident he'll continue the good work at Lycoming College."

Praised by Coach

Jack Kroh, athletic director at Marlboro High, described Pagano as a fine athlete, student, gentleman and a leader in all situations.

"Mike rates among our all-time great Marlboro athletes," said Kroh. "He was quarterback and All-UCAL on our 1967 football team. He captained the basketball and led with an 18-point average and batted .400 for our 1968 baseball team."

"Several major league baseball teams were interested in Mike," Kroh added, "but he chose to complete his education first. I think he has a great future in baseball after he finishes college."

Open to 10 Schools

The scholarship is open to all male athletes in the following Ulster County high schools: Kingston, Saugerties, Wallkill, Marlboro, Rondout Valley, Highland, New Paltz, Ellenville, Onteora and John A. Coleman.

To be eligible a student must have attended the high school he is graduating from for four years and must be planning to attend a four-year college. The award is based on athletic and scholastic accomplishments in high school.

Scholarship award must be used for school only. The money will be given to the student at the rate of $250 a year for four years. A check in the student's name will be sent to the college he chooses.

The recipient has six years in which to use the scholarship. If he is forced to leave college for the purpose of entering military service, he may return to college upon completion of service and use the remainder of scholarship money, provided it is done within a four-year period.

Working Press

By CHARLES J. TIANO
Sports Editor

Hanging out the wash on a day not fit for man, beast or Englishman:

If you aren't completely bored by local baseball, try to arouse yourself enough to visit Dietz Stadium tonight. There will be some remarkable young pitching talent on display in the game between the Kingston Braves and the Florida Comets, 1968 playoff champions of the Hudson Valley Rookie League.

Charlie Janes of Kingston and either Art or Gary Dross of Florida are worth a looksee.

(P.S. — Forget it! Game called. The Dietz Stadium drainage situation being what it is, it may be weeks before we see another game there).

YOU MAY NOT AGREE . . . BUT

I think TV producers who foist rehashes of the 1967-68 pro football season on the public in the middle of a rain-drenched baseball season should be arrested.

One last lingering thought — the Kingston High school baseball team should have been a lot better than its 7-5-2 record. What happened?

Mickey Mantle needs a minimum .286 for the remainder of the 1968 season to complete his major league career with a .300 batting average. His chances aren't good.

When I have the choice of watching the Mets or Yankees on TV, I invariably pick the Metsies. Their young pitchers make it worthwhile.

I never thought the Yankee broadcasting crew would ever come up to the Mets trio as pure hucksters but Messrs. Rizzuto, Coleman and Messer are giving it the good try.

MY DAY OF ATONEMENT:

In this business, you goof once in a while and promise to make amends—and then you forget.

So, to the young lady who called some time ago: Yes, it was Charlie Moore and not Charlie Janes who pitched to Andy Kosco in the batting exhibition before the Braves' Hudson Valley Rookie League opener at Dietz Stadium.

And to Stan Hankinson, the engineer-golfer: It's time to tell that Florida story about Al Schmid, the venerable Greens chairman at Wiltwyck Country Club.

It seems Mr. Schmid scored a hole-in-one on the famed Breakers course at Palm Beach last winter. It was a 139-yard effort. The next day, a typographical shank in the local blat recorded it as a 339-yard ace. We must assume the natives were duly impressed.

To Mrs. Craig Smith: Did you know that your husband is the youngest man ever to be voted into an area bowling Hall of Fame? That's what the record book says.

A YOUNG ACE DEPARTS:

The Kingston area loses its potentially finest young golfer when Eddie Byman goes to Colorado with his family.

Byman excelled in every sport—baseball, basketball and golf, his real forte. He led Kingston High School to its fifth straight DUSO championship, the Section 9 and placed second in the New York State high school golf championships. The brilliant showing of the 1968 team was a fitting memorial to their late coach, Harold Hathaway.

The young crop of golfers has failed to challenge the Big Four of Leon Randall, Bill Van Aken, George Hughes and Harvey Bostic. Had Buzzy Costello stayed in the area, he would have nudged his way into the select crowd. None of the others came close.

Byman looked like a real threat—and now he's gone.

FLOTSAM AND JETSAM:

Tony deLisio writes from Manchester, England that Wiggie is making a fine recovery from a successful hip surgery. She could resume her golf career next year.

We get the feeling that something has gone awry when junior baseball leagues have to use players as umpires. Don't these kids have any fathers?

Paul Buytkins' obvious preference for softball over baseball surprises many observers who figured he had major league potential.

The reversible battery in Little Leagues is an anachronism that should be abolished.

Ditto one hundred per cent handicap allotment in two-man, best-ball tournaments in golf.

The whole Mike Ferraro-Yankees episode doesn't make pleasant reading when all the facts are put on the table, but we'll get to that soon.

We hope Joe Frazier isn't dissauded from his announced intentions not to fight until Jimmy Ellis is the other guy in the ring. Any promoter who sends Frazier against any opponent other than Ellis also should be arrested.

Conley Leads Open Entrants

WALTON HEATH, England (UPI)—The British Women's Open golf championship, featuring a field of 64 qualifiers, including seven members of the U.S. Curtis Cup team, opened today over the 6,242-yard, par 75 "Old Course."

Peggy Conley of Spokane, Wash. led the Curtis Cuppers in Wednesday's qualifying with a two-over-par 77.

Miss Conley, whose 18-hole qualifying round was the best of the day, was trailed by fellow Curtis Cuppers Mrs. Ann Welts of Mount Vernon, Wash., and Shelly Hamlin of Fresno, Calif., both of whom shot 78's.

Robert Albers of Temple Terrace, Fla., had an 81, Phyllis Preuss of Pompano Beach, Fla., an 82 and Jean Ashley of Chanute, Kan., and Mary Lou Dill of Deer Park, Tex., both had 83's.

Brigitte Varangot of France, a two-time winner of the British title, had to fight for an 80 in the difficult qualifying test which began with 92 entrants.

No Game Today!

It's getting to sound like a broken record, but there will be no baseball at Dietz Stadium tonight. The Braves were scheduled to play the champion Florida Comets of the Hudson Valley Rookie League.

The Braves-Beacon contest set for Friday is also in serious jeopardy.

Oh, yes! Everything—but everything was rained out last night—again!

English Ketch Wins Yacht Race

NEWPORT, R.I. (UPI)—The 57-foot ketch Sir Thomas Lipton, skippered by English school teacher Jeffrey Williams, today was the first boat to cross the finish line at Newport in the singlehanded transatlantic yacht race.

Williams' yacht arrived in Newport Harbor at 2:28 a.m. (EDT), 26 days after setting out from Plymouth, England.

The 25-year-old Williams' victory in the race was not assured however, since he was slapped with a 12-hour penalty for failing to report to the race committee prior to the start of his voyage June 1.

He also faces possible penalty for passing between the Nantucket Light Ship and Nantucket Island, instead of going to the south of the lightship as called for in amended rules.

They're Talking Frazier-Quarry

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Talks centering around a possible bout between heavyweights Joe Frazier and Jerry Quarry are underway according to matchmaker Micky Davies.

Davies, who returned from New York Wednesday after meeting with Frazier's manager, Yank Durham, said he planned to meet today with Jack Quarry, the fighter's father and manager, and co-manager John Flores.

"Although Durham did not sign for the match, he told me he is definitely interested and within two weeks will come to Los Angeles to discuss the bout," Davies said.

He said there were indications that both fighters were interested in holding the bout in Los Angeles in September. Davies mentioned the Los Angeles Coliseum, with a potential capacity of 60,000 seats for boxing, as a possible site.

Boycott Alive Edwards Says

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — Reports of the death of the Negro Olympic boycott movement are premature, according to the leader of the effort, Harry Edwards.

Edwards, a San Jose State instructor, said Wednesday, "There's no question in my mind that there will be a boycott. I'm 100 per cent satisfied that the thing we have planned will be endorsed by the black athletes."

Reports from a meeting of Negro athletes after the Amateur Athletic Union's track meet in Sacramento, Calif., last week indicated that unless 75 per cent of the Negro athletes went along with the boycott it would be called off.

Edwards denied this, saying a meeting would be held at the Olympic trials in Los Angeles this weekend and that a decision about the boycott would be made then.

$1,000 for Pagano

Editor's Note: Because of mechanical difficulties Wednesday, the following article appeared in garbled form. It is being reprinted in deference to the winner and donor of the award.)

By CHARLES J. TIANO
Sports Editor

Michael (Mike) Pagano, 18-year-old Marlboro High School three-letter athlete, has been named winner of the first annual Miron Athletic and Scholastic Scholarship Award.

The $1,000 award, largest scholarship ever offered an Ulster County high school athlete, was announced today by Sam D. Greenspan, manager of Miron Bulding Products of Kingston.

Pagano, who enters Lycoming College at Williamsport, Pa., in September, won 10 varsity letters with the Dukes—four in baseball and three each in basketball and baseball. He is already established as one of the leading catchers in the mid-Hudson valley area.

Chosen From Sixteen

The 5-foot-9, 180-pound Pagano was selected from 16 candidates for the coveted award. The selections committee included Joseph W. Robertson, vice president of Kingston Trust Co.; Edward Palladino, assistant city editor, and Charles J. Tiano, sports editor of The Kingston Daily Freeman staff.

Greenspan, who conceived the idea for the scholarship several months ago, said the Miron company was highly pleased with the selection of Pagano.

MIKE PAGANO

"The selections committee was confronted with a very difficult task in choosing among all these talented student-athletes," said Greenspan. "But we think they made a commendable choice.

"Mike is an outstanding combination of student and athlete and certainly deserves the award," Greenspan added. "He has carried a strong academic program throughout high school and had an 82 average for the first three and one half years of his high school career. We're confident he'll continue the good work at Lycoming College."

Praised by Coach

Jack Kroh, athletic director at Marlboro High, described Pagano as a fine athlete, student, gentleman and a leader in all situations.

"Mike rates among our all-time great Marlboro athletes," said Kroh. "He was quarterback and All-UCAL on our 1967 football team. He captained the basketball and led with an 18-point average and batted .400 for our 1968 baseball team."

"Several major league baseball teams were interested in Mike," Kroh added, "but he chose to complete his education first. I think he has a great future in baseball after he finishes college."

Open to 10 Schools

The scholarship is open to all male athletes in the following Ulster County high schools: Kingston, Saugerties, Wallkill, Marlboro, Rondout Valley, Highland, New Paltz, Ellenville, Onteora and John A. Coleman.

To be eligible a student must have attended the high school he is graduating from for four years and must be planning to attend a four-year college. The award is based on athletic and scholastic accomplishments in high school.

Scholarship award must be used for school only. The money will be given to the student at the rate of $250 a year for four years. A check in the student's name will be sent to the college he chooses.

The recipient has six years in which to use the scholarship. If he is forced to leave college for the purpose of entering military service, he may return to college upon completion of service and use the remainder of scholarship money, provided it is done within a four-year period.

FLYING ON THE OUTSIDE — Is Prince Pence (4) with driver Noel Olin. They overtook Martha's Son (8-Story) to win a pace at Saratoga in 2:07.4. Owned by Harvey and Rhona Semilof of Lake Katrine, Prince Pence scored his third victory and upped his bankroll for the Semilofs to $6,500 since being claimed by them a year-and-a-half ago. (Saratoga Raceway photo).

Olin Had Just the Horse

Carte Blanche Was Boon to Semilof's

By MIKE HELFNER
(Freeman Sports Staff)

Giving someone "carte blanche" to buy something for you, more often than not, results in disappointment, disaster and disassociation with that person.

For Harvey and Rhona Semilof of Lake Katrine, just such a 'carte blanche" go ahead, given to Noel Olin, resulted in happiness, profit and the establishment and evolvement of a "new love and kick."

Olin, a trainer and driver of harness horses, was given the green light by the couple to purchase a pacer for them. "Not too expensive a horse, but a nice one that can win a few races," were the Semilof's instructions.

The Semilofs had been thinking about buying a standardbred for six months prior to giving Olin the request. Olin's immediate response was, "I've got just the horse in mind for you."

Olin had been thinking of buying this particular horse himself, but when the request came, decided this was the horse the Semilofs should start out with. He recommended a six-year-old pacing gelding named Prince Pence. The Semilofs agreed and Prince Pence was claimed the next time he raced. Price: $1,000.

From Good Line

Olin, a veteran of the sport, liked the gelding by Flying Pence, out of Polly Dares by Worthy Aristocrat, because he had such fine breeding. Prince Pence was supposedly unmanagable. The best trainers in the country had him and gave up, unable to get him into the race-winning habit. Olin succeeded where the others failed.

The purchase has been sheer joy for the proprietors of Federal Venetian Blind of Kingston. Pence, claimed at the tail end of 1966, races mainly at Saratoga where Olin, the Semilofs and Fred Ohl (who introduced Olin to the couple) are regulars. His last start of '66 was his first for the new owners. "He brought home some of the purse, a very nice way to begin relations with us." Harvey said.

In 1967, Prince Pence made it to the post seven times, all at Saratoga and added a trio more outings in 1968. Under the Semilofs, he has won three times, placed second three times and had a third. His winnings for the Semilofs is a little over $6,500. That's a PROFIT of $5,500.

New Lifetime Mark

Under Olin's tutelage, he racked up a new lifetime mark of 2:07 on the Spa's half-mile track, and in his first start this year, toured Green Mountain's five-eighths mile oval also in 2:07-flat.

"I've been a harness fan for roughly 10 years, and my wife is more of a fan than I am. Neither of us has seen a horse improve so much. He's racing in $2,500 claimers now, a big improvement over what he was before Noel got his hands on him. Noel's worked darn hard to bring him around," Harvey declared.

Prince Pence has been good to the couple and their 10-year-old daughter Marjorie. So good in fact, that the Lake Katrine family plans to have Olin purchase at least two, and probably more yearlings at this fall's Old Glory Auction Sales.

Is Top Handicapper

"I'm not bragging, but there are a great deal of people at Saratoga that think Marjorie is the best handicapper around. She has her own following up there and the veterans even trail her to see what she likes," Semilof proudly boasts.

Partial to pacers, the Semilofs are looking for horses eligible to the wealthy New York Sire Stakes. "No, we won't name a horse after Marjorie," but if she (the name) can bring us the luck Prince Pence did, we'll be doing real well," he declared.

"Whatever happens, whether we make money or not, whether we get a great horse or a dud, it'll be a big kick," Semilof laughingly said, "And when it stops being a kick, we'll get out."

Touring Americans Foiled by Soviets

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet Union national basketball team protected a six-point halftime advantage Wednesday night and went on to down the touring United States squad 91-83.

The Soviets led 42-36 at halftime.

The Americans moved to Moscow after taking an 84-78 decision at Minsk.

Wings Move Up On Strong Arms

By United Press International

After struggling through 10 straight games without a route going performance from their pitching staff, the Rochester Red Wings got two Wednesday night and moved up a notch in the International League standings, to second place.

In the first game of a twi-night doubleheader, Rick Delgado blanked the Louisville Colonels 4-0 on a five hitter. Mike Fiore's second-inning solo homer provided Delgado with all the scoring he needed.

Aubrey Gatewood surrendered a ninth inning run to the Colonels in the nightcap that tied the game 2-2 but the Red Wings pushed across the winning run in the top of the 10th. Gatewood allowed the Colonels just two hits as he posted his third victory in eight decisions.

In other action, Toledo edged Jacksonville 3-2 and Richmond nipped Buffalo 8-7 in 13 innings. Syracuse at Columbus was rained out.

Dick Drago of Toledo scattered seven hits for his eighth victory against three losses.

Tribute to Henry--From the Gang

By STEVE SNIDER
UPI Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UPI)--His fellow-workers paid Hank Aaron of the Atlanta Braves a dandy tribute the other day by electing him as the only repeater in the National League's starting lineup for baseball's annual All-Star game.

Hank was batting .236 at the time.

A low, low average like that normally is a kiss of death for All-Star candidates, regardless of glittering reputations earned in other years.

When the players, coaches and managers start marking their ballots, what counts most is "what has he done lately?"

Aaron hadn't done enough lately to lead the league in anything—13 homers and 39 runs batted in at that point—but he nudged into the lineup on the final tally of votes as the only holdover from last year's NL team and a squad member for the 14th time in his career.

The electors, at least this once, were paying tribute to Hank Aaron, ball player.

The Best — They Say

There are some who insist Henry still is the best all-around performer in the trade when you're counting all the skills as batsman, fielder, runner and thrower.

That takes in a long list of 100 per centers like Pete Rose of Cincinnati, Carl Yastrzemski of Boston, Ron Santo of the Chicago Cubs, Curt Flood of St. Louis, Robert Clemente of Pittsburgh, Tony Oliva of the Minnesota Twins and maybe a couple of pitchers—Don Drysdale of Los Angeles and Juan Marichal of San Francisco.

Pitchers usually aren't given a tumble but our favorite all-round player a few years back was Bob Lemon of Cleveland, who could run, field and hit as well as pitch.

HANK AARON in batting cage after learning National League players overlooked his .236 batting average to name him lone repeater on NL's All-Star team for 1968. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

Some Pick Clemente

In a recent press box debate over all-round stars, one picked Clemente as No. 1 over Aaron. Clemente has won four National League batting crowns.

An Aaron expert promptly retorted Hank has batted .300 or better 12 times to nine for Clemente. He has knocked in 100 or more runs nine times to twice for Clemente. Hank also is nearing the 500 mark in career homers.

And if you're looking for a clincher, Aaron made the all-star team on his reputation but Clemente didn't.

Willie Mays of the Giants, who has out-homered everyone but Babe Ruth, didn't make it, either. Willie was one who could do it all in his younger days when not many disputed his rating as the best all-round.

Yastrzemski and Rose, on current form, probably are the best 100 per centers of the moment. Rose led them all at the National League ballot box while Yaz, the triple crown batting champ, polled the second highest total in his league behind Bill Freehan of Detroit who was elected overwhelmingly as the starting catcher.

But when the NL voters elect a .236 hitter in the outfield, they're paying tribute to a man they still respect. That's H. Aaron.

Gayblade Wins Saratoga Trot

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Nardins Gayblade trotted the mile in 2:10 3-5 Wednesday night to capture the $17,400 Bostwick Division in Grand Circuit racing at Saratoga Raceway.

Nardins Gayblade whipped Adam Eden by two lengths. Determined Way was third.

At other harness tracks:

—Belajilly ($5) held gamely in the stretch to edge Sweet Trip by a neck in the $3,800 pace at Roosevelt Raceway. Todd Rainbow was third in the mile, timed in 2:04 1-5.

—Negresco and Irish Flower swept the two $1,500 paces at Vernon Downs. Irish Flower ($2.80) won easily over K.T. Painter and Akron Darling in a 2:11 3-5 mile. Negresco ($10.60) edged Sir Marvin and Keystone Treat in a mile timed in 2:13.

—Happy Dean ($11) romped to an easy win in the $1,600 pace at Buffalo Raceway. Akela Kay and Tennessee Breeze followed in the 2:07 race.

—Dede Hanover ($8) led wire to wire in the $1,200 trot at Monticello Raceway. Starflow was second and Partys Over third. The mile was timed in 2:09 2-5.

Volvos last an average of 11 years in Sweden. They average about a day and a half in our showroom.

Exactly how long a Volvo will last in America, we don't guarantee. But we do know that over 95% of all the Volvos registered here in the last 11 years are still on the road. We also know that whenever we get Volvos in stock, they don't stay there very long. Which brings up an interesting paradox about Volvos. Our customers like to buy them because they last. We like to sell them because they don't.

Dede Hanover Wins Veritans Club Race

MONTICELLO — Cheered on by hundreds of "early bird" participants in the annual charity outing of the Veritans Club of Paterson, N. J., Dede Hanover won the "Veritans Trot," the fourth race which featured Wednesday night's trotting and pacing program at the Monticello Raceway.

Driven by Bobby Camper, Dede Hanover led most of the way to finally turn back the challenge of Starflow by a head to triumph in 2:09.2. Leaving from the No. 3 post, the three-year bay filly by Caleb out of Dressy Hanover by Dean Hanover, went to the front at the outset and led Starflow, Clark Malady up to the three-quarters.

Dede Hanover was not challenged until the backstretch the second time around the Monticello track.

Malady pulled the gelded son of Star's Pride outside and was racing neck and neck right to the three-quarter pole. A step past that, Starflow edged out front by a nose but the lead was short-lived. Saving ground on the rail with last year's two-year-old filly trotting champion. Camper quickly got her back in the lead and she continued to take it by a head on the rain-soaked track.

Dede Hanover, the second choice at 3-1, paid $8.00, 4.20 and 2.60 to win.

The daily double combination of 1- and 3 Oui Byrd and Lucky Nose, returned $22.40.

This was Camper's 15th victory at Monticello Raceway, one behind leader Real Cormier. For the filly, it was her second success in four races this season here.

Muddy Battle Slippery Tie

CLEVELAND (UPI)—With a heavy rain ralling for nearly the entire game, the Cleveland Stokers and the New York Generals slipped and skidded to a 1-1 tie before 2,872 fans at Cleveland Stadium Wednesday night.

Although Cleveland dominated play in the opening minutes, New York scored first in the 29th minute as George Kirby converted a pass to the goal mouth by Julio Alas. The Stokers knotted the count in the 43rd minute when Enrique Matoes banged in the rebound of a header by Amancio Cid.

INTRODUCE YOURSELF

FLYING ON THE OUTSIDE — Is Prince Pence (4) with driver Noel Olin. They overtook Martha's Son (8-Story) to win a pace at Saratoga in 2:07.4. Owned by Harvey and Rhona Semilof of Lake Katrine, Prince Pence scored his third victory and upped his bankroll for the Semilofs to $6,500 since being claimed by them a year-and-a-half ago. (Saratoga Raceway photo).

Olin Had Just the Horse

Carte Blanche Was Boon to Semilof's

By MIKE HELFNER
(Freeman Sports Staff)

Giving someone "carte blanche" to buy something for you, more often than not, results in disappointment, disaster and disassociation with that person.

For Harvey and Rhona Semilof of Lake Katrine, just such a "carte blanche" go ahead, given to Noel Olin, resulted in happiness, profit and the establishment and evolvement of a "new love and kick."

Olin, a trainer and driver of harness horses, was given the green light by the couple to purchase a pacer for them. "Not too expensive a horse, but a nice one that can win a few races," were the Semilof's instructions.

The Semilofs had been thinking about buying a standardbred for six months prior to giving Olin the request. Olin's immediate response was, "I've got just the horse in mind for you."

Olin had been thinking of buying this particular horse himself, but when the request came, decided this was the horse the Semilofs should start out with. He recommended a six-year-old pacing gelding named Prince Pence. The Semilofs agreed and Prince Pence was claimed the next time he raced. Price: $1,000.

From Good Line

Olin, a veteran of the sport, liked the gelding by Flying Pence, out of Polly Dares by Worthy Aristocrat, because he had such fine breeding. Prince Pence was supposedly unmanagable. The best trainers in the country had him and gave up, unable to get him into the race-winning habit. Olin succeeded where the others failed.

The purchase has been sheer joy for the proprietors of Federal Venetian Blind of Kingston. His last start of '66 was his first for the new owners. "He brought home some of the purse, a very nice way to begin relations with us." Harvey said.

In 1967, Prince Pence made it to the post seven times, all at Saratoga and added a trio more outings in 1968. Under the Semilofs, he has won three times, placed second three times and had a third. His winnings for the Semilofs is a little over $6,500. That's a PROFIT of $5,500.

Under Olin's tutelage, he racked up a new lifetime mark of 2:07 on the Spa's half-mile track, and in his first start this year, toured Green Mountain's five-eighths mile oval also in 2:07-flat.

"Whatever happens, whether we make money or not, whether we get a great horse or a dud, it'll be a big kick," Semilof laughingly said. "And when it stops being a kick, we'll get out."

Wings Move Up On Strong Arms

By United Press International

After struggling through 10 straight games without a route going performance from their pitching staff, the Rochester Red Wings got two Wednesday night and moved up a notch in the International League standings, to second place.

In the first game of a twi-night doubleheader, Rick Delgado blanked the Louisville Colonels 4-0 on a five hitter. Mike Fiore's second-inning solo homer provided Delgado with all the scoring he needed.

Aubrey Gatewood surrendered a ninth inning run to the Colonels in the nightcap that tied the game 2-2 but the Red Wings pushed across the winning run in the top of the 10th. Gatewood allowed the Colonels just two hits as he posted his third victory in eight decisions.

In other action, Toledo edged Jacksonville 3-2 and Richmond nipped Buffalo 8-7 in 13 innings. Syracuse at Columbus was rained out.

Dick Drago of Toledo scattered seven hits for his eighth victory against three losses.

Tribute to Henry--From the Gang

By STEVE SNIDER
UPI Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UPI)--His fellow-workers paid Hank Aaron of the Atlanta Braves a dandy tribute the other day by electing him as the only repeater in the National League's starting lineup for baseball's annual All-Star game.

Hank was batting .236 at the time.

A low, low average like that normally is a kiss of death for All-Star candidates, regardless of glittering reputations earned in other years.

When the players, coaches and managers start marking their ballots, what counts most is "what has he done lately?"

Aaron hadn't done enough lately to lead the league in anything—13 homers and 39 runs batted in at that point—but he nudged into the lineup on the final tally of votes as the only holdover from last year's NL team and a squad member for the 14th time in his career.

The electors, at least this once, were paying tribute to Hank Aaron, ball player.

The Best — They Say

There are some who insist Henry still is the best all-around performer in the trade when you're counting all the skills as batsman, fielder, runner and thrower.

That takes in a long list of 100 per centers like Pete Rose of Cincinnati, Carl Yastrzemski of Boston, Ron Santo of the Chicago Cubs, Curt Flood of St. Louis, Robert Clemente of Pittsburgh, Tony Oliva of the Minnesota Twins and maybe a couple of pitchers—Don Drysdale of Los Angeles and Juan Marichal of San Francisco.

Pitchers usually aren't given a tumble but our favorite all-round player a few years back was Bob Lemon of Cleveland, who could run, field and hit as well as pitch.

HANK AARON in batting cage after learning National League players overlooked his .236 batting average to name him lone repeater on NL's All-Star team for 1968. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

Some Pick Clemente

In a recent press box debate over all-round stars, one picked Clemente as No. 1 over Aaron. Clemente has won four National League batting crowns.

An Aaron expert promptly retorted Hank has batted .300 or better 12 times to nine for Clemente. He has knocked in 100 or more runs nine times to twice for Clemente. Hank also is nearing the 500 mark in career homers.

And if you're looking for a clincher, Aaron made the all-star team on his reputation but Clemente didn't.

Willie Mays of the Giants, who has out-homered everyone but Babe Ruth, didn't make it, either. Willie was one who could do it all in his younger days when not many disputed his rating as the best all-round.

Yastrzemski and Rose, on current form, probably are the best 100 per centers of the moment. Rose led them all at the National League ballot box while Yaz, the triple crown batting champ, polled the second highest total in his league behind Bill Freehan of Detroit who was elected overwhelmingly as the starting catcher.

But when the NL voters elect a .236 hitter in the outfield, they're paying tribute to a man they still respect. That's H. Aaron.

Dede Hanover Wins Veritans Club Race

MONTICELLO — Cheered on by hundreds of "early bird" participants in the annual charity outing of the Veritans Club of Paterson, N. J., Dede Hanover won the "Veritans Trot," the fourth race which featured Wednesday night's trotting and pacing program at the Monticello Raceway.

Driven by Bobby Camper, Dede Hanover led most of the way to finally turn back the challenge of Starflow by a head to triumph in 2:09.2. Leaving from the No. 3 post, the three-year bay filly by Caleb out of Dressy Hanover by Dean Hanover, went to the front at the outset and led Starflow, Clark Malady up to the three-quarters.

Dede Hanover was not challenged until the backstretch the second time around the Monticello track.

Malady pulled the gelded son of Star's Pride outside and was racing neck and neck right to the three-quarter pole. A step past that, Starflow edged out front by a nose but the lead was short-lived. Saving ground on the rail with last year's two-year-old filly trotting champion. Camper quickly got her back in the lead and she continued to take it by a head on the rain-soaked track.

Dede Hanover, the second choice at 3-1, paid $8.00, 4.20 and 2.60 to win.

The daily double combination of 1- and 3 Oui Byrd and Lucky Nose, returned $22.40.

This was Camper's 15th victory at Monticello Raceway, one behind leader Real Cormier. For the filly, it was her second success in four races this season here.

Muddy Battle Slippery Tie

CLEVELAND (UPI)—With a heavy rain ralling for nearly the entire game, the Cleveland Stokers and the New York Generals slipped and skidded to a 1-1 tie before 2,872 fans at Cleveland Stadium Wednesday night.

Although Cleveland dominated play in the opening minutes, New York scored first in the 29th minute as George Kirby converted a pass to the goal mouth by Julio Alas. The Stokers knotted the count in the 43rd minute when Enrique Matoes banged in the rebound of a header by Amancio Cid.

Volvos last an average of 11 years in Sweden. They average about a day and a half in our showroom.

Exactly how long a Volvo will last in America, we don't guarantee. But we do know that over 95% of all the Volvos registered here in the last 11 years are still on the road. We also know that whenever we get Volvos in stock, they don't stay there very long. Which brings up an interesting paradox about Volvos. Our customers like to buy them because they last. We like to sell them because they don't.

Firemen and the City: Wage Dispute Goes to Court

By HUGH REYNOLDS

The firemen take their wage dispute with the city to court tomorrow in Albany at 10 a. m. in an effort to secure an additional $10,200 they feel they have coming as a result of their contract with the fire commissioners.

Revision Basis of Case

The firemen are basing their case on a Nov., 8, 1948 city charter revision which allows the fire commissioners to set salaries for the department. Local 461, Uniformed Fire Fighter's Association is represented by Attorney S. James Matthews.

The city is represented by its Corporation Counsel, Aaron E. Klein. City Clerk Thomas R. Lyle will acompany Klein to Albany for tomorrow's Supreme Court hearing.

AARON E. KLEIN

RAYMOND W. GARRAGHAN

ROBERT GOLLNICK

S. JAMES MATTHEWS

The firemen and the city have been at odds over wages since the commissioners set a salary schedule at a meeting Nov. 29, 1967, subsequently rejected by Mayor Raymond W. Garraghan and the Common Council.

The commissioners set a scale of a $1,100 raise for the chief, $1,000 for each of four deputies and $400 for the rest of the department. Garraghan, who had originally offered a $300 across-the-board raise, upped that to $350 which was approved by the Council, Jan. 22, 1968, as part of the 1968 budget. The police department has accepted the $350 raise.

The $10,209 cut came at that Jan. 22 Council meeting when the money was transferred to the contingency fund where it now rests.

Every Avenue Tried

The firemen have exhausted every means of negotiation under the Taylor Law, according to their Local 461 president, Robert Gollnick.

They negotiated a contract with the commissioners who were named bargaining agents by the Common Council and when that contract was rejected by Garraghan they met with a Garraghan-appointed Public Employe Relations Board. That board consisted of then-Alderman Raymond Armater (D-11th Ward), Frank Nadspel and Andrew Gilday.

The PERB has no power of decision but merely attempts to get the disputing factions together.

Mediator Summoned

The firemen then called in a mediator from the State Public Employe Relations Board who subsequently found complete favor in their position against the city.

The city, however, according to the firemen, ignored the finding of the mediator and took no action on his report, as required under the Taylor Law.

Eventually, Mayor Garraghan rejected the mediator's report and once again offered $350 across the board.

The next stage saw another State PEPB representative come to Kingston, Thomas Fitzgerald. He attempted to get the opposing factions together but there has yet to be an official report of his finding made public.

In the meantime, Garraghan made an offer of $500 for the chief, $450 for the deputies and $400 for the fireman which he said he relayed to Fitzgerald to take to the firemen. Fitzgerald subsequently said the firemen turned down Garraghan's offer.

June 10, in a news release, Gollnick notified the public that his organization was taking the city to court adding that a Local 461 offer to "cut their negotiated contract in half" was turned down completely by the city fathers.

Two Sides

One city father, Peter Mancuso, (D-Eighth Ward), chairman of the Common Council Finance Ways and Means Committee, told The Freeman he knew nothing of an offer from the firemen to cut their contract in half.

Mancuso has maintained that there are two sides to that 1948 charter revision the firemen will be basing their case on in court tomorrow. Mancuso agrees that the commissioners can set salaries but only with the money that is appropriated by the Common Council. In short, he maintains that appointed officials do not tell elected officials how to spend the taxpayers' money.

Lawyers from both sides are hopeful for a speedy decision after tomorrow's Supreme Court hearing.

Rhinebeck Birthday Fete This Weekend

The Village of Rhinebeck will observe its 282nd birthday with a two-day celebration this weekend which has been declared as Rhinebeck Historical Days.

Visit To Be Marked

One of the historic events to be commemorated is the visit of General Lafayette to Rhinebeck in June, 1834. At that time, Rhinebeck dignitaries General Morgan Lewis, Chancellor Robert Livingston and General John Armstrong were hosts to the famous soldier.

Lafayette was greeted at the Beekman Arms by the Village Fife and Drum Corps and a company of local militia under the command of Col. Henry B. Livingston.

A re-enactment of this event will take place at the Beekman Arms at 10 a.m. Saturday.

The St. Francis Ancient Fife and Drum Corps of Long Island City will perform the Von Steuben Continental Army Drill.

Other ancient drum and fife corps on review will be the Kip Hose Drum and Fife Corps of Poughkeepsie, the Continentals from Newburgh and the Dutch Arms Drum and Fife Corps of Rhinebeck.

Other Events

The celebration will also coincide with the antique hand-pumper muster of the New England Veteran Firemen's Association which is being hosted Saturday by the Rhinebeck Fire Department. The competition will get underway at 1 p.m. Saturday and will be preceded at 11 by a parade through the village.

Most of the pumpers were built before 1896, including "The Pocahontas," 109-year-old "hand-tub" belonging to Rhinebeck Fire Department.

On Sunday, activities will start at 9:50 a.m. with the decorating of graves of Revolutionary War soldiers located in the cemetery known as "God's Acres," adjoining the Dutch Reformed Church.

Walking Tour

A free walking tour of the village, under the direction of DeWitt Gurnell, president of the Rhinebeck Historical Society, will take place between 2 and 5 p.m.

Also on Sunday, between 2 and 5 p.m., a tour of historical houses never before opened to the public will be sponsored by the Historical Society. Tickets may be obtained at any of the houses on the tour as well as at the Beekman Arms and Rhinebeck Town Hall, during the afternoon of the tour.

Flower arrangements in the houses will be provided by members of Rhinebeck Garden Club, members of the Historical Society, and friends.

Refreshments will be served in the home of Mrs. Leavitt Sampson.

Proceeds from the house tour will benefit the future home of the Rhinebeck Historical Society.

The Junior Historical Society will show slides of further points of interest at 4:30 and 5 p.m. Sunday afternoon at Rhinebeck Town Hall.

A re-enactment of the scene that inspired the writing of the Star Spangled Banner is proposed for Legion Park, Sunday at 7:30 p.m.

Displays of historical interest have been placed in the Rhinebeck Pharmacy, Tieder Insurance, Battistoni Real Estate, Alexander's Dry Cleaning, Robert Fraleigh Insurance, the Village Office window and Robert Winnie's office window.

Historical markers have been placed on the Beekman Arms lawn and other significant spots throughout the village.

During the Revolutionary War, Rhinebeck was headquarters for such distinguished men as General George Washington, Benedict Arnold, Alexander Hamilton and others. Many a plan was formed and decision made at "Bogardus Tavern" (named after its innkeeper Everardus Bogardus) and today known as the Beekman Arms Hotel, oldest hotel in America, 1700.

Noted patriots of Rhinebeck included such names as Rutsen, Heermance, Montgomery, Livingston and Schuyler.

Marine League Plans for July Parade, Parley

The Ulster Detachment Marine Corps League, held its first business meeting for the new year last Thursday under the direction of their new Commandant, Raymond P. Malecki.

Discussed at the meeting were plans for participating in the Saugerties July 4 celebrations which will include a detachment color guard and the Young Marines Marching Platoon.

A report of the upcoming Marine Corps League New York State convention which will be held in Kingston July 11-13 was given by the convention chairman, Gilbert Gray. The Ulster Detachment Delegates to the convention will be Commandant Raymond Malecki, Gilbert Gray, Joseph Sullivan, Eugene White, Frank Rafaldi. Alternates, Dan Fochi, Kurt Gruber, John R. Mayone, James Shotzberger and Michael Stapleton.

An initiation ceremony was held, after which members formally welcomed Marines James Shotzberger of Kingston and Michael Stapleton of Ruby.

Pangburn, vice president and secretary of Colonial; Roland A. Augustine, president of Roland A. Augustine Inc., agency and Professor Neil N. Whitehurst, consultant. The recent workshop focused on The Agency Climate and was a part of Colonial's far-reaching and unique program to assist the company's professional independent agents to increase their growth potential through improved people-to-people communications. More than 30 agency representatives from throughout the state attended the meeting at the Gov. Clinton Hotel.

Two Appointed To Positions At Ferroxcube

The recently formed Magnetic Recording Division of Ferroxcube Corporation has announced the appointments of key personnel, according to James A. Robinson, general manager for the division.

Allen H. Michels has been appointed to the newly created post of marketing manager. He previously held the position of recording head product manager. Before joining Ferroxcube, Michels was manager of market and product planning for Nuclear Chicago Corporation's physican science instrumentation line. He is a graduate of Illinois Institute of Technology with a B.S. in mathematics and is a member of many professional societies.

John R. Gorecki has been appointed to the position of engineering manager for the division. He previously served as engineering manager for the recording head program department. He joined Ferroxcube in August, 1963 and is a member of the IEEE.

The Magnetic Recording Division produces electronic data processing heads, instrumentation recording heads and audio recording and playback heads.

Chemical Bank Promotes Eyles

Announcement has been made of the promotion of David L. Eyles, son of Mr. and Mrs. Irving L. Eyles of 24 Griffin Drive, Rolling Meadows to assistant vice president in charge of the Aerospace-Electronics group of the Chemical Bank of New York Trust.

Eyles, whose father is the executive vice president of the Rondout National Bank, graduated from Kingston High School in 1957. In June of 1961 he graduated from the Wharton School of Finance and Commerce of the University of Pennsylvania. He joined the senior training program of the Chemical Bank of New York Trust in July, 1961 and joined the Long Term Loan Department at that bank in 1963. In February of 1966, Eyles was promoted to assistant secretary of the department.

In January, 1968 the Chemical Bank of New York Trust formed a Special Industries Division to service companies in the fields of natural resources, transportation and communications, public utilities, and aerospace and electronics. Eyles joined the group handling the latter category at its inception and received his promotion shortly afterwards.

Eyles is married to the former Dagnija Eglars of Lakewood, N. J. and has two daughters, Denise 6, and Lisa 3.

The Eyles are presently residing at 422 Tappan Avenue, North Plainfield, N. J.

Allstate Notes Growth in Sales

Growth in New York sales volume made a notable contribution to the expansion of Allstate Insurance Companies in 1967, Regional Manager John K. O'Loughlin said today.

Allstate's casualty and fire premium writings for all lines in New York rose to $131,491,045, an increase of $9,583,067 over the previous year.

Companywide premium writings in 1967 vaulted over the $1,093,278,000, an increase of $155,209,000 from the previous year and the greatest amount of annual increase in the companies' history. Measured by premium volume, the companies are three and one-half times as large as they were in 1957.

O'Loughlin pointed out that while the accident rate for business remained nearly the same in 1967 as for 1966, the average cost of various classes of auto claims increased substantially in 1967.

Claim settlements throughout the company during 1967 increased to a record high of 3,330,000, up 11 per cent from the previous high of 3,001,000 in 1966. Claims settled in New York in 1967 totaled 312,469, an increase of 21,887 over the previous year.

Allstate employes in New York numbered 2,864 at year end 1967, as the companies' total employment increased to 27,491 during 1967. O'Loughlin said this total includes 7,885 professionally trained and licensed agents. The 8,480 claims people comprise the largest full time salaried claim staff in the business.

Rockefeller Is Appointed To IBM Managerial Office

The promotion of Robert L. Rockefeller to program manager in the Time Sharing Systems Development group has been announced by Dr. William B. Ittner III, manager of IBM's Kingston laboratory.

In his new position, Rockefeller will manage the TSS Programming Development group at Kingston, whose mission is to plan, code and test the Virtual Memory programs in TSS. These programs are integrated into the official TSS Releases at Mohansic.

Rockefeller joined IBM in 1949 as a customer engineer in New York City. He was transferred as a design engineer to IBM Poughkeepsie in 1953 and joined the FSD Command Control Center at Kingston in a similar capacity in 1955. He was named as associate engineer in the SAGE/BOMARC Compatibility Program one year later, staff engineer in mid-1957, and project engineer in Product Systems Design in late 1958. He was named development engineer in that group in mid-1959, and senior engineer in IBM 7030 data systems in July 1961.

In the fall of 1962, he was assigned to Current Systems Planning at Poughkeepsie and Kingston. Later that year, he was assigned to New Markets Development, and during 1964 headed up the F.A.A. System Design.

Early in 1966, he was assigned to TSS Systems Engineering and later that year to TSS Programming Development. He became manager of the VAM and Access Methods areas of TSS Development in early 1967. He assumed responsibility for the Kingston TSS Development area in March of this year, a post he has held until his present promotion.

ROBERT ROCKEFELLER

Rockefeller attended the University of Rochester and received a bachelor of science degree in mechanical engineering from Clarkson College of Technology, Potsdam.

He, his wife Mildred, and children William, David and Jane, reside in Red Hook.

New Dutchess Firm

P. T. Chin of Rhinebeck and his associates have organized the new Atto Laboratories, Inc., to be engaged in research, development, engineering, design, testing and construction of electronic equipment for computer and aerospace industries with special emphasis on miniaturization.

"Atto" is a newly created word adopted during the International Mathematical Terminology convention held at Geneva, Switzerland in 1964.

Mathematically, Atto means one millionth of one millionth of one millionth or ten to the minus eighteenth power. One of the widely used words in the electronic industry today "micro" such as micro-electronics, micro - miniaturization, microtechnology, micro - second) is one millionth.

Atto Laboratories is located at the former Mutual Specialty Building, East Market Street, Rhinebeck.

Banker Graduates

George D. Reisenauer, treasurer of Kingston Trust Company was graduated recently from the Stonier Graduate School of Banking at Rutgers, the State University, at New Bruswick, N. J. Reinenauer was among 305 bankers from all parts of the United States who were so honored.

The Stonier Graduate School of Banking, founded in 1935, offers graduate study in banking and finance. To qualify for graduation, Reisenauer attended three two-week resident summer sessions at the school, completed two years of intensive extension work, and wrote an original thesis. Reisenauer's topic, An Audit Approach for the Smaller Bank, was subjected to an oral examination by an expert panel as part of his thesis requirement.

Reisenauer also holds graduate degrees from the American Institute of Banking in Commercial Banking and Investment Banking. He has been guest lecturer at the Bank Administration Institute held at the University of Richmond, Va., and has been an instructor at local American Institute of Banking courses. He resides with his wife and four children at High Falls.

MIDLAND CHARGE PLAN "Put A Charge in Your Life"

Senate Unit Seeks Answers on Chicago's Blackstone Rangers

CHICAGO (AP) — Dusk drops over 63rd Street. And under the elevated train track, in the neon-lit pools before the barred store windows, the Blackstone Rangers gather.

They lounge in front of the liquor stores, passing cigarettes and wine bottles. They cluster in the pool halls, playing poker and shooting pool. Sometimes they shoot each other.

Who are the Blackstone Rangers?

Are they the big-time operators who reportedly shelled out $36,000 from the gang treasury to buy "enough marijuana to turn on the whole of Cook County?"

Are they just graffiti artists who delight in scrawling their "mighty Blackstone Rangers" war cry over every foot of wall and sidewalk in their South Side neighborhood?

Are the Blackstone Rangers a junior Negro mafia or just a bunch of trouble-prone but reform-minded kids?

A Senate subcommittee is seeking the answers to these questions. And it has heard testimony supporting these descriptions during its investigation into a $927,341 grant to the gang by the Office of Economic Opportunity.

Purpose of the OEO grant was to provide assistance in basic education and job training for gang members. The federal agency has described the program as an attempt "to test whether the mechanisms of the gang structures could assist in shifting attitudes toward productive adult citizenship."

"Let's face it, these gangs have turned into the black Mafia of Chicago, selling dope, prostitution, and engaging in extortion or doing anything for a buck," Warden Winston Moore of the Cook County jail told the subcommittee. Moore is a Negro.

"They are a community organization . . . of great influence and promise. They have used their organization to reduce violence and to create order in an otherwise chaotic environment," the Rev. John R. Fry, white pastor of the First Presbyterian church, testified before the subcommittee.

The Blackstone Rangers were organized six years ago by a small group of Negro youths who hung around the corner of Blackstone Avenue and 63rd Street, Sgt. Timothy Daly, acting commander of the Chicago Police Department's gang intelligence unit, said Tuesday.

He estimated the gang's membership at between 600 and 800 youths, ranging in age from 8 to 25. Of these, he said, only about 100 older high-school dropouts are hardcore Rangers.

However, George Rose, 23, once third in command of the Rangers, told the subcommittee the membership is between 6,000 and 8,000 He said the gang is ruled by an unofficial board of directors called the "Main 21."

The gang's operations center mainly in Woodlawn, an eight-square-block area on the Middle South Side. They also spread north into the University of Chicago community of Hyde Park and west into Englewood.

A disparate set of facts about the neighborhood serves to point up the conflicting opinions about the Rangers.

— The rate of assaults and other crimes of violence has declined in Woodlawn while rising sharply in other Negro areas.

— Despite this, there have been 29 fatal shootings in Woodlawn this year attributed to warfare between the Rangers and the East Side Disciples, a rival gang.

The South Side turf of the Rangers—they call it their "hood"—has had no riots. A peace meeting among leaders of both gangs took place after the shooting of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. The West Side was in flames at the time.

But, although the South Side escaped the looting and burning that scourged the West Side, some observers asserted it was the Rangers' cupidity rather than their peace-loving natures which kept the lid on. There were charges they extracted payoffs of up to $125 a week from South Side businessmen in return for protection.

Rocky Top Bill Signer

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller still may be struggling to win the nation's highest political honor, but he holds clear title to a homefront distinction: He's the champion bill-signer in modern New York State history.

That became clear Tuesday, when his press office reported that Rockefeller had approved 1,096 of the bills passed by the 1968 legislature. The total was the highest in 53 years, aides said.

On the negative side, the governor vetoed 319 of the 1,415 bills sent to him by the legislature this year.

Final figures were made available as officials closed the books on the so-called 30-day bill signing period, which ended Sunday midnight. The governor's office finished making announcements on his decisions Tuesday.

In the last flurry of weekend bill-signing activity, Rockefeller approved two "truth-in-lending" measures.

The measures require sellers and lenders to declare fully credit terms and interest rates to prospective consumers. Furthermore, they require sellers and lenders to give a fair statement of credit charges and interest rates in any advertising dealing with credit or interest.

The legislation becomes effective July 1, 1969. The delay in the effective date, Rockefeller explained in a memorandum, will give the legislature another year in which to compare the measures with the recently enacted federal laws governing the same activity. In addition, he said, it would give lenders and merchants "adequate time to adapt their business procedures to the requirements" of the law.

Winding up his consideration of bills for the year, Rockefeller also:

—Vetoed the so-called "amnesty" bill—a measure that would have authorized the elimination of the record of a person convicted of a misdemeanor, five years after completion of a sentence, provided the person kept his slate clean during the post-conviction period.

—Signed a measure creating the State Urban Job Incentive Board and establishing tax incentives to encourage private industry to move into urban core areas. The objective is more jobs for slum-area residents.

—Approved a measure to let New York City acquire the Brooklyn Navy Yard in order to establish facilities to create and improve job opportunities.

—Approved a bill to require applicants for zoning changes to disclose the names of state or local officials who might have an interest in such changes. The legislation was drafted in connection with recent zoning scandals uncovered in several Long Island towns.

—Vetoed a broader measure dealing with conflicts of interests of municipal officers and employes. Rockefeller conceded there was need for such legislation but said "this bill... would not constitute an advance in the field."

Public Hearing Set to Create River Channel

Plans for modifying a federal project to create a channel 600 feet wide in the Hudson River from New York to Kingston and a channel 400 feet wide from Kingston to Albany will be discussed at a public hearing in Albany on July 17.

Also included in the proposed project are a turning basin at Albany and anchorage areas near Stuyvesant and Hudson, all with depths of 32 to 34 feet. In addition, a shallow-draft channel 14 feet deep and 400 feet wide will be provided from Albany to the federal lock in Troy.

The channels will be widened at each bend in the Hudson River and also at the Troy and Albany locations to form harbors with a minimum depth of 12 feet. The overall length of the entire project, from New York to the barge canal at Waterford, is 155 miles.

The public hearing will be attended by representatives of federal, state, county, and municipal agencies. Discussions will be centered around the necessity for widening the entire length of the river.

N. J. Woman Killed

CANASTOTA, N.Y. (AP) — Mrs. Mach H. Carroll, 65, of Newark, N.J., was killed Wednesday when thrown from her automobile after it crossed the center mall and opposite traffic lane of the Thruway.

State Police said the vehicle apparently spun around and struck her as she was hurled from the car.

Her husband, 67, was injured in the mishap, which occured about four miles east of the Canastota interchange.

He was taken to Oneida City Hospital, where his condition was reported as good.

Collision Fatal

OSWEGO, N.Y. (AP) — Miss Hilda Streeter, 74, of Penn Yan, was killed Wednesday in the collision of a car and a pickup truck at the intersection of Routes 69 and 11, about 15 miles east of here, authorities reported.

She was riding in the car.

Congress And the Economy

WASHINGTON (UPI)— Congress' confession it lacks the ability or guts to cut federal spending has now been enrolled, engrossed, signed, sealed and delivered to President Johnson.

This is one confession the Supreme Court will never throw out, although before Johnson lets them hear the last of it our lawmakers almost surely will be claiming duress, ignorance, pressure, coercion, dirty pool and everything but unreasonable search and seizure.

None of these protests will hold up in court, and to the extent the electorate buys them it deserves to have its franchise revoked.

The fact is that Congress is now in the position of demanding a $6 billion cut in Johnson's budget (as its price for supporting his tax boost) after failing repeatedly to agree on what ought to be cut. It passed the economy axe to Johnson, and now is flexing its tonsils to scream no matter how he applies it.

Over the past year Congress has demonstrated in every way possible it wants economy, but not at the expense of saving any specific big money.

Appropriations almost always are cut, sometimes in ways that will actually mean a reduction in spending. But on money bills for next year handled so far the most optimistic projection is for a saving of about $1.9 billion.

As a matter of fact, the members in recent months have devoted much of their economy talk to telling Johnson where they did not want any application of the frugality they were demanding.

Areas about which significant numbers of lawmakers have said, "we are for cutting government spending, but this isn't the place," included the following:

Vietnam—Naturally, nothing is too good for our boys.

The Post Office Department—Save those Saturday deliveries, Mr. President; and as for the mailman, isn't it time this hardworking fellow, who calls on so many voters, was allowed another pay raise?

Highway construction—Don't be ridiculous; these roads are in congressmen's districts.

Farm price supports—These really save money; without them, there would be overproduction, then farm disaster, then national depression etc.

Rivers and harbors projects—Any effort to cut here would be solid evidence of presidential spite against congressmen who voted for the $6 billion cut; anyway, all these boondog . . . —uh, water resources projects—should be viewed as investments and must not be confused with spending.

Kiddie Show Staged by Elks As CP Benefit

An All Star Magic Revue with a kiddie and variety show will be presented this Saturday at the George Washington School by BPO Elks 550 of Kingston for the benefit of United Cerebral Palsy of Ulster County.

Warren McDowell, chairman of the event, announced that there will be two shows, one in the afternoon at 2:30 p.m. and one in the evening at 8. The show will be produced by Chet Harms Jr., of the Scott Brothers Kiddie and Variety Shows.

Cerebral Palsy was designated by the national Elks organization to be its primary charity 11 years ago. Dut to a shortage of trained personnel at that time, emphasis was placed on the education and training of occupational, physical and speech therapists. Today, all aspects are included in the program and at present New York State has 12 Elks Mobile Units completely fitted with equipment and therapists which travel to remote areas of the state to bring help and training to the cerebral palsied children. Last year $678,000 was contirbuted by the Elks on behalf of CP.

The organization was honored by Cerebral Palsy of NYS this month at a state meeting at Hotel Thayer in West Point for its outstanding efforts in community service on behalf of Cerebral Palsy.

In addition to cerebral palsy, the Elks also has such humanitarian projects as student scholarships, emergency education funds, and youth leadership awards.

Assisting McDowell are William Edelmuth, honorary chairman; John Wooley, Exalted Ruler of Elks 550, Bruce Miller and Albert Macholdt. Tickets are available and may be purchased at the door.

History and Fun at Woodstock Playhouse

By DOROTHY A. NAREL

Henry II, England, was a vigorous, hard-working man, skilled in diplomacy and a lover of the law. So write historians.

But in James Goldman's play, "The Lion in Winter," which opened last night at the Woodstock Playhouse under the direction of Joseph Leon, Henry II, played by versatile William Metzo of the Hudson Valley Repertory Theatre Company, is a vigorous adulterer, hard working, devious schemer whose diplomacy would leave most of Europe bewildered.

In the play, the King schemes and plots against his wife, sons and the King of France. Mother plots against husband, sons and whoever else may be in her dungeon path while her darling sons scheme against each other and both parents. The plots and counter plots are better than any Perry Mason thriller.

When it comes to amour, amour, father really loves mother because she is so devious, but he also loves his son's fiance while the son loves the King of France—a beautiful boy. Throw in an unloved son, a near idiot, you almost have enough material for a million soap operas.

The author, however, juggles his history and comedy with a capable hand and some of his comic lines are convulsing.

Metzo, whose credits include the National Shakespeare Company, gives his kingly role ample royal nurturing. His particular kind of delivery is ideal for the part.

The queen is played by Tanny McDonald, a very talented gal. Imprisoned by her King husband, she is given freedom only on state occasions and holidays. But it is the queen's part which comes through with most of the play's comic relief. McDonald, an accomplished singer and concert pianist, carries her difficult role with professional ease. Her gestures and stage presence are exceptionally good.

Margaret Cathall, an actress from repertory, mime, TV, movies, makes a lovely French princess-mistress in this play.

The king's sons John, Geoffrey and Richard Lionheart, are portrayed very capably by Gary Campbell, Gene Nye and R. Mack Miller, in that order.

John Glover makes a striking King of France. He played Romeo with the National Theatre Company and you can see why as soon as he makes his stage entrance.

"The Lion in Winter" is entertaining—is is different. It will be on stage through Saturday with curtain at 8:40 each evening. The cast was costumed by Mary Lou Schertz with scenery and lighting by Jerry Richland.

You might like to know that actually King Henry II does win over his sons even in a war with the landed barons. Despite his bed-hopping in Goldman's play, history has him pegged as being the developer of the jury system. I imagine he would almost need one if ever brought to trial.

Next week, M. Edgar Rosenblum, executive director, will present "Black Comedy," billed as one of the funniest plays of all time.

History and Fun at Woodstock Playhouse

By DOROTHY A. NAREL

Henry II, England, was a vigorous, hard-working man, skilled in diplomacy and a lover of the law. So write historians.

But in James Goldman's play, "The Lion in Winter," which opened last night at the Woodstock Playhouse under the direction of Joseph Leon, Henry II, played by versatile William Metzo of the Hudson Valley Repertory Theatre Company, is a vigorous adulterer, hard working, devious schemer whose diplomacy would leave most of Europe bewildered.

In the play, the King schemes and plots against his wife, sons and the King of France. Mother plots against husband, sons and whoever else may be in her dungeon path while her darling sons scheme against each other and both parents. The plots and counter plots are better than any Perry Mason thriller.

When it comes to amour, amour, father really loves mother because she is so devious, but he also loves his son's fiance while the son loves the King of France—a beautiful boy. Throw in an unloved son, a near idiot, you almost have enough material for a million soap operas.

The author, however, juggles his history and comedy with a capable hand and some of his comic lines are convulsing.

Metzo, whose credits include the National Shakespeare Company, gives his kingly role ample royal nurturing. His particular kind of delivery is ideal for the part.

The queen is played by Tanny McDonald, a very talented gal. Imprisoned by her King husband, she is given freedom only on state occasions and holidays. But it is the queen's part which comes through with most of the play's comic relief. McDonald, an accomplished singer and concert pianist, carries her difficult role with professional ease. Her gestures and stage presence are exceptionally good.

Margaret Cathall, an actress from repertory, mime, TV, movies, makes a lovely French princess-mistress in this play.

The king's sons John, Geoffrey and Richard Lionheart, are portrayed very capably by Gary Campbell, Gene Nye and R. Mack Miller, in that order.

John Glover makes a striking King of France. He played Romeo with the National Theatre Company and you can see why as soon as he makes his stage entrance.

"The Lion in Winter" is entertaining—is is different. It will be on stage through Saturday with curtain at 8:40 each evening. The cast was costumed by Mary Lou Schertz with scenery and lighting by Jerry Richland.

You might like to know that actually King Henry II does win over his sons even in a war with the landed barons. Despite his bed-hopping in Goldman's play, history has him pegged as being the developer of the jury system. I imagine he would almost need one if ever brought to trial.

Next week, M. Edgar Rosenblum, executive director, will present "Black Comedy," billed as one of the funniest plays of all time.

Stone Ridge Girl Earns Nomination

She is Patricia Mills, a senior at Rondout Valley High School.

Miss Mills was one of two nominees chosen from some 200 girls from all parts of the state.

The teenager was nominated by the 150 girls who make up the Nationalist Party, one of the two political units created to give the girls instruction in the American electoral system.

The Stone Ridge nominee will face Pam Borgiorno of Carle Place, Long Island, nominee of the Federalist Party, in an election to take place later today.

Winner of the gubernatorial election will be spotlighted at formal inauguration ceremonies to be held at the college tomorrow at 8 p. m. Walter J. Baker, executive deputy of the State of New York, will administer the oath of office.

The 300 high school seniors will be dressed in evening gowns for the occasion and there will be a candlelight march.

Also to be elected will be a lieutenant governor, attorney general, and comptroller.

For the Nationalists, Alice Lenihan of Pamona was nominated for lieutenant governor, Catherine Wygant of Rochester for attorney general, and Helen Weeks of Boston Spa for the state's top fiscal officer.

The Federalists nominated Leslie Humm of Oyster Bay for the second highest state office, Phillis Giacketti of Franklin Square for attorney general, and Clare Castet of Staten Island for the comptroller slot.

Yesterday saw the election of city and town officers and if any trend is to be found it would favor the Federalists.

The Federalists got six of their candidates elected to three for the Nationalists.

Jody Kashrwa of Old Forge was elected mayor on the Federalist ticket with Holly Curtis of Cooperstown receiving the plurality for county judge.

The Federalists also captured the vote with Nanette Feil of Cornwall for alderman-at-large, Paulette Graziano of Delmar for district attorney, Karen Zemanek of Binghamton as sheriff, Diane Lindars of Larchmont for county clerk.

Nationalists elected Jan Lloyd of Manlius for surrogate court judge, Sinia Lopez of New York City for commissioner of social services, and Pam Kast of Albion for county treasurer.

Chichester

CHICHESTER — Bernard Scanlon, a representative from Australia, spent a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Napier Dills and family.

The members and friends of Chichester Wesleyan Methodist gave a going away party for Rev. and Mrs. Philip Hemeon, who will be leaving in July to pastor the Brant Lake Wesleyan Methodist Church, and for their son David, who is leaving this week for the Air Force. Rev. and Mrs. Hemeon were given a purse of money. David was presented a travel kit by the Young People's Society. The party was held Saturday evening at the church hall.

Chris Selsing of Lanesville was taken to Greene County Hospital in Catskill last Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. Groenewold of Bayport, L.I., spent the weekend with his mother, Mrs. Frances Groenewold and his grandmother, Mrs. Chris Selsing.

Mrs. Burton Berrymann of Lanesville was taken to the Kingston Hospital on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Quick held an outdoor family barbecue Sunday afternoon in honor of their son James' graduation. Those present were Mrs. Laura Quick of Allaben, Mr. and Mrs. Richard C. Merton and family of Shandaken, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Berryann and family of Mount Tremper, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Quick and Carol and Sally Berryann of Lanesville, Dean Close of Phoenicia, and Rosetta and Melanie Quick.

Mrs. Carl Harrington and Mrs. Charles Thompson motored to West Point on Monday to bring Charles Harrington home for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. William DeKoskie and family of Poughkeepsie spent Sunday with her mother, Mrs. Barbara Caton.

Mary Dills, David Hemeon, and James Quick were in the graduating class at Onteora Central school Sunday.

Miss Janice Ostrander passed her road test recently and has a junior operator license. Mrs. Carol (Penny) Lane passed her road test last week and has her drivers license.

Those celebrating birthdays in July are Mrs. Habe Santora and Anthony Kirk, July 6; Linda Thim, July 9; Mrs. Fred Singer, July 11; Douglas Charles Osborne, July 12; Mrs. Donald Groenewold, Mrs. Ronald Sickler, Albert Lewis Parson and Melanie Ann Quick, July 15; Mrs. Walter Haughman, July 16; Raymond Conklin, July 18; James Quick, July 20; Mrs. Vincent Somerville and William Goff, July 22; Vincent Grant, July 26; Mrs. Harold Quick, July 26, and Mrs. Anthony Kirk and Edward Johnson, July 29.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Zicarelli will celebrate their 31st wedding anniversary on July 1; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Groenewold their fifth wedding anniversary on July 6; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Quick their 16th wedding anniversary on July 9; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Singer their wedding anniversary on July 12, and Mr. and Mrs. John Staiger their 35th wedding anniversary on July 15.

Driver Charged

Gerald Riagolot, 32, of RD 1, Swart Hill Road, Highland, was arrested at 10:45 p. m. Wednesday by Kingston State Police on a charge of driving a motor vehicle while intoxicated and operating a car while his license was revoked. Riagolot was arraigned by Troopers Patrick Sheehan and John McMickle before Kingston Town Justice Robert Ferrigan. The case was adjourned unto July 3 for preliminary hearing and the accused motorist was released in $300 bail. According to state police, the drunken driving charge is a felony as the defendant had previously been charged.

LBJ and Poor: Within the Law

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson says those concerned about the nation's poor people should "make appropriate representations and certainly express their viewpoints," but only within the law.

"I think that everyone in Washington in a position to serve the people of this country are going to do everything they can to aid the poor," the President said during a Wednesday news conference. He had been asked if any good purpose could be served by leaders of the Poor People's Campaign turning to civil disobedience.

The news conference was staged mainly to announce Johnson's decision to accept Chief Justice Earl Warren's offer to retire from the Supreme Court.

The President said he would nominate Associate Justice Abe Fortas to be chief justice, while federal circuit Judge Homer Thornberry of Austin, Tex., would take Fortas' seat on the high court.

On a range of other topics, Johnson said he was prepared to act on the bill calling for a $10 billion tax increase and a $6 billion slash in spending as soon as the customary review of government agencies affected is finished, probably in a day or two.

He also said he hopes to get his way with Congress on requiring registration of every gun in America and licensing of all gun owners.

Otherwise the conference produced results pretty much on the negative side. Johnson said that:

He knows of no basis for rumors of a U.S.-Soviet summit session or a presidential trip to Russia.

He is unable to evaluate reasons for intensified Communist pressure on West Berlin.

He preferred not to comment on the infiltration and ground situations in Vietnam or on some possible offensive.

Stone Ridge Girl Earns Nomination

She is Patricia Mills, a senior at Rondout Valley High School.

Miss Mills was one of two nominees chosen from some 200 girls from all parts of the state.

The teenager was nominated by the 150 girls who make up the Nationalist Party, one of the two political units created to give the girls instruction in the American electoral system.

The Stone Ridge nominee will face Pam Borgiorno of Carle Place, Long Island, nominee of the Federalist Party, in an election to take place later today.

Winner of the gubernatorial election will be spotlighted at formal inauguration ceremonies to be held at the college tomorrow at 8 p. m. Walter J. Baker, executive deputy of the State of New York, will administer the oath of office.

The 300 high school seniors will be dressed in evening gowns for the occasion and there will be a candlelight march.

Also to be elected will be a lieutenant governor, attorney general, and comptroller.

For the Nationalists, Alice Lenihan of Pamona was nominated for lieutenant governor, Catherine Wygant of Rochester for attorney general, and Helen Weeks of Boston Spa for the state's top fiscal officer.

The Federalists nominated Leslie Humm of Oyster Bay for the second highest state office, Phillis Giacketti of Franklin Square for attorney general, and Clare Castet of Staten Island for the comptroller slot.

Yesterday saw the election of city and town officers and if any trend is to be found it would favor the Federalists.

The Federalists got six of their candidates elected to three for the Nationalists.

Jody Kashrwa of Old Forge was elected mayor on the Federalist ticket with Holly Curtis of Cooperstown receiving the plurality for county judge.

The Federalists also captured the vote with Nanette Feil of Cornwall for alderman-at-large, Paulette Graziano of Delmar for district attorney, Karen Zemanek of Binghamton as sheriff, Diane Lindars of Larchmont for county clerk.

Nationalists elected Jan Lloyd of Manlius for surrogate court judge, Sinia Lopez of New York City for commissioner of social services, and Pam Kast of Albion for county treasurer.

Chichester

CHICHESTER — Bernard Scanlon, a representative from Australia, spent a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Napier Dills and family.

The members and friends of Chichester Wesleyan Methodist gave a going away party for Rev. and Mrs. Philip Hemeon, who will be leaving in July to pastor the Brant Lake Wesleyan Methodist Church, and for their son David, who is leaving this week for the Air Force. Rev. and Mrs. Hemeon were given a purse of money. David was presented a travel kit by the Young People's Society. The party was held Saturday evening at the church hall.

Chris Selsing of Lanesville was taken to Greene County Hospital in Catskill last Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. Groenewold of Bayport, L.I., spent the weekend with his mother, Mrs. Frances Groenewold and his grandmother, Mrs. Chris Selsing.

Mrs. Burton Berrymann of Lanesville was taken to the Kingston Hospital on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Quick held an outdoor family barbecue Sunday afternoon in honor of their son James' graduation. Those present were Mrs. Laura Quick of Allaben, Mr. and Mrs. Richard C. Merton and family of Shandaken, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Berryann and family of Mount Tremper, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Quick and Carol and Sally Berryann of Lanesville, Dean Close of Phoenicia, and Rosetta and Melanie Quick.

Mrs. Carl Harrington and Mrs. Charles Thompson motored to West Point on Monday to bring Charles Harrington home for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. William DeKoskie and family of Poughkeepsie spent Sunday with her mother, Mrs. Barbara Caton.

Mary Dills, David Hemeon, and James Quick were in the graduating class at Onteora Central school Sunday.

Miss Janice Ostrander passed her road test recently and has a junior operator license. Mrs. Carol (Penny) Lane passed her road test last week and has her drivers license.

Those celebrating birthdays in July are Mrs. Habe Santora and Anthony Kirk, July 6; Linda Thim, July 9; Mrs. Fred Singer, July 11; Douglas Charles Osborne, July 12; Mrs. Donald Groenewold, Mrs. Ronald Sickler, Albert Lewis Parson and Melanie Ann Quick, July 15; Mrs. Walter Haughman, July 16; Raymond Conklin, July 18; James Quick, July 20; Mrs. Vincent Somerville and William Goff, July 22; Vincent Grant, July 26; Mrs. Harold Quick, July 26, and Mrs. Anthony Kirk and Edward Johnson, July 29.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Zicarelli will celebrate their 31st wedding anniversary on July 1; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Groenewold their fifth wedding anniversary on July 6; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Quick their 16th wedding anniversary on July 9; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Singer their wedding anniversary on July 12, and Mr. and Mrs. John Staiger their 35th wedding anniversary on July 15.

Driver Charged

Gerald Riagolot, 32, of RD 1, Swart Hill Road, Highland, was arrested at 10:45 p. m. Wednesday by Kingston State Police on a charge of driving a motor vehicle while intoxicated and operating a car while his license was revoked. Riagolot was arraigned by Troopers Patrick Sheehan and John McMickle before Kingston Town Justice Robert Ferrigan. The case was adjourned unto July 3 for preliminary hearing and the accused motorist was released in $300 bail. According to state police, the drunken driving charge is a felony as the defendant had previously been charged.

LBJ and Poor: Within the Law

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson says those concerned about the nation's poor people should "make appropriate representations and certainly express their viewpoints," but only within the law.

"I think that everyone in Washington in a position to serve the people of this country are going to do everything they can to aid the poor," the President said during a Wednesday news conference. He had been asked if any good purpose could be served by leaders of the Poor People's Campaign turning to civil disobedience.

The news conference was staged mainly to announce Johnson's decision to accept Chief Justice Earl Warren's offer to retire from the Supreme Court.

The President said he would nominate Associate Justice Abe Fortas to be chief justice, while federal circuit Judge Homer Thornberry of Austin, Tex., would take Fortas' seat on the high court.

On a range of other topics, Johnson said he was prepared to act on the bill calling for a $10 billion tax increase and a $6 billion slash in spending as soon as the customary review of government agencies affected is finished, probably in a day or two.

He also said he hopes to get his way with Congress on requiring registration of every gun in America and licensing of all gun owners.

Otherwise the conference produced results pretty much on the negative side. Johnson said that:

He knows of no basis for rumors of a U.S.-Soviet summit session or a presidential trip to Russia.

He is unable to evaluate reasons for intensified Communist pressure on West Berlin.

He preferred not to comment on the infiltration and ground situations in Vietnam or on some possible offensive.

AN OPPORTUNITY

IN SALES

We are a well established company supplying the Christmas Club service to financial institutions through representatives operating in exclusive territories. Our men think for themselves, are personable, able to manage their own affairs and to work with little supervision. They travel a lot during the week within their territories and are good family men.

We seek a man from the Kingston area who will work hard for a good income. He will assume an established territory consisting of Eastern New York and the State of Vermont.

This is an unusual opportunity and we would like to find the right man for it. If you think you fit this picture, write in detail and in confidence to:

L. H. Watts, Vice President

AN OPPORTUNITY IN SALES

We are a well established company supplying the Christmas Club service to financial institutions through representatives operating in exclusive territories. Our men think for themselves, are personable, able to manage their own affairs and to work with little supervision. They travel a lot during the week within their territories and are good family men.

We seek a man from the Kingston area who will work hard for a good income. He will assume an established territory consisting of Eastern New York and the State of Vermont.

This is an unusual opportunity and we would like to find the right man for it. If you think you fit this picture, write in detail and in confidence to:

Dear Abby

Wants to be on Her Own

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
© 1968 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: I never thought I'd be writing to you, but nobody else will listen.

Abby, my mother is a first class A-1 square. I am nearly 13 years old and she treats me like I was four. She won't let me wear the kind of clothes I want. She won't let me use ANY make-up, and SHE tells me how I should fix my hair. I look like a creep. It is a wonder a boy will even look at me. I asked her if I could have boys come over and she said "NO, you are too young!"

She showed me something from your column about when a girl could be her own boss. You said when a girl can pay for her own education, buy her own clothes, pay for her room and board, dentist, doctor, and all that crud, she could be her own boss. Believe me, you didn't make any points with me.

What I want you to do, Abby, is to tell me how to convince my mother that I can be trusted with a boy. I am an honor roll student and it is time I had a few privileges. By the time my mother thinks I am "old" enough, nobody will want me.

NOWHERE GIRL

DEAR NOWHERE: Simmer down! I think your mother is right. Send me her name and address and I'll nominate her for MOTHER OF THE YEAR.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: There is a "swinger" who moved into our apartment building recently. She lives on our floor, and ever since she has moved in, my husband wants to empty the trash all the time.

She's big, blonde, and buxom, and I've never seen her in anything but a Japanese kimono.

I used to BEG my husband to take out the garbage, now he goes around the house looking for waste paper baskets to take to the incinerator room.

When he happens to see this lady in the hall, he stands around talking to her and getting his eyes full for 15 or 20 minutes. Should I worry?

DEAR WIFE: Not as long as he's in the hall.

THE WIFE

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I must disagree with you. You said, "Kissing, when inspired by honest affection, is instinctive. An inexperienced kisser may be clumsy at first, but with practice, he'll improve."

Sorry, but that wasn't true in my case. Before I met Joe I had been kissed by some talented amateurs. When I met Joe and started going with him, I discovered that he didn't know the first thing about how to kiss. I tried to teach him, but he never caught on. I married him anyway, and he still doesn't know how.

Abby, I just want to say that a man doesn't have to be an expert at kissing to show a woman how much he loves her. In fact, I regard my husband's uneducated kisses as all the more precious because it proves he hasn't been around very much.

LOVES JAMES P.

DEAR ABBY: This is for the woman who was so upset because her neighbor named her dog "Lester"—which was her husband's name. When I married my second husband I had three little girls by my first husband. Shortly after we were married, my husband bought three small pigs, and he named them ROSE, JOYCE, and MARIE after my daughters.

People say pigs are dumb, but they aren't. Those pigs knew their names, and when my husband would call, "ROSE, JOYCE, and MARIE," the girls and the pigs would come running.

Horoscope By SYDNEY OMARR

It's In The Stars

("The wise man controls his destiny . . . astrology points the way.")

FORECAST FOR FRIDAY, JUNE 28, 1968

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Accent on social activity, variety, change — creative interests are spurred. Day features pleasure, romance. Many restrictions are removed. Share good news with loved one.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Home affairs, domestic activity are accented. Harmony can be restored. You must make first gesture. Response will be favorable. Study property values. Profitable transaction is due.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): See persons, situations in realistic light. Forces tend to be scattered. Be flexible, but avoid waste. Utilize past experience. Remember friend who may be confined to home, hospital.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): You can add to possessions. Efforts pay dividends. Genuine bargain available if alert. Older individual guides the way. Don't permit pride to stand in way of progress.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Appeal spreads; popularity meter goes up. You are sought after; take the lead. Original methods are favored. Cycle is high. Your efforts are crowned with success. Timing is important.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Some around you may appear gloomy. Be considerate. Dispense good cheer. If optimistic, you can turn defeat into victory. Highlight inventiveness. No need to harbor secret fears.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Friends help make this a stimulating day. You could get idea which improves income from occupation. One who appears eccentric actually may have answers. Know this—respond accordingly.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Organize efforts. Career matters receive a boost. Act in an authoritative manner. If you are confident, others respond. Key is positive approach. Once you begin, follow through with vigor.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Now is time to settle details concerning projected journey. Strengthen ties with in-laws. Be aware of details. Don't overlook apparent minor matters. If thorough, this can be productive day.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Stress on receiving and paying — check with partner or mate. Be aware of subtle changes. Get finger on pulse of public Go with the tide. Money communication could prove significant.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Accent on co-operation with mate, partner. Wise to let others set pace. Stress harmony. Some who disagree merely need face-saving device. Turn on charm. If receptive, you gain valuable point.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Be considerate toward those who depend upon you. One who performs special service deserves compliment. Give today and you also receive. Shake off any tendency toward gloom.

IF TODAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY you are independent, original in approach to most projects. Some restrictions exist, but before too long a valuable, new contact boosts you toward success.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Cycle high for LEO, VIRGO, LIBRA. Special word to PISES: what you need comes your way.

South Plays for Gallery

By Oswald and James Jacoby

Sometimes we wonder if our presence as kibitzers may not affect the bidding and the play.

South was a pretty good player and we can only assume that the the way South played the dummy was the result of our being in back of him.

He started by letting the first spade run around to his queen. So far, just normal correct play. Then he ran off three diamond tricks in order to discard a club from dummy. Still normal correct play. At this stage of the proceedings any normal player would simply knock out the ace of trumps and make the contract, barring some bad trump break. But this South wasn't going to do anything that simple.

He proceeded to run off dummy's spades and take two club discards. West ruffed the fourth spade and looked around for new worlds to conquer. At this point West was down to six cards — two trumps — three clubs and the jack of diamonds. He could lead any card but the jack of diamonds and beat the contract but West had been rather surprised by the whole line of play and finally came to the conclusion that South still held the 10 of diamonds. After all, South had bid diamonds and his whole line of play had indicated that he had started with three clubs, not four.

Anyway, West led that jack of diamonds. South triumphantly discarded a club from dummy, ruffed in his hand, finally led a trump and made his contract.

South looked around for applause but the whole thing had been too much for us. We were already halfway out the door in full retreat.

Just for the record, we try to avoid four card major openings but would have opened one heart with the North hand, instead of one club.

sharp; expressive

After listening to the pungent remarks made by the guest speaker concerning the evils of modern man, the audience began to feel somewhat uncomfortable.

When he saw the bright, pungent colors of the new modern painting, the art critic hailed the work as a rare masterpiece.

The pungent odor of Limburger cheese, a scent which many people find offensive, filled the room where many guests were present.

When he happens to see this lady in the hall, he stands around talking to her and getting his eyes full for 15 or 20 minutes. Should I worry?

DEAR WIFE: Not as long as he's in the hall.

THE WIFE

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I must disagree with you. You said, "Kissing, when inspired by honest affection, is instinctive. An inexperienced kisser may be clumsy at first, but with practice, he'll improve."

Sorry, but that wasn't true in my case. Before I met Joe I had been kissed by some talented amateurs. When I met Joe and started going with him, I discovered that he didn't know the first thing about how to kiss. I tried to teach him, but he never caught on. I married him anyway, and he still doesn't know how.

Abby, I just want to say that a man doesn't have to be an expert at kissing to show a woman how much he loves her. In fact, I regard my husband's uneducated kisses as all the more precious because it proves he hasn't been around very much.

LOVES JAMES P.

DEAR ABBY: This is for the woman who was so upset because her neighbor named her dog "Lester"—which was her husband's name. When I married my second husband I had three little girls by my first husband. Shortly after we were married, my husband bought three small pigs, and he named them ROSE, JOYCE, and MARIE after my daughters.

People say pigs are dumb, but they aren't. Those pigs knew their names, and when my husband would call, "ROSE, JOYCE, and MARIE," the girls and the pigs would come running.

South Plays for Gallery

By Oswald and James Jacoby

Sometimes we wonder if our presence as kibitzers may not affect the bidding and the play.

South was a pretty good player and we can only assume that the way South played the dummy was the result of our being in back of him.

He started by letting the first spade run around to his queen. So far, just normal correct play. Then he ran off three diamond tricks in order to discard a club from dummy. Still normal correct play. At this stage of the proceedings any normal player would simply knock out the ace of trumps and make the contract, barring some bad trump break. But this South wasn't going to do anything that simple.

He proceeded to run off dummy's spades and take two club discards. West ruffed the fourth spade and looked around for new worlds to conquer. At this point West was down to six cards — two trumps — three clubs and the jack of diamonds. He could lead any card but the jack of diamonds and beat the contract but West had been rather surprised by the whole line of play and finally came to the conclusion that South still held the 10 of diamonds. After all, South had bid diamonds and his whole line of play had indicated that he had started with three clubs, not four.

Anyway, West led that jack of diamonds. South triumphantly discarded a club from dummy, ruffed in his hand, finally led a trump and made his contract.

South looked around for applause but the whole thing had been too much for us. We were already halfway out the door in full retreat.

Just for the record, we try to avoid four card major openings but would have opened one heart with the North hand, instead of one club.

After listening to the pungent remarks made by the guest speaker concerning the evils of modern man, the audience began to feel somewhat uncomfortable.

When he saw the bright, pungent colors of the new modern painting, the art critic hailed the work as a rare masterpiece.

The pungent odor of Limburger cheese, a scent which many people find offensive, filled the room where many guests were present.

Rick Du Brow

'Time for Americans' No. 1

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—"Time for Americans," a six-part series about the nation's race problem, arrives on ABC-TV tonight with the highly provocative subject "Bias and the Mass Media."

This subject, in fact, will take up the first two programs of the series, with the second scheduled for July 11, also in prime time.

According to ABC-TV, tonight's broadcast will present four prominent Negroes joining in "an indictment of racism as it exists in the media in America—radio and television, advertising, newspapers and magazines."

The Negroes are entertainers Harry Belafonte and Lena Horne, essayist-poet-critic Lasrence Neal and Dr. Alvin Pouissaint, assistant professor of psychiatry at Tufts University Medical School in Boston.

Suggest Improvements

They will focus, says the network, "on the image of the Negro presented by the media and suggest ways minority groups could be portrayed more fairly."

The July 11 broadcast, meanwhile, will present representatives of the various media offering "their views on the image of the Negro in mass communication."

Curiously, no mention is made of the movie industry, which—until television came along—was perhaps the most decisive force in America in creating an image of Negroes.

In tonight's program, Belafonte talks of the black community's need to have "as equal an opportunity to express itself as white society . . . let us continually have a platform with which to state our position, and you will see great eloquence arise."

Hero Image White

Dr. Poussaint says: "All of the television supermen are white. This is something with which the white child identifies. All the variations on the Tarzan theme, I think, teach white children how to be superior and at the same time tend to instill in black children a feeling of inferiority. You can imagine the impact of these television images on a black child and on his attitudes toward education, career and family relations."

Hubbell Robinson, who with Stephen Flesichman is producing the series, says: "There is nothing in our society today that is more important than for both black town and white town to air their views and differences as articulately and aggressively as they can. My hope is that out of this confrontation we will begin at least to grope toward some understanding and some answers.

'Time for Americans' No. 1

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—"Time for Americans," a six-part series about the nation's race problem, arrives on ABC-TV tonight with the highly provocative subject "Bias and the Mass Media."

This subject, in fact, will take up the first two programs of the series, with the second scheduled for July 11, also in prime time.

According to ABC-TV, tonight's broadcast will present four prominent Negroes joining in "an indictment of racism as it exists in the media in America—radio and television, advertising, newspapers and magazines."

The Negroes are entertainers Harry Belafonte and Lena Horne, essayist-poet-critic Lasrence Neal and Dr. Alvin Pouissaint, assistant professor of psychiatry at Tufts University Medical School in Boston.

Suggest Improvements

They will focus, says the network, "on the image of the Negro presented by the media and suggest ways minority groups could be portrayed more fairly."

The July 11 broadcast, meanwhile, will present representatives of the various media offering "their views on the image of the Negro in mass communication."

Curiously, no mention is made of the movie industry, which—until television came along—was perhaps the most decisive force in America in creating an image of Negroes.

In tonight's program, Belafonte talks of the black community's need to have "as equal an opportunity to express itself as white society . . . let us continually have a platform with which to state our position, and you will see great eloquence arise."

Hero Image White

Dr. Poussaint says: "All of the television supermen are white. This is something with which the white child identifies. All the variations on the Tarzan theme, I think, teach white children how to be superior and at the same time tend to instill in black children a feeling of inferiority. You can imagine the impact of these television images on a black child and on his attitudes toward education, career and family relations."

Hubbell Robinson, who with Stephen Flesichman is producing the series, says: "There is nothing in our society today that is more important than for both black town and white town to air their views and differences as articulately and aggressively as they can. My hope is that out of this confrontation we will begin at least to grope toward some understanding and some answers.

HHH Camp Bonanza— A Switch of Kennedy Man

By United Press International

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey appeared today to have landed the first top campaign aide of the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy to accept a new political home.

Sources reported former Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien was ready to go with the vice president's presidential campaign organization as an unpaid adviser—perhaps later today.

Could Prove Influential

Getting O'Brien could prove influential for Humphrey in attracting Kennedy supporters who have not yet decided where to turn.

The affable, redhaired O'Brien is considered one of the top Democratic politicians of the country, and is on intimate terms with key party leaders from the precinct level up.

Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy has been vying with Humphrey for support from the Kennedy camp, but so far has won over only one of the late senator's closer associates, speech writer Richard Goodwin. Goodwin had worked for McCarthy before Kennedy entered the presidential race.

For O'Brien, moving to Humphrey brings his political fortunes full circle in less than four months.

Although he was an original member of the "Irish Mafia" that helped Kennedy political campaigns since John F. Kennedy won a Senate seat in 1952, he announced he was sticking with President Johnson when Robert Kennedy declared his presidential candidacy.

But after Johnson bowed out March 31, O'Brien resigned as postmaster general to work for Kennedy.

Other developments:

Richard M. Nixon—The former vice president, hunting GOP convention delegates in Michigan, said his views are "completely apart" from those of third party candidate George Wallace and does not "seek the support of those who are racists." He said his Southern campaign coordinator, Howard (Bo) Calloway, was "misinterpreted" on a comment read by many as an invitation to Wallace to join forces with the Nixon camp.

Eugene J. McCarthy—The Minnesota senator, defending his projected visit to North Vietnamese negotiators in Paris, said such a trip would be "fully consistent" with his frequently expressed desire for "changes in our foreign policy." He told a New York news conference he could make the visit "without prejudicing the position of the United States or in any way hampering the negotiations."

Mercy Mission On High Seas

LAJES AFB, Azores (UPI)—The U.S. Air Force and French navy combined in a dramatic rescue Wednesday night of a 26-year-old German girl adrift in her disabled sailboat in the stormy Atlantic Ocean.

An American C130 air-sea rescue Hercules plane guided the French missile guidance ship Henri Poincare to the spot, 300 miles north of the Azores, where Miss Edith Baumann's trimaran Koala II wallowed uncontrollably in mountainous seas.

Day-Long Search

She was taken aboard the 12,885-ton vessel shortly before midnight Wendesday after a day-long search by a flotilla of aircraft and ships.

No report on Miss Baumann's condition was intercepted from the Henri Poincare.

The vessel's destination was generally expected to be Brest, France, the headquarters of the search for Miss Baumann.

The search was triggered early Wednesday by distress signals radioed by Miss Baumann who, with her dog "schaetzi" aboard, was competing in the single-handed transatlantic yacht race.

(In London, the British Broadcasting Corporation said her pet dog also was understood to have been rescued).

She reported high winds, forerunners of menacing hurricane Brenda, had stripped her 39-foot three-hulled craft of its sails and left it at the mercy of the huge waves Brenda was pushing into the eastern Atlantic.

The American rescue plane spotted the Koala II at dusk and dropped flares to guide the French ship to the scene

All-Night Coast Curfew After Vandalism, Fires

RICHMOND, Calif. (UPI)—City officials imposed an all-night curfew Wednesday night when gangs of Negro youths set numerous fires and smashed windows in the downtown district.

At 11 p.m., residents were ordered to clear the streets until 6 a.m.

Gangs of Negro youths, some using walkie-talkie communications, roved through the streets, smashing store windows and setting fires. Some of the gangs, ranging from 20 to 30 each, used autos to dart from place to place for hit-run vandalism.

Gunfire Reported

Gunfire was reported, but police said it was apparently only to add to the confusion. At least 20 persons were arrested and two were injured, both civilians.

Richmond mobilized its entire police force of 140 men, and they were reinforced by 100 San Francisco riot police and California highway patrolmen. A request for National Guard troops was issued at one time, but the request was rescinded as order was restored.

Shotgun carrying police methodically cleared the streets and guarded firemen fighting about 20 fires set by molotov cocktails.

The most serious blaze was a four-alarmer which destroyed a large furniture store on the main thoroughfare. A fire official estimated damage at $1 million or more.

School Closed

Earlier Wednesday school officials closed the John F. Kennedy High School, with an enrollment of 1,400 summer school pupils, when fighting broke out among students. Five students were arrested.

Police and fire units from nearby cities were alerted for possible duty in the city, which has 80,000 residents and is located on San Francisco Bay north of Oakland, Calif. The population is about 25 per cent Negro.

Trouble broke out Tuesday night when police shot and wounded a Negro youth suspected of car theft.

GRAVELY®

Come see the great new GRAVELY 424
IT'LL BE LOVE AT FIRST SIGHT!
Love that power! One look tells you—this is the compact tractor you've been looking for. That 10 HP engine is mounted in the back for ground-hugging, full-power traction.
Instant control. Move from forward to neutral to reverse without clutching. Pick your own ground speed to suit the job.
Love that all-gear drive! The Gravely 424 drive is all-gear-and-steel shaft . . . puts the power where the action is, into the attachments doing the job. There are no belts to slip or break . . . it's gear and steel all the way.
Love those attachments! Easy on. Easy off. Attachments mount quickly down under, up front, or behind. You're in command of any job . . . mowing, snow clearing, gardening and dozens more!
So easy to own! Come in and let's talk terms.
